Reds Guard Mine In Bolivia; Won't Free Hostages

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP)—Communist-led tin miners began a general mobilization in their Andean mountain stronghold today, still refusing to release four Americans and other hostages after holding them for more than a week.

Bearded admirers of Cuba's Fidel Castro guarded windswept passes in the Catavi-Siglo Veinte mining area, 150 miles southeast of La Paz, with smuggled weapons of Commmunist make.

The miners started the military buildup after President Victor Paz Estenssoro Friday night rejected an offer from his leftist vice president, Juan Lechin, boss of the tin miners' union, to resign in exchange for the release of two Communist union leaders jailed by the government on criminal charges.

Lechin said the miners were willing to free the hostages as part of the deal.

Lechin, leader of a dissident faction in Paz Estenssoro's government party, returned from Catavi Friday.

Paz Estenssoro, who has shunned a military showdown in an effort to avoid bloodshed, refused Lechin's demand for the immediate withdrawal of 3,300 government troops and police massed at Oruro, 30 miles north of the mining area. He said the troops would remain at Oruro until the captives are released.

The hostages were seized Dec. 6 after the government arrested union leaders Federico Escobar and Irineo Pimentel on charges of murder, atttempted murder, anarchy and embezzlement. The miners contend they were framed.

Escobar and Pimental appealed to the 7,000 striking miners to release the hostages — said to number between 15 and 17 — to prevent "a Red massacre."

'New Frontier' Still Faced By GOP Opposition

WASHINGTON (AP)—A handful of Republicans, including the House GOP leader, have indicated they don't intend to help Lyndon B. Johnson to the "honeymoon" with Congress traditionally enjoyed by new presidents.

When a president first takes office, Congress is usually receptive to his views and programs and more inclined to pass his legislation.

But one Republican after another has made it clear that the shock of President John F. Kennedy's assassination will not change their opposition to the New Frontier.

"They're trying to shove a lot of controversial stuff through on a wave of emotion," one Republican leader snorted to a newsman as he left the House floor this week. "Well, they're just not going to get away with it."

And after a pleasant breakfast with Johnson last Friday, House Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana told newsmen:

"He knows the score around here and he wouldn't expect me all at once to change my spots... There will be differences among us, of course."

The House Republican Policy Committee, in an official policy statement, said that while grief has united Americans, it should not produce "unanimity on all of the legislative proposals put forward by our late president." It added:

"Dissent and debate are the touchstones of the American experience. We are not unanimous in our philosophy of government. We never have been. Nor will we be so long as we are a free nation."

Ex-Convict, 21, Found Guilty Of Slaying Woman

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Calvin Hoffman, 21-year-old former mental patient and ex-convict, was convicted of first degree murder Friday night in the slaying of Mrs. Olga Bousman, 69.

A Superior Court jury of five men and seven women returned the guilty verdict after deliberating nearly five hours. Hoffman will be sentenced later.

The prosecution contended that Hoffman choked and stabbed Mrs. Bousman when she surprised him as he tried to enter her apartment last June 2.

Hoffman, whose lawyer entered a defense of insanity, testified that "many things flashed through my mind" when the woman confronted him.

"Before realizing what I was doing, I struck her and put my arm around her neck," he told the court this week.

Hoffman s a musician from Saginaw.

Hollywood Case Is Broken By FBI Arrests

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The Frank Sinatra Jr. kidnaping case, first in Hollywood history, was broken today with the arrest of three men and recovery of nearly all of the $240,000 ransom money.

"Thank God, it's over," said Frank Sinatra Sr., spending his fourth night at the home of his former wife, Nancy. The parents, knowing a break was imminent, were reported "sweating it out" with young Frank, 19, and his sisters, Mrs. Nancy Sands, 23, and Tina, 16.

Trio Identified

The three suspects were identified, in an announcement released here and in Washington, as John W. Irwin, 42, of Hollywood; Barry W. Keenan, 23, of Los Angeles, and Joseph Clyde Amsler, 23, of Playa Del Rey, a suburban beach town.

The FBI said all three will be charged with kidnaping. If convicted they will face a possible maximum sentence of life imprisonment.

At the time of his son's safe return, the elder Sinatra told a news conference that the kidnap gang may have numbered from seven to nine persons.

But an FBI agent said of the trio captured:

"I think that's all of them. I think we've got them all."

Keenan and Amsler were held at the FBI office in Los Angeles while Irwin was held by the FBI in San Diego, accenting speculation that he might have been planning to cross the border into Mexico.

Keenan, by coincidence, was graduated from University High School in the same class as the younger Sinatra's sister, Nancy.

The father of the victim, who had obeyed FBI orders like a good soldier during the 54 hours his son was held by the kidnapers, was lavish in his praise for the federal men.

No Pictures Taken

"Credit must go to the FBI for a masterful operation," said the internationally famous singer and Oscar-winning actor.

One report that Sinatra had recognized the kidnapers through telescopic movies taken at the early morning dropoff of the ransom money was discounted by a source close to the case, who asked that his name not be used.

The FBI was interested in only one thing from last Sunday night, when young Frank was abducted, until his safe return early Wednesday morning and that was his personal welfare. They took no pictures nor did anything else that would have jeopardized his safety," the source added.

Keenan and Amsler were arraigned on kidnaping charges at 4:04 a.m. in the Los Angeles federal building before U.S. Commissioner Theodore Hocke, who set bail at $50,000 each and ordered them held in the county jail.

Irwin was arraigned at 3:08 a.m. in San Diego's federal building on the same charge before U.S. Commissioner Betty Marshall Graydon, who also set bail at $50,000. Irwin likewise was sent to the county jail.

The FBI statement said this was the sequence of events:

"Young Sinatra was kidnaped at gunpoint from his room at Harrah's Club motel, Stateline, Nev., by two men shortly after 9 p.m., Dec. 8, 1963.

Call Made To Reno

"At 6:50 the following afternoon, the victim's father received a telephone call at a Reno, Nev., hotel. A male voice told him 'the kid' was all right and he should expect another call the next morning.

"The second call was received at 9:03 a.m., Dec. 10. On this occasion, Mr. Sinatra was permitted to speak briefly with his son. Less than three hours later, a spokesman for the gang called again and instructed Sinatra to go from his Reno hotel room to a service station in Carson City, Nev.

"Ariving there he was summoned to the telephone and given instructions by the now-familiar voice to assemble $240,-

The coldest temperatures were recorded in North Dakota. In Dickinson, a -18 reading was reported early this morning.

Miles City, Mont., was -16. In Nebraska, Chadron was -13 and Scotts Bluff -8. Aberdeen, S.D., was -10 and Watertown -8.

The mercury fell to -8 in Marquette, Mich., and in Wisconsin -4 was reported in Milwaukee.

Denver was -4. Kirksville, Mo., 0, and in Minnesota, Alexandria was -2.

Mason City, Iowa, was -2 and Des Moines 0. Lafayette, Ind., reported -1 and in Illinois, Chicago was -1, and Rockford -2.

The nation's flanks had less severe temperatures and in Florida the weather was mild.

Snow fell in northern New England, northern New York state, the Great Lakes region and the Rocky mountains. Many states were plagued with windblown snow, producing poor driving conditions.

Rainfall occurred in the southeast and in Texas, but generally was less than .25 inch. However, .75 inch was recorded in central Louisiana and in central Mississippi.

Congress Clears Slate For 1963

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has cleaned up all of the major legislation it is expected to send to President Johnson this year except possibly for a foreign aid appropriations measure.

Climaxing perhaps the most productive congressional week of its long year, the Senate Friday cleared for the White House four major bills:

A $1.56-billion vocational education bill also extending the National Defense Education Act and the impacted areas program of aid to school districts with populations swollen by federal installations.

A $3.6-billion foreign aid authorization bill sliced $930 million below administration requests.

A $527-million bill extending the 1962 Manpower Training Act and broadening it to include more youth training and to add literacy courses to the program.

A $1.5-billion military construction appropriations bill containing funds for bases all over the nation and in many foreign countries.

Congressional leaders have programmed no major legislation for next week—the final one of the protracted 1963 session—except the foreign aid money bill.

They concede that the two top-priority administration bills of the 88th Congress—civil rights and a tax cut—are going over until January.

But Democratc maintain that the record written this year on federal aid to education is proof the 1963 session has been productive, despite criticism of its record.

In addition to the vocational education bill, they point to the $1.2-billion college construction measure sent to Johnson Tuesday and a $231-million medical education bill signed by the late President John F. Kennedy in September.

Court Didn't Ban Christmas

By JOHN MORGANTHALER
Associated Press Staff Writer

The U.S. Supreme Court said no compulsory prayer, but they didn't say no Christmas in the public schools.

At least that's how school officials across the country interpret what the court said, an Associated Press survey showed today.

Teachers and children were happily decorating trees hanging wreaths, rehearsing carols, planning pageants, and even building Nativity scenes.

The only dispute in officialdom was whether the religious aspect of Christmas should or could be eliminated or played down.

All agreed that sectarianism had no place in a school Christmas celebration, but there was some doubt about what is sectarian.

Charles Spain, superintendent of schools in Albuquerque, N.M., said Nativity scenes might be construed as sectarian, but would not forbid them.

The New York State Education Department said school Christmas activities should be conducted as historical exercises and teachers should not attempt to draw religious connotations from them.

Pair Rescued From Cave-In

SAGINAW (AP) — Fellow workers, volunteers and firemen dug feverishly Friday to rescue two Detroit-area men who were buried under an avalanche of dirt following a cave-in at a sewer excavation site.

Ralph Guastalla, 27, of Livonia, was pulled out 30 minutes after an embankment collapsed, pinning him to the bottom of the 17-foot hole. Donald Ramirez, 22, of Dearborn, spent more than three hours under the dirt.

Ramirez, a bachelor, was admitted to Saginaw St. Mary's Hospital for treatment of undetermined injuries. Guastalla, father of three, was treated and released.

Fellow workers said that after the cave-in, only Guastall's face was visible. Ramirez was trapped beneath him.

Door Left Open For Red China Policy Change

WASHINGTON (AP)—A high State Department official has suggested the possibility of future change in the long - rigid U.S. policy of isolation toward Red China provided the Chinese Communists change their attitude toward the outside world.

While warning in effect that the Johnson administration will tolerate no military adventures by China's revolutionary Communist leadership, Roger Hilsman, assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs, said this country is "determined to keep the door open to the possibility of change."

Has White House OK

Hilsman's address in San Francisco Friday to the Commonwealth Club was reported to carry White House approval. It also is understood to have been given careful consideration by top government officials.

In the present circumstances of Peking's belligerent hostility toward the United States and the West generally, the address strongly affirmed U.S. policy toward the Chinese Communists as it has been developed over a dozen years.

At its core, this policy involves nonrecognition of the Peking government and opposition to Red China's entry into the United Nations.

Hilsman ruled out any appeasement of Red China and reasserted a policy of firmness "which will make foreign adventure unprofitable."

Looking Ahead

Hilsman's policy statement appears to have two significant aspects:

It could lead to a new round of public discussion if not sharp debate in this country on U.S. policy toward Red China.

It may possibly get across to any moderate elements which may exist in the lower levels of the Chinese Communist power structure in Peking that if they were ever able to make their influence felt in changing Chinese Communist attitudes they might expect some favorable response from Washington.

Hilsman's words indicated he was looking beyond this present group of powerful Chinese mainland rulers to another generation of leaders into whose hands power must inevitably pass some day.

Aug. 28 March Cost $805,000

WASHINGTON (AP) — The civil rights march on Washington last Aug. 28 cost the taxpayers $805,000, Rep. George Huddleston Jr., D-Ala., said Friday.

He had called on Comptroller General Joseph Campbell the day of the march for an account of its cost to the government.

Fake Dystrophy Collectors Must Raise $50 Each

FLINT (AP)—Two Flint-area teen-agers, convicted of obtaining $21 by pretending to collect for an anti-muscular dystrophy fund, now must go to work to aid muscular dystrophy patients.

Burton Township Justice John Williams Friday ordered William Richards, 18, of Argentine, and Terry Turner, 17, of Linden, to turn over the $21 to a muscular dystrophy fund and to earn another $50 each for the fund.

Otherwise, he said, they will pay an $85 fine each and spend 30 days in jail.

Doomed Killer Freed In Texas

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Alvaro Alcorta, a man who knows the living-dead terror of death row, goes to work Monday as a $1.25 an hour laborer.

In Huntsville, where Texas' electric chair awaits those condemned by law to die, Alcorta cheated death 11 times in 15 long months. Four times he ate what was supposed to be his last meal.

Once he missed the death-dealing charge of electricity by just 70 minutes.

What is it like in Huntsville death row?

"The nerves get tight," said Alcorta. "The body goes numb. You don't hear a thing, and you feel like a load is on your back. It's dark."

But after seven years in prison, Alcorta returned here Thursday, and he's a free man.

He was convicted in 1955 of the knife slaying of his wife. He drew the death penalty. But the U.S. Supreme Court said the prosecution made the mistake of not telling the jury that the state's star witness had been intimate with Alcorta's wife. The witness said he saw the woman stabbed 32 times.

In 1958, the 44-year-old Alcorta's conviction was reversed and he drew 30 years in prison after pleading guilty. Thursday he was free on parole, and he has that job...and his prayers.

Special Moscow Hot Line Kept For Johnson

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington - Moscow emergency "hot line" set up in the administration of President John F. Kennedy, is being retained for President Johnson, including extension to his Texas home or wherever he may be at any time.

These extensions will make possible instant telegraphic printer conversation between the Soviet and U.S. chiefs of state if a war threat becomes imminent.

Dominicans And Honduras Get U.S. Recognition

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has decided too recognie the revolt - born regimes of Honduras and the Dominican Republic in view of their declared intentions eventually to restore democratic governments to their countries.

An announcement is due today.

Informants said the Johnson administration concluded the United States has achieved about all it could expect to get from the withholding of diplomatic recognition from the two regimes.

The Central American country of Honduras is ruled by a military chief of state, Col. Oswaldo Lopez Arellano, who seized power in early October.

The Dominican Republic, a Caribbean island country, is governed by a civilian junta installed following the military overthrow of the elected government of President Juan Bosch in late September.

Both the Dominican and Honduran regimes have promised publicly, officials here said, that they will within 18 months take steps to bring new freely elected civilian governments into power.

Following each upset to constitutional rule, the United States took the position that diplomatic recognition had been automatically suspended by the disappearance of the legally constituted government. It recalled its ambassadors and cut off aid.

It is understood that Ambassador John Bartlow Martin will shortly return too the Dminican Republic and Ambassador Charles R. Burrows will go back t his post in Honduras.

President Will Scan Peninsula Economic Needs

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson will hold a meeting next Wednesday to consider economic problems of Michigan's Upper Peninsula, Wisconsin and Minnesota, a government source indicated Friday night.

Expected to be considered is a plan to create a Northern Great Lakes Regional Commission to deal with unemployment and other problems.

The source noted that the proposal had been considered under the administration of the late President John F. Kennedy.

A parallel also was drawn between proposed Great Lakes Commission and the commission, already organized, to study economic problems of the Appalacian Mountain region in the south and east.

Big Four Open NATO Session

PARIS (AP) — The Western Big Four foreign ministers began a round of talks today prior to the first NATO conference since the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

The three-day conference of the 15-member alliance opens Monday, but Secretary of State Dean Rusk planned preliminary consultations today with his French, British and West German counterparts on such problems as Southeast Asia, Berlin and over-all East - West relations.

U.S. informants said troubled relations between the United States and Cambodia probably would be brought up at a meeting between Rusk, Britain's Foreign Secretary Richard A. Butler and France's Foreign Secretary Maurice Couve de Murville.

France has indicated a willingness to meet Cambodia's request for aid following the Southeast Asian country's rejection of further U.S. assistant last month.

Rusk will discuss U.S.-French relations at a "working dinner" with Couve de Murville. They may bring up a possible meeting between President Johnson and President Charles de Gaullle next year. Rusk is scheduled to meet De Gaulle Monday.

Rusk arrived Friday night for the semiannual meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Council.

A $3.6-billion foreign aid authorization bill sliced $930 million below administration requests.

A $527-million bill extending the 1962 Manpower Training Act and broadening it to include more youth training and to add literacy courses to the program.

A $1.5-billion military construction appropriations bill containing funds for bases all over the nation and in many foreign countries.

Congressional leaders have programmed no major legislation for next week—the final one of the protracted 1963 session—except the foreign aid money bill.

They concede that the two top-priority administration bills of the 88th Congress—civil rights and a tax cut—are going over until January.

But Democratc maintain that the record written this year on federal aid to education is proof the 1963 session has been productive, despite criticism of its record.

In addition to the vocational education bill, they point to the $1.2-billion college construction measure sent to Johnson Tuesday and a $231-million medical education bill signed by the late President John F. Kennedy in September.

Pair Rescued From Cave-In

SAGINAW (AP) — Fellow workers, volunteers and firemen dug feverishly Friday to rescue two Detroit-area men who were buried under an avalanche of dirt following a cave-in at a sewer excavation site.

Ralph Guastalla, 27, of Livonia, was pulled out 30 minutes after an embankment collapsed, pinning him to the bottom of the 17-foot hole. Donald Ramirez, 22, of Dearborn, spent more than three hours under the dirt.

Ramirez, a bachelor, was admitted to Saginaw St. Mary's Hospital for treatment of undetermined injuries. Guastalla, father of three, was treated and released.

Fellow workers said that after the cave-in, only Guastall's face was visible. Ramirez was trapped beneath him.

Court Didn't Ban Christmas

By JOHN MORGANTHALER
Associated Press Staff Writer

The U.S. Supreme Court said no compulsory prayer, but they didn't say no Christmas in the public schools.

At least that's how school officials across the country interpret what the court said, an Associated Press survey showed today.

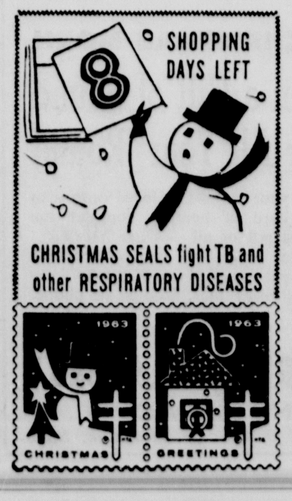
Teachers and children were happily decorating trees hanging wreaths, rehearsing carols, planning pageants, and even building Nativity scenes.

The only dispute in officialdom was whether the religious aspect of Christmas should or could be eliminated or played down.

All agreed that sectarianism had no place in a school Christmas celebration, but there was some doubt about what is sectarian.

Charles Spain, superintendent of schools in Albuquerque, N.M., said Nativity scenes might be construed as sectarian, but would not forbid them.

The New York State Education Department said school Christmas activities should be conducted as historical exercises and teachers should not attempt to draw religious connotations from them.



Door Left Open For Red China Policy Change

WASHINGTON (AP)—A high State Department official has suggested the possibility of future change in the long - rigid U.S. policy of isolation toward Red China provided the Chinese Communists change their attitude toward the outside world.

While warning in effect that the Johnson administration will tolerate no military adventures by China's revolutionary Communist leadership, Roger Hilsman, assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs, said this country is "determined to keep the door open to the possibility of change."

Has White House OK

Hilsman's address in San Francisco Friday to the Commonwealth Club was reported to carry White House approval. It also is understood to have been given careful consideration by top government officials.

In the present circumstances of Peking's belligerent hostility toward the United States and the West generally, the address strongly affirmed U.S. policy toward the Chinese Communists as it has been developed over a dozen years.

At its core, this policy involves nonrecognition of the Peking government and opposition to Red China's entry into the United Nations.

Hilsman ruled out any appeasement of Red China and reasserted a policy of firmness "which will make foreign adventure unprofitable."

Looking Ahead

Hilsman's policy statement appears to have two significant aspects:

It could lead to a new round of public discussion if not sharp debate in this country on U.S. policy toward Red China.

It may possibly get across to any moderate elements which may exist in the lower levels of the Chinese Communist power structure in Peking that if they were ever able to make their influence felt in changing Chinese Communist attitudes they might expect some favorable response from Washington.

Hilsman's words indicated he was looking beyond this present group of powerful Chinese mainland rulers to another generation of leaders into whose hands power must inevitably pass some day.

Aug. 28 March Cost $805,000

WASHINGTON (AP) — The civil rights march on Washington last Aug. 28 cost the taxpayers $805,000, Rep. George Huddleston Jr., D-Ala., said Friday.

He had called on Comptroller General Joseph Campbell the day of the march for an account of its cost to the government.

Fake Dystrophy Collectors Must Raise $50 Each

FLINT (AP)—Two Flint-area teen-agers, convicted of obtaining $21 by pretending to collect for an anti-muscular dystrophy fund, now must go to work to aid muscular dystrophy patients.

Burton Township Justice John Williams Friday ordered William Richards, 18, of Argentine, and Terry Turner, 17, of Linden, to turn over the $21 to a muscular dystrophy fund and to earn another $50 each for the fund.

Otherwise, he said, they will pay an $85 fine each and spend 30 days in jail.

Doomed Killer Freed In Texas

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Alvaro Alcorta, a man who knows the living-dead terror of death row, goes to work Monday as a $1.25 an hour laborer.

In Huntsville, where Texas' electric chair awaits those condemned by law to die, Alcorta cheated death 11 times in 15 long months. Four times he ate what was supposed to be his last meal.

Once he missed the death-dealing charge of electricity by just 70 minutes.

What is it like in Huntsville death row?

"The nerves get tight," said Alcorta. "The body goes numb. You don't hear a thing, and you feel like a load is on your back. It's dark."

But after seven years in prison, Alcorta returned here Thursday, and he's a free man.

He was convicted in 1955 of the knife slaying of his wife. He drew the death penalty. But the U.S. Supreme Court said the prosecution made the mistake of not telling the jury that the state's star witness had been intimate with Alcorta's wife. The witness said he saw the woman stabbed 32 times.

In 1958, the 44-year-old Alcorta's conviction was reversed and he drew 30 years in prison after pleading guilty. Thursday he was free on parole, and he has that job...and his prayers.

Special Moscow Hot Line Kept For Johnson

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington - Moscow emergency "hot line" set up in the administration of President John F. Kennedy, is being retained for President Johnson, including extension to his Texas home or wherever he may be at any time.

These extensions will make possible instant telegraphic printer conversation between the Soviet and U.S. chiefs of state if a war threat becomes imminent.

Dominicans And Honduras Get U.S. Recognition

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has decided too recognie the revolt - born regimes of Honduras and the Dominican Republic in view of their declared intentions eventually to restore democratic governments to their countries.

An announcement is due today.

Informants said the Johnson administration concluded the United States has achieved about all it could expect to get from the withholding of diplomatic recognition from the two regimes.

The Central American country of Honduras is ruled by a military chief of state, Col. Oswaldo Lopez Arellano, who seized power in early October.

The Dominican Republic, a Caribbean island country, is governed by a civilian junta installed following the military overthrow of the elected government of President Juan Bosch in late September.

Both the Dominican and Honduran regimes have promised publicly, officials here said, that they will within 18 months take steps to bring new freely elected civilian governments into power.

Following each upset to constitutional rule, the United States took the position that diplomatic recognition had been automatically suspended by the disappearance of the legally constituted government. It recalled its ambassadors and cut off aid.

It is understood that Ambassador John Bartlow Martin will shortly return too the Dminican Republic and Ambassador Charles R. Burrows will go back t his post in Honduras.

President Will Scan Peninsula Economic Needs

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson will hold a meeting next Wednesday to consider economic problems of Michigan's Upper Peninsula, Wisconsin and Minnesota, a government source indicated Friday night.

Expected to be considered is a plan to create a Northern Great Lakes Regional Commission to deal with unemployment and other problems.

The source noted that the proposal had been considered under the administration of the late President John F. Kennedy.

A parallel also was drawn between proposed Great Lakes Commission and the commission, already organized, to study economic problems of the Appalacian Mountain region in the south and east.

Big Four Open NATO Session

PARIS (AP) — The Western Big Four foreign ministers began a round of talks today prior to the first NATO conference since the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

The three-day conference of the 15-member alliance opens Monday, but Secretary of State Dean Rusk planned preliminary consultations today with his French, British and West German counterparts on such problems as Southeast Asia, Berlin and over-all East - West relations.

U.S. informants said troubled relations between the United States and Cambodia probably would be brought up at a meeting between Rusk, Britain's Foreign Secretary Richard A. Butler and France's Foreign Secretary Maurice Couve de Murville.

France has indicated a willingness to meet Cambodia's request for aid following the Southeast Asian country's rejection of further U.S. assistant last month.

Rusk will discuss U.S.-French relations at a "working dinner" with Couve de Murville. They may bring up a possible meeting between President Johnson and President Charles de Gaullle next year. Rusk is scheduled to meet De Gaulle Monday.

Rusk arrived Friday night for the semiannual meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Council.

Spud Growers Face Lawsuits

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Potato Industry Council reports it has started 26 lawsuits against potato growers who allegedly have not paid an assessment required by law.

Charles Todd, executive secretary of the council, said Friday courts have upheld the council in all cases heard so far.

Under a statute passed by the legislature in 1961, potato growers are required to pay an assessment of $1.50 per acre per year to the council, which is to spend the money on research and promotion benefitting the potato industry.

Growers, Todd explained, may get the full amount back by applying for the exemption before July 5, paying the assessment when reporting in December on acres of potatoes harvested, and asking for the refund in February.

The council counts about 80 per cent of Michigan potato growers among its members, said Todd, and the percentage of non-members has been getting smaller each year.

Voters Asked To Okay New Elementary School

A bond issue to finance construction of a new Franklin elementary school to replace the 81-year-old structure that was condemned and razed will be voted on in the Escanaba Public Schools District on Monday, Dec. 16.

Polls will be open from 7 a. m. to 8 p. m. in the 12 precincts of the district, including nine precincts in the City of Escanaba and one each in Ford River, Wells and Cornell Townships.

Registered voters who have property assessed for taxes in the district may vote on the proposition.

Attend Three Schools

The bond issue is for $270,000 to be repaid in not more than 16 years. The tax levy necessary to repay the loan would be about 45 cents per $1,000 assessed valuation.

The proposed school will have eight classrooms, a kindergarten room and a multi-purpose room.

The Board of Education and many groups and organizations have endorsed the proposal. It has been publicly opposed by only one group, the Delta County Taxpayers Committee.

Children of the Franklin School area are now being transported to classes in the Jefferson, the Webster and at Junior High.

All of the children live within walking distance of the Franklin School.

Work Together

"Elementary schools should be in the area near where the children live," the school board has pointed out. "In this district, no matter where the need for a building or an addition is, (in this case the Franklin neighborhood), all voters in the district must work together if this need is to be met."

"When the next need of the district for elementary rooms is proposed, the people of the Franklin area will expect to support that, just as they ask other people's help now to meet theirs," the school board explained in a statement supporting a "yes" vote for the new school.

Only one new public elementary school has been built in Escanaba in more than 30 years. That was the John A. Lemmer School, which is now paid for.

The Area High School serves students in the last four years of secondary school from the city and the three townships. Cost is shared by taxpayers in all units of the Area school district.

Below U. P. Average

Cornell and Ford River Townships have new elementary schools. By debt consolidation voted this year Cornell is to have its school debt shared by the Area, but Ford River's debt consolidation was voted down. The school board has urged voter approval of debt equalization.

Although the Area School District built and is paying for a new high school its school tax rate is below the average in the Upper Peninsula. Taxpayers in other districts without a building program are paying more.

Among 77 school districts in the Upper Peninsula, the Escanaba school rate is 58th from the top in the millage scale, according to a study by the Michigan Education Association. It is below several smaller districts, some with high schools, in Delta County.

Paw Paw Man's Wife Killed On Trip To Florida

WABASH, Ind. (AP) — Marie E. Anderson, 67, of Paw Paw, Mich., died Friday night in Parkview Hospital in Fort Wayne of injuries suffered 25 hours earlier in an accident on U. S. 24 about five miles west of Wabash.

State Police said a car driven by the victim's husband, Keneth V., 66, hit an icy spot on a curve and plunged into the dry bed of the old Wabash - Erie Canal. Anderson was listed in fair condition in Wabash County Hospital.

Anderson had just completed sale of his business interests in Paw Paw and was en route with his wife to Florida for retirement.

Port Huron Daily Changes Name Of 'Federal Grants'

PORT HURON (AP) — The Port Huron Times-Herald announced that it will use the words "federal tax funds" instead of "federal grants" and "federal aid" in its news stories.

The newspaper said it would change all incoming reports to confirm to this policy.

The Times-Herald said editorially, "There is no such thing as 'federal funds.' The money spent by the federal government is your money. Whatever government spends it must first get from the people."

F. Granger Weil, president and editor of the newspaper, telegraphed the national wire services that it would edit all copy in accordance with the policy and also requested them to adopt the same policy.

School Millage Figures Told

Edward Havitz, president of Region 17 of the Michigan Education Association, today presented information in support of figures showing that Escanaba's total millage levied for schools is 58th from the top among 77 in the Upper Peninsula.

Havitz said he has "received inquiries about the accuracy of the figures" since they were published in the Escanaba Daily Press.

"People noticed that the millage in the article was 14.00 mills for Escanaba while on their tax bills the figures when added was 16.46," Havitz said. "The 14.00 mills is the state equalized levy, while the 16.46 is the local assessment."

"When we compare one district with another, we have to use the state equalized figure to make an accurate comparison because each school district has different assessment rates.

"Let us use an example from another area to emphasize my point. The first column of figures is from the Iron River Reporter, (Oct. 31, 1963), and shows the local assessment of school millage. The second column is from the MEA Teachers Salary Schdule Study for 1963-64."

District	Local Assessment	State Equal
Bates Twp.	64.84	29.00
Hematite	54.96	33.50
Crystal Falls	40.43	20.00
Stambaugh	38.94	22.10
Iron River	17.34	10.00
Escanaba City	16.46	14.00

"You will notice that Escanaba's local rate is much closer to the state equalized rate than any of the Iron County Districts," Havitz added.

Mead's Bonus $61,000 Here

Escanaba employees of the Mead Corp. will receive more than $61,000 as a Christmas gift from the company next Tuesday. George S. Douglas said that checks for individual employees are now being prepared.

"The $61,000 our people will receive here in Escanaba is only part of the total of more than a million dollars being given Mead employees all over the country," Douglas said.

Mail Is Heavy For First Lady

By MARTHA COLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some wrote in the spidery script of the old.

Children enclosed pictures of their dogs.

Some offered their prayers, and others sent copies of the services in their churches for the dead president.

The letters started coming to Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson just a few days after President John F. Kennedy was killed and Lyndon B. Johnson became president.

The mail for the new First Lady has been running about 500 to 600 letters a day, the White House says. It has no cumulative total, because the letters have been going, too, to the Johnsons' old home.

In general, the letters are expressions of sorrow for the tragedy that took the life of a president and words of encouragement for the new First Family.

One Texas judge told President and Mrs. Johnson there is "great sorrow in our hearts for President Kennedy and his fine family, but we look to the future with confidence under your calm leadership."

In her replies, Mrs. Johnson has told her good wishers—

"These have been anguished days for all of us. The good wishes and confidence of people all over the world have sustained us during these trying times...

"The thoughtful good wishes of so many people have been most reassuring...

"How thoughtful of you to write me in the days of anguish..."

It is her practice never to begin a letter with "I."

At first, it seemed, people just wanted to write Mrs. Johnson about the tragedy and their good wishes for her. Some told her not to take the time to reply.

In the past week, they've shown a curiosity about the new First Family — where does the family eat dinner? Where do the dogs sleep? Requests for pictures of Mrs. Johnson and her two daughters, Lynda Bird, 19, and Lucy Baines, 16.

The girls are getting mail, too, and handling as much as they can themselves.

When a member of Mrs. Johnson's staff can handle the queries and requests, that is done.

Mrs. Johnson likes to see as much mail as he can. Sometime she can tell an aide, "Answer this one this way." At other times she dictates the answer herself.

Every morning she signs about 200 letters.

Michigan Milk Producers Stabilize U. P. Dairying

Upper Peninsula dairy industry has been strengthened by the entry of Michigan Milk Producers Association into dairy manufacturing a year and a half ago.

Before that the MMPA had been only a bargaining agent for farmers producing Grade A fluid milk in the Upper Peninsula, serving as an intermediary with the bottlers and dairy plants.

With dairy industry slipping here, MMPA decided the only way it could continue to serve its Upper Peninsula members was to create a market for their milk here. With the aid of Michigan State University agricultural experts it acquired by exchange of local dairy cooperative ownership certificates for MMPA shares five U.P. dairy co-ops.

They are the Rapid River Creamery, M&M Producers Dairy of Menominee; Cloverland Cheese Factory at Daggett, Vacationland Dairy at Crystal Falls and Ewen Farmers Produce, Dairy Division, at Ewen.

Large Membership

R. T. Hartwig of Marquette, Michigan State University agricultural economist, and Joseph L. Heirman, Delta County MSU Extension director, reviewing the situation in U.P. dairy industry as affected by MMPA's acquisitions after a year and a half of its operation, judge that it had been a great stabilizing force. It has enabled the cheese and bottling plants which it acquired to survive and it has given U.P. dairy farmers an assured market for their milk.

Hartwig said that MMPA had a problem of disposal for that part of the U.P. milk production not taken by the fluid (drinking) milk market. In some areas there were so few outlets for milk for manufacture that there would be only one bidder for the surplus and he would thus control the price and deny the benefits of competition.

With MMPA's acquisition of the five U.P. dairy plants, it acquired its own market outlets. MMPA has about 500 farmer members in the Upper Peninsula. It takes all the milk which its members produce.

Building Period

"The first year of MMPA's Upper Peninsula Operating Department," said Hartwig "was devoted to building a solid foundation. It had to do a lot of changing in the plants to make them conform with U.S. Department of Agriculture standards. And there was a build-up of relationship between the plants and the farmers.

"There was also a problem of coordinating and consolidating work between the U. P. plants. As you're building and structuring your program you're not apt to be operating at a profit. Once you can use the structure, you hope to be efficient and operate in the black.

"We're getting nearer there with the U. P. operation," said Hartwig. Michigan Milk has pooled its products and Heirman explained that the cheese from the Rapid River plant now goes to market under the Vacationland label. MMPA's bottled milk at M&M and Crystal Falls is also marketed under the Vacationland label.

Quality Controls

"Quality controls have been improved," said Heirman "and Michigan Milk Producers have built up a large volume of production to use in market bargaining. Earlier, the U.P. plants might be competing with each other."

Hartwig said that MMPA's U. P. planning still aims for a centralized operation in the Peninsula. "Before you can get to that," said Hartwig, "you have to operate where you are as efficient as possible and then move into the second phase of centralization. There is no time table on the second phase yet.

"The benefits of large organization are being made available to the MMPA plants in the Upper Peninsula. I note that the Milk Messenger, a monthly house organ of the MMPA published downstate was advertising Christmas gift packages of Rapid River Vacationland cheese. When I heard last of the program 10 days ago more than 600 packages of the gift cheese had been sold. That makes U. P. cheese business and also business for the Eugene Hartman plant at Nahma that makes the hardwood cheese-boards for the packages.

Build On Confidence

"Farmers are setting aside 7 cents for every hundred pounds of milk sold to carry out this program. Ninety-three per cent of the U. P. members voted in favor of this program. This is quite an achievement in itself. These farmers believed enough in the program to loan their money to finance it."

Heirman said "farmers have a feeling that there's going to be a market for their milk, where before they weren't certain."

"This gives them something to build on," said Hartwig.

"It gives us something to work on too," said Heirman. "How could we advise a farmer on an investment in his dairy farm without knowing whether there would be a market for his milk."

The economic aid to the Upper Peninsula given by Michigan Milk Producers Association is exemplified in the Crystal Falls dairy industry that is now MMPA's Vacationland operation there. It was a privately owned dairy plant which was taken over by farmers and townspeople after it went bankrupt, in order to keep the milk market and other community benefits which it provided.

Leaders Of Project

When Michigan Milk Producers Association bought the plant it was possible to pay off the townspeople and farmers who had invested in it. Now the plant is on a stable footing.

Chief architects of the MMPA Upper Peninsula Operating Department have been Herbert H. Varney, an economist and Dale Long, Northern Michigan field representative of MMPA. Robert Dewey of Marquette is manager of the U. P. Operating Department. A former MMPA field man, MSU alumnus and former Kalkaska County ag agent, Dewey is solving the day-to-day problems of the Department, solving both the farmer problems and those of manufacturing and marketing.

Voters Asked To Okay New Elementary School

A bond issue to finance construction of a new Franklin elementary school to replace the 81-year-old structure that was condemned and razed will be voted on in the Escanaba Public Schools District on Monday, Dec. 16.

Polls will be open from 7 a. m. to 8 p. m. in the 12 precincts of the district, including nine precincts in the City of Escanaba and one each in Ford River, Wells and Cornell Townships.

Registered voters who have property assessed for taxes in the district may vote on the proposition.

Attend Three Schools

The bond issue is for $270,000 to be repaid in not more than 16 years. The tax levy necessary to repay the loan would be about 45 cents per $1,000 assessed valuation.

The proposed school will have eight classrooms, a kindergarten room and a multi-purpose room.

The Board of Education and many groups and organizations have endorsed the proposal. It has been publicly opposed by only one group, the Delta County Taxpayers Committee.

Children of the Franklin School area are now being transported to classes in the Jefferson, the Webster and at Junior High.

All of the children live within walking distance of the Franklin School.

Work Together

"Elementary schools should be in the area near where the children live," the school board has pointed out. "In this district, no matter where the need for a building or an addition is, (in this case the Franklin neighborhood), all voters in the district must work together if this need is to be met."

"When the next need of the district for elementary rooms is proposed, the people of the Franklin area will expect to support that, just as they ask other people's help now to meet theirs," the school board explained in a statement supporting a "yes" vote for the new school.

Only one new public elementary school has been built in Escanaba in more than 30 years. That was the John A. Lemmer School, which is now paid for.

The Area High School serves students in the last four years of secondary school from the city and the three townships. Cost is shared by taxpayers in all units of the Area school district.

Below U. P. Average

Cornell and Ford River Townships have new elementary schools. By debt consolidation voted this year Cornell is to have its school debt shared by the Area, but Ford River's debt consolidation was voted down. The school board has urged voter approval of debt equalization.

Although the Area School District built and is paying for a new high school its school tax rate is below the average in the Upper Peninsula. Taxpayers in other districts without a building program are paying more.

Among 77 school districts in the Upper Peninsula, the Escanaba school rate is 58th from the top in the millage scale, according to a study by the Michigan Education Association. It is below several smaller districts, some with high schools, in Delta County.

Paw Paw Man's Wife Killed On Trip To Florida

WABASH, Ind. (AP) — Marie E. Anderson, 67, of Paw Paw, Mich., died Friday night in Parkview Hospital in Fort Wayne of injuries suffered 25 hours earlier in an accident on U. S. 24 about five miles west of Wabash.

State Police said a car driven by the victim's husband, Keneth V., 66, hit an icy spot on a curve and plunged into the dry bed of the old Wabash - Erie Canal. Anderson was listed in fair condition in Wabash County Hospital.

Anderson had just completed sale of his business interests in Paw Paw and was en route with his wife to Florida for retirement.

Port Huron Daily Changes Name Of 'Federal Grants'

PORT HURON (AP) — The Port Huron Times-Herald announced that it will use the words "federal tax funds" instead of "federal grants" and "federal aid" in its news stories.

The newspaper said it would change all incoming reports to confirm to this policy.

The Times-Herald said editorially, "There is no such thing as 'federal funds.' The money spent by the federal government is your money. Whatever government spends it must first get from the people."

F. Granger Weil, president and editor of the newspaper, telegraphed the national wire services that it would edit all copy in accordance with the policy and also requested them to adopt the same policy.

School Millage Figures Told

Edward Havitz, president of Region 17 of the Michigan Education Association, today presented information in support of figures showing that Escanaba's total millage levied for schools is 58th from the top among 77 in the Upper Peninsula.

Havitz said he has "received inquiries about the accuracy of the figures" since they were published in the Escanaba Daily Press.

"People noticed that the millage in the article was 14.00 mills for Escanaba while on their tax bills the figures when added was 16.46," Havitz said. "The 14.00 mills is the state equalized levy, while the 16.46 is the local assessment."

"When we compare one district with another, we have to use the state equalized figure to make an accurate comparison because each school district has different assessment rates.

"Let us use an example from another area to emphasize my point. The first column of figures is from the Iron River Reporter, (Oct. 31, 1963), and shows the local assessment of school millage. The second column is from the MEA Teachers Salary Schdule Study for 1963-64."

District	Local Assessment	State Equal
Bates Twp.	64.84	29.00
Hematite	54.96	33.50
Crystal Falls	40.43	20.00
Stambaugh	38.94	22.10
Iron River	17.34	10.00
Escanaba City	16.46	14.00

"You will notice that Escanaba's local rate is much closer to the state equalized rate than any of the Iron County Districts," Havitz added.

Mead's Bonus $61,000 Here

Escanaba employees of the Mead Corp. will receive more than $61,000 as a Christmas gift from the company next Tuesday. George S. Douglas said that checks for individual employees are now being prepared.

"The $61,000 our people will receive here in Escanaba is only part of the total of more than a million dollars being given Mead employees all over the country," Douglas said.

Mail Is Heavy For First Lady

By MARTHA COLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some wrote in the spidery script of the old.

Children enclosed pictures of their dogs.

Some offered their prayers, and others sent copies of the services in their churches for the dead president.

The letters started coming to Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson just a few days after President John F. Kennedy was killed and Lyndon B. Johnson became president.

The mail for the new First Lady has been running about 500 to 600 letters a day, the White House says. It has no cumulative total, because the letters have been going, too, to the Johnsons' old home.

In general, the letters are expressions of sorrow for the tragedy that took the life of a president and words of encouragement for the new First Family.

One Texas judge told President and Mrs. Johnson there is "great sorrow in our hearts for President Kennedy and his fine family, but we look to the future with confidence under your calm leadership."

In her replies, Mrs. Johnson has told her good wishers—

"These have been anguished days for all of us. The good wishes and confidence of people all over the world have sustained us during these trying times...

"The thoughtful good wishes of so many people have been most reassuring...

"How thoughtful of you to write me in the days of anguish..."

It is her practice never to begin a letter with "I."

At first, it seemed, people just wanted to write Mrs. Johnson about the tragedy and their good wishes for her. Some told her not to take the time to reply.

In the past week, they've shown a curiosity about the new First Family — where does the family eat dinner? Where do the dogs sleep? Requests for pictures of Mrs. Johnson and her two daughters, Lynda Bird, 19, and Lucy Baines, 16.

The girls are getting mail, too, and handling as much as they can themselves.

When a member of Mrs. Johnson's staff can handle the queries and requests, that is done.

Mrs. Johnson likes to see as much mail as he can. Sometime she can tell an aide, "Answer this one this way." At other times she dictates the answer herself.

Every morning she signs about 200 letters.

Michigan Milk Producers Stabilize U. P. Dairying

Upper Peninsula dairy industry has been strengthened by the entry of Michigan Milk Producers Association into dairy manufacturing a year and a half ago.

Before that the MMPA had been only a bargaining agent for farmers producing Grade A fluid milk in the Upper Peninsula, serving as an intermediary with the bottlers and dairy plants.

With dairy industry slipping here, MMPA decided the only way it could continue to serve its Upper Peninsula members was to create a market for their milk here. With the aid of Michigan State University agricultural experts it acquired by exchange of local dairy cooperative ownership certificates for MMPA shares five U.P. dairy co-ops.

They are the Rapid River Creamery, M&M Producers Dairy of Menominee; Cloverland Cheese Factory at Daggett, Vacationland Dairy at Crystal Falls and Ewen Farmers Produce, Dairy Division, at Ewen.

Large Membership

R. T. Hartwig of Marquette, Michigan State University agricultural economist, and Joseph L. Heirman, Delta County MSU Extension director, reviewing the situation in U.P. dairy industry as affected by MMPA's acquisitions after a year and a half of its operation, judge that it had been a great stabilizing force. It has enabled the cheese and bottling plants which it acquired to survive and it has given U.P. dairy farmers an assured market for their milk.

Hartwig said that MMPA had a problem of disposal for that part of the U.P. milk production not taken by the fluid (drinking) milk market. In some areas there were so few outlets for milk for manufacture that there would be only one bidder for the surplus and he would thus control the price and deny the benefits of competition.

With MMPA's acquisition of the five U.P. dairy plants, it acquired its own market outlets. MMPA has about 500 farmer members in the Upper Peninsula. It takes all the milk which its members produce.

Building Period

"The first year of MMPA's Upper Peninsula Operating Department," said Hartwig "was devoted to building a solid foundation. It had to do a lot of changing in the plants to make them conform with U.S. Department of Agriculture standards. And there was a build-up of relationship between the plants and the farmers.

"There was also a problem of coordinating and consolidating work between the U. P. plants. As you're building and structuring your program you're not apt to be operating at a profit. Once you can use the structure, you hope to be efficient and operate in the black.

"We're getting nearer there with the U. P. operation," said Hartwig. Michigan Milk has pooled its products and Heirman explained that the cheese from the Rapid River plant now goes to market under the Vacationland label. MMPA's bottled milk at M&M and Crystal Falls is also marketed under the Vacationland label.

Quality Controls

"Quality controls have been improved," said Heirman "and Michigan Milk Producers have built up a large volume of production to use in market bargaining. Earlier, the U.P. plants might be competing with each other."

Hartwig said that MMPA's U. P. planning still aims for a centralized operation in the Peninsula. "Before you can get to that," said Hartwig, "you have to operate where you are as efficient as possible and then move into the second phase of centralization. There is no time table on the second phase yet.

"The benefits of large organization are being made available to the MMPA plants in the Upper Peninsula. I note that the Milk Messenger, a monthly house organ of the MMPA published downstate was advertising Christmas gift packages of Rapid River Vacationland cheese. When I heard last of the program 10 days ago more than 600 packages of the gift cheese had been sold. That makes U. P. cheese business and also business for the Eugene Hartman plant at Nahma that makes the hardwood cheese-boards for the packages.

Build On Confidence

"Farmers are setting aside 7 cents for every hundred pounds of milk sold to carry out this program. Ninety-three per cent of the U. P. members voted in favor of this program. This is quite an achievement in itself.

These farmers believed enough in the program to loan their money to finance it."

Heirman said "farmers have a feeling that there's going to be a market for their milk, where before they weren't certain."

"This gives them something to build on," said Hartwig.

"It gives us something to work on too," said Heirman. "How could we advise a farmer on an investment in his dairy farm without knowing whether there would be a market for his milk."

The economic aid to the Upper Peninsula given by Michigan Milk Producers Association is exemplified in the Crystal Falls dairy industry that is now MMPA's Vacationland operation there. It was a privately owned dairy plant which was taken over by farmers and townspeople after it went bankrupt, in order to keep the milk market and other community benefits which it provided.

Leaders Of Project

When Michigan Milk Producers Association bought the plant it was possible to pay off the townspeople and farmers who had invested in it. Now the plant is on a stable footing.

Chief architects of the MMPA Upper Peninsula Operating Department have been Herbert H. Varney, an economist and Dale Long, Northern Michigan field representative of MMPA. Robert Dewey of Marquette is manager of the U. P. Operating Department. A former MMPA field man, MSU alumnus and former Kalkaska County ag agent, Dewey is solving the day-to-day problems of the Department, solving both the farmer problems and those of manufacturing and marketing.

Last Ore Boat Coming; Tonnage Tops 5 Million

By CLINT DUNATHAN

The ore carrier J. J. Boland is scheduled to arrive at the Chicago & North Western Railway dock at 6 p.m. Sunday to take on 15,200 tons of ore—last cargo of the 1963 shipping season here.

The Boland, commanded by Capt. Robert J. Laughlin, will load with pellet ore from the Groveland plant and will clear for Trenton, Mich. This will bring the 1963 ore tonnage at Escanaba to 5,042,071 tons—a very good year indeed, according to dock agent Lee McMillan.

Last year the C&NW shipped 4,771,782 tons here. The all-time North Western dock record was 6,571,508 in 1960. The last boat to clear in 1962 was the Ryerson on Nov. 25.

This has been a momentous year for the production and movement of iron ore in the Upper Peninsula region, marked primarily by the increasing development of ore pelletizing plants.

No Frozen Ore

All of the 800,000 tons of pellet ore moved out of Escanaba this year was from the Groveland plant of the Hanna Mining Co. at Randville, 14 miles northeast of Iron Mountain. Most of the pellet ore was consigned to McLouth Steel at Trenton.

Because pellet ore is dry, unlike regular ore, it can be shipped in the late season without the problem of having it freeze in the railroad cars or in the dock pockets. This saves time and money.

The shipping of pellet ore during the late season has made it unnecessary for the North Western to use its quarter-million-dollar infra-red ore thawing facility at Escanaba.

About 100 cars of pellet ore a day rolled into Escanaba after the Groveland plant got into production. The 800,000 tons this year will be increased to an anticipated 1,250,000 tons in the 1964 season. All of this tonnage will flow through the North Western dock at Escanaba.

Want Pellets

Pelletized ore, the product of beneficiating low grade ores, has an iron content of 62 per cent and is of constant quality. The raw ores have a 51 per cent iron content.

There's a big demand for the pellet ore at the furnaces. The volume of pellet ore is expected to increase as production from the high grade mines declines across the Peninsula.

Low grade ore processing at the Empire mine near Palmer is to start shortly and the Marquette range already has three pelletizing plants at Republic, Humboldt and Eagle Mills, which ship mostly from Marquette. Whether the Palmer plant will ship pellets to Escanaba is still a question.

The North Western uses about 4,000 cars to haul ore to its Escanaba dock from the Menominee, Gogebic and Marquette ranges. Of this number, over 600 are owned by the Milwaukee road, which pools its ore shipments with the North Western. Most of these cars winter in the yards at Escanaba and are maintained here.

Bigger Boats

Shortly after the shipping season closes the North Western begins its annual dock repair program. The Railway spends about a quarter of a million dollars annually in dock maintenance. C&NW officials say a new conveyor type dock will be built when there is need for it.

Another factor being increasingly examined in connection with meeting foreign ore competition is the size of the ore carriers serving the Great Lakes trade. They are growing bigger and there are fewer of them.

The volume of imported ore totaled 33½ million tons last year and increased in 1963. To meet this competition, more efficient shipping is essential on the Great Lakes for domestic ore. There are fewer but larger boats. The cargo average last year was 13,479 tons.

All-Winter Port?

The Lake Carriers Association has heard proposals to build carriers 1,000 feet long—a third longer than any now on the Lakes—to lower transportation costs and increase the demand for Michigan's Upper Peninsula ore.

Harry Benford, professor of naval architecture and marine engineering, University of Michigan, said such a vessel would have an 81,000 tons capacity. It would transport pelletized ore from Escanaba to the Chicago-Gary area at the south end of Lake Michigan.

The vessel would have an icebreaker bow and could operate the year around. This combination of size and continuous operations would make the ship extremely economical, Prof. Benford said.

If the transportation savings were passed on to the steel mills, the demand for U. P. ore could be greatly stimulated, he said.

'Pays To Know' Dinner Planned

The Upper Michigan Tourist Association will host Upper Peninsula press representatives, tourist industry leaders and educators at an Escanaba dinner on Jan. 9 to announce regional winners of the 1963 "Pays To Know" hospitality program.

UMTA President Ken Slater of Hulbert said county winners will be announced shortly. Regional winners, to be announced and introduced at the Escanaba gathering, will include the U.P. sweepstakes winner and three honorable mention winners.

"We're inviting all U.P. newspaper, radio and television people," Slater said, "because their communications support has been a big factor in this very successful program." He pointed out that Michigan State University extension personnel had handled most of the organizational phase of the program, along with local chambers of commerce.

Approximately 5,000 persons participated in sales training clinics, attractions tours, waitress training programs and cooks and bakers schools the past year. This was 2,000 more than the number involved last year, when the "Pays To Know" hosting program was introduced.

During the past summer, UMTA-financed teams of shoppers contacted more than 500 Upper Peninsula shops, attractions and local businesses to pick the best county and regional hosts.

"The results in addition to motivating greater interest in the program, will be invaluable in helping our association plan our advertising and service program," Slater said.

Foreign Aid Funds Slashed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Apppropriations Committee today slashed funds for the foreign aid program to $2.8 billion — a whopping $1.7 billion below the late President John F. Kennedy's original request.

If sustained by the House on a vote scheduled for next Monday, the cut would be one of the biggest since the aid program was launched after World War II to help foreign nations rebuild their economies.

The cut was engineered by a subcommittee headed by Rep. Otto E. Passman, D-La., an arch opponent of heavy spending abroad. In a formal report Passman questioned the "faith and reliance" that can be placed on some of the recipient nations and said "this program has been attempting too much for too many."

Kennedy recommended $4,525,325,000 in new funds for the fiscal year that begins July 1. The appropriations committee hacked this to $2,801,700,000 — $1,725,625,000 below Kennedy's request.

Only Friday Congress completed action on a separate authorization bill putting a ceiling of $3,599,050,000 on aid spending. President Johnson and top government officials had urged Congress not to endanger the program by further cuts.

Even if the House upholds the committee —and it usually does —the aid program probably will have more money before the bill becomes law. The Senate traditionally increases the House allotments and the two branches split the difference in a compromise measure.

Briefly Told

Traffic court summons have been issued by Escanaba police to Dianne Frances Picard, 1190 7th Ave. S., improper backing and rear window vision obscured; and Iriving T. Lancour, 1925 8th Ave. S., driving too fast for conditions.

John M. Hagman of Gladstone Rte. 1, was ticketed by Escanaba police for leaving a truck unattended and for a defective emergency brake after the truck rolled down the Post Office ramp, across Ludington St. and struck the Sorensen Marine fence at 10:45 p.m. Friday.

It's "Colonel" Burl (Barney) N. Barnhart of Escanaba now. On Wednesday of this week in a ceremony in the Brown Hotel, Louisville, Barnhart, safety director for big Clairmont Transfer Co. of Escanaba, was made a Kentucky colonel for his work as a member of the National Truck Rodeo Committee of the American Trucking Assn. The rodeo is a safe driving promotion in commercial trucking.

The commission was given to Barnhart by the Kentucky state police commissioner in recognition of his contributions to the national safety program in the trucking industry.

A native of Indiana Barnhart has been with Clairmont for 13 years and the truck line has won many honors for its fine safety record in the period. It won the grand safety award of the Michigan Trucking Assn. last year and the year before was winner of two seconds in the national safety contest of the American Trusking Assn.

Last May Barnhart was named chairman of the Central Region Council of Safety Supervisors of the American Trucking Assn., one of four in the nation, and he is a past president and current director of the Wisconsin Truckers Safety Assn.

Friends of Mrs. August Lundgaard, formerly of Cornell, will be interested in knowing that she is the subject of an item written by Lowell Nussbaum, columnist of the Indianapolis Star. Nussbaum, writing under the heading "The Things I Hear!" reports on receiving an old penny post card.

The card was from Mrs. Lundgaard, who now resides in Indianapolis with her son Fred. She will leave before the holidays for Ada, Okla., to spend the winter.

Nussbaum writes in his column:

"Most of you are far too young to remember the old-fashioned penny postcard Christmas greetings.

"In their day they were every bit as much appreciated as today's elaborate greeting cards.

"It came as a decided surprise to receive one of the genuine old penny cards. It arrived last week with best wishes from Grace Lundgaard of the Essex House. A note said it came from "our country store about 50 years ago."

"In those days a penny postcard was just that—1 cent for the postcard and 1 for the postage. This one, of course, of necessity bore a 4-cent stamp. But it was placed on one side so the printed instructions are visible: "Place Stamp—Domestic 1 Cent."

Mrs. Lundgaard is the widow of August Lundgaard, longtime country store proprietor at Cornell, where he was accepted as the community's unofficial "mayor", and where he shone each year as the toastmaster at the farmer-businessman Venison Dinner.

Police Get Card For 30 Years

POCATELLO, Idaho (AP) — Philip Goldfaden's Christmas card arrived at the Pocatello police department Friday just as it has for 30 years.

Goldfaden, a police sergeant in Long Branch, N.J., once explained the cards in a letter. He was a teen-ager, he wrote, during the depression of the 1930s, and rode a freight train into Pocatello. Cold and hungry, he went to the police station, and was given a place to stay and a hot meal.

Goldfaden's card, tacked on the bulletin board, says: "Thanks a lot. I'll never forget it."

Joint Industrial, Waste Handling Trend Is Cited

Industrial and community waste can be treated together in a ratio of one to six, Anthony J. Palladino, consulting engineer from Kalamazoo said Thursday night in a talk to U. P. wastewater (sewage) plant operators assembled at Manistique for a training meeting.

He spoke at a dinner at 6:30 p. m., in Liberty Hall and showed slides of various facilities in the nation for handling industrial and other wastes.

The processes of disposing of industrial waste and community sewage are similar, they can be combined for joint treatment, and activated sludge has been found to be one of the best disposal methods, he stated. His material also covered operating equipment and pointed out better methods have to be devised. Spray irrigation is among techniques used for industrial waste disposal.

Palladino has done work for the Manistique Pulp and Paper Co. During the meeting, at which he was introduced by E. J. Doyle, Manistique sewage plant operator, Palladino and Russell L. Johnson, engineer in charge of the Northern Michigan district for the Michigan Department of Health, met and learned both were from New Jersey and both were graduates in sanitary engineering from the same school—Rutgers university. Palladino is from Elizabeth, N. J. and Johnson from Dover.

Bacteria Absent

Spray irrigation, leeching pits, storage with discharge in high water periods and utilization as farm field builders are included in methods of handling industrial wastes, he pointed out.

Industrial wastes have no pathogenic bacteria so the problem of disposal is different, he observed. Paper mill waste has strong liquors, he noted, describing methods used by Mead Corporation, in a new tower at Macon, Ga. and other firm's processes. In the paper industry, the trend is to activated sludge type.

More and more, the joint treatment of city and industrial sewage is being practiced. It is important to remember not to chlorinate city sewage before mixing with industrial waste, as better treatment results when chlorination takes place afterwards. Nitrogens and phosphorous in sewage wastes provide biological forms needed for sludge activation, he explained.

Several examples of joint treatment facilities were cited, including three in West Virginia, along the Potomoac, where one industry and three communities are served by the same plant. Battle Creek also does this, Palladino said. In larger cities this is not unusual, he pointed out, citing New York and Chicago. In Kalamazoo a joint agreement for waste disposal has just been reached.

New Plant Toured

Various types of aeration also were discussed for the 42 persons attending from 16 communities.

State officials here for the meeting included Donald M. Pierce, chief of engineering for the water waste section of the Michigan Department of Health, Wallace C. Benzie, and Aleln Moore, sanitary engineers for the Department of Health; Russell L. Johnson, engineer in charge of the MDH Northern Michigan district and Cletus Courchaine of the district office in Escanaba.

The next meeting will be held in Ironwood.

The session began Thursday morning and included discussions of raw waste characteristics, conversion and utilization of wastes in biological activity, preparation of waste for discharge of streams, and natural purification of streams. A group inspection of the new sewage disposal plant at Manistique was a feature Thursday.

Last Ore Boat Coming; Tonnage Tops 5 Million

By CLINT DUNATHAN

The ore carrier J. J. Boland is scheduled to arrive at the Chicago & North Western Railway dock at 6 p.m. Sunday to take on 15,200 tons of ore—last cargo of the 1963 shipping season here.

The Boland, commanded by Capt. Robert J. Laughlin, will load with pellet ore from the Groveland plant and will clear for Trenton, Mich. This will bring the 1963 ore tonnage at Escanaba to 5,042,071 tons—a very good year indeed, according to dock agent Lee McMillan.

Last year the C&NW shipped 4,771,782 tons here. The all-time North Western dock record was 6,571,508 in 1960. The last boat to clear in 1962 was the Ryerson on Nov. 25.

This has been a momentous year for the production and movement of iron ore in the Upper Peninsula region, marked primarily by the increasing development of ore pelletizing plants.

No Frozen Ore

All of the 800,000 tons of pellet ore moved out of Escanaba this year was from the Groveland plant of the Hanna Mining Co. at Randville, 14 miles northeast of Iron Mountain. Most of the pellet ore was consigned to McLouth Steel at Trenton.

Because pellet ore is dry, unlike regular ore, it can be shipped in the late season without the problem of having it freeze in the railroad cars or in the dock pockets. This saves time and money.

The shipping of pellet ore during the late season has made it unnecessary for the North Western to use its quarter-million-dollar infra-red ore thawing facility at Escanaba.

About 100 cars of pellet ore a day rolled into Escanaba after the Groveland plant got into production. The 800,000 tons this year will be increased to an anticipated 1,250,000 tons in the 1964 season. All of this tonnage will flow through the North Western dock at Escanaba.

Want Pellets

Pelletized ore, the product of beneficiating low grade ores, has an iron content of 62 per cent and is of constant quality. The raw ores have a 51 per cent iron content.

There's a big demand for the pellet ore at the furnaces. The volume of pellet ore is expected to increase as production from the high grade mines declines across the Peninsula.

Low grade ore processing at the Empire mine near Palmer is to start shortly and the Marquette range already has three pelletizing plants at Republic, Humboldt and Eagle Mills, which ship mostly from Marquette. Whether the Palmer plant will ship pellets to Escanaba is still a question.

The North Western uses about 4,000 cars to haul ore to its Escanaba dock from the Menominee, Gogebic and Marquette ranges. Of this number, over 600 are owned by the Milwaukee road, which pools its ore shipments with the North Western. Most of these cars winter in the yards at Escanaba and are maintained here.

Bigger Boats

Shortly after the shipping season closes the North Western begins its annual dock repair program. The Railway spends about a quarter of a million dollars annually in dock maintenance. C&NW officials say a new conveyor type dock will be built when there is need for it.

Another factor being increasingly examined in connection with meeting foreign ore competition is the size of the ore carriers serving the Great Lakes trade. They are growing bigger and there are fewer of them.

The volume of imported ore totaled 33½ million tons last year and increased in 1963. To meet this competition, more efficient shipping is essential on the Great Lakes for domestic ore. There are fewer but larger boats. The cargo average last year was 13,479 tons.

All-Winter Port?

The Lake Carriers Association has heard proposals to build carriers 1,000 feet long—a third longer than any now on the Lakes—to lower transportation costs and increase the demand for Michigan's Upper Peninsula ore.

Harry Benford, professor of naval architecture and marine engineering, University of Michigan, said such a vessel would have an 81,000 tons capacity. It would transport pelletized ore from Escanaba to the Chicago-Gary area at the south end of Lake Michigan.

The vessel would have an icebreaker bow and could operate the year around. This combination of size and continuous operations would make the ship extremely economical, Prof. Benford said.

If the transportation savings were passed on to the steel mills, the demand for U. P. ore could be greatly stimulated, he said.

'Pays To Know' Dinner Planned

The Upper Michigan Tourist Association will host Upper Peninsula press representatives, tourist industry leaders and educators at an Escanaba dinner on Jan. 9 to announce regional winners of the 1963 "Pays To Know" hospitality program.

UMTA President Ken Slater of Hulbert said county winners will be announced shortly. Regional winners, to be announced and introduced at the Escanaba gathering, will include the U.P. sweepstakes winner and three honorable mention winners.

"We're inviting all U.P. newspaper, radio and television people," Slater said, "because their communications support has been a big factor in this very successful program." He pointed out that Michigan State University extension personnel had handled most of the organizational phase of the program, along with local chambers of commerce.

Approximately 5,000 persons participated in sales training clinics, attractions tours, waitress training programs and cooks and bakers schools the past year. This was 2,000 more than the number involved last year, when the "Pays To Know" hosting program was introduced.

During the past summer, UMTA-financed teams of shoppers contacted more than 500 Upper Peninsula shops, attractions and local businesses to pick the best county and regional hosts.

"The results in addition to motivating greater interest in the program, will be invaluable in helping our association plan our advertising and service program," Slater said.

Foreign Aid Funds Slashed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee today slashed funds for the foreign aid program to $2.8 billion — a whopping $1.7 billion below the late President John F. Kennedy's original request.

If sustained by the House on a vote scheduled for next Monday, the cut would be one of the biggest since the aid program was launched after World War II to help foreign nations rebuild their economies.

The cut was engineered by a subcommittee headed by Rep. Otto E. Passman, D-La., an arch opponent of heavy spending abroad. In a formal report Passman questioned the "faith and reliance" that can be placed on some of the recipient nations and said "this program has been attempting too much for too many."

Kennedy recommended $4,525,325,000 in new funds for the fiscal year that begins July 1. The appropriations committee hacked this to $2,801,700,000 — $1,725,625,000 below Kennedy's request.

Only Friday Congress completed action on a separate authorization bill putting a ceiling of $3,599,050,000 on aid spending. President Johnson and top government officials had urged Congress not to endanger the program by further cuts.

Even if the House upholds the committee —and it usually does —the aid program probably will have more money before the bill becomes law. The Senate traditionally increases the House allotments and the two branches split the difference in a compromise measure.

Electronics And Farming

Persons who are wondering if all this new accent on education is really necessary and sensible or just something that the school men have foisted upon us to bolster their professionalism have a clue to the answer in the series of Upper Peninsula meetings with farmers planned by Michigan State University to explain its new TELFARM.

TELFARM means "Today's Electronic Farm Records for Management" and it is an electronic computer system for farm account processing data. The U.P. farmers who subscribe to this educational service will have their farms inventoried and they will thereafter send to East Lansing each month their accounts for processing in the computer. From their reports on income and expenditures, changes in inventory, etc., the computer will make an analysis of their operations, point the profitable operations, the loss items and other findings and giving MSU agricultural economists the materials necessary for farm management policy decisions.

The computer accounting will give farmers the finished data for their income tax returns and other accounting needs, but MSU stresses that its prime interest in the system is in obtaining the basic information which its agricultural experts can use to upgrade farm income.

How urgently this process is needed in Michigan is told by MSU's report that of the 59,000 Michigan farmers reporting a gross income of $2,500 or more in the 1959 census, 45,000 did not receive a hired man's wage for their labor and management plus 5 pct. interest on the value of their assets.

A first need in the process of upgrading farm income, says MSU, is a knowledge of the farm plant (inventory) and the farm's profit position. Even a rather modest farm layout today is apt to represent a value of $50,000 and a businessman wouldn't think of attempting management of such an investment without accounting, but some farmers try it.

Farming started in the Upper Peninsula 140 years ago with some pioneers who were long on brawn and courage and woefully short of knowledge. That isn't good enough today. The pioneer farmer had only to make a living for his family and it involved very little cash, as he could raise much of his own needs. Today's farmer buys many needs like fuel, fertilizer, machinery and specialized services so he needs credit and he needs income to meet his credit commitments.

Financial institutions want to know the fiscal stability of projects on which they loan money, and the farmer should want to know it even more so because it's his money that will be lost if there's to be a failure. This modern agricultural process calls for accounting. MSU has been experimenting with aid to Michigan farmers in keeping farm accounts for a quarter century and more.

Its pilot studies with computer accounting for a limited number of Upper Peninsula and Lower Peninsula farmers have helped it develop TELFARM. The similarity of name with Telstar, the communications satellite, is marked and TELFARM is an augury of the future in farming just as surely as Telstar, bouncing TV programs from one hemisphere to another, is an augury of the future in communications.

Vote On Monday

Taxpayers of the Escanaba Area School District should vote on Monday on the proposal to bond for $270,000 to build a new Franklin School in Escanaba. The bonds would be retired over a period of 16 years with a tax of 45 cents per $1,000 of valuation (0.45 mill.)

The Escanaba Daily Press believes that the proposal is modest and proper and should be supported. It recommends a Yes vote as within the means of the community and providing another educational benefit.

The Press opposes the plea of the Delta County Taxpayers Association for a vote of no confidence in the Escanaba Area Board of Education by defeat of the bonding proposal. The board are the people's elected representatives in school government and mindful of the difficulties of paying taxes, but also mindful of the community's needs for education and of what is possible and desirable.

Unfortunately the issue has been so belabored that it emerges as a test of confidence between the electorate's representatives and their critics and this situation should leave citizens little choice if they respect the processes of democratic government.

Finding The Way

Verbal Barbarism

By RALPH W. LOEW, D. D.

A recent performance of Albee's play "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" presented a dramatic example of the use of profanity and obscenity to reveal a situation. No one could see the play without becoming involved. The characters are memorable for their obvious emptiness. Here is a revelation of life as a tragic farce. It is also obvious that after the first act the profanity becomes meaningless, the obscenities repetitive and the lewd gestures merely caricatures.

This is the problem of all profanity. It becomes the emphais of emptiness.

The affront to the name of God and the indignity to holiness is important, but it is only one of the essential problems.

It is the meaningless word, the draining of exactness from semantics which is also sinful. In a time when we demand scientific exactitude, by what moral right do we justify a verbal barbarism?

Another part of the profanity is its abhorrence of man himself. Today's drama, television plays and much of its literature treat man as though he is only a sick animal. There's plenty of evidence to be dredged up to prove the case. As one of Albee's characters said, "I disgust me."

Yet realism is not only the statement of the illness: it is also the statement of the human possibilities and the power to redeem. This is what is missing from so much of contemporary life. In the rush from sentimentalism, we become dreary in our profaning of the very nature of man. You would never guess that man could be a channel of the power and love of God!

Goodness is not just a kind of mouthing of piety. Jesus said that many who say "Lord, Lord" were only indulging in a kind of profanity. He reiterated the insistence of Amos that God hated the solemn assemblies and the pious rites when there is no accompanying commitment to a way of life.

If we fight to keep "In God We Trust" on our coins and then try to keep God imprisoned on our money, we engage in a kind of profanity.

If we get disturbed about the denial of prayer in our schools and then have no moments of prayer in our homes, that too is a kind of immorality.

Edson In Washington

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — It's a brand new ball game for the GOP.

The Republicans had their campaign all planned around the theme of "Retire the Kennedys in 1964." The trade mark was three empty rocking chairs for Jack, Bobby and Teddy.

There was a regional GOP strategy conference going on in St. Louis on the Nov. 22 weekend. When news of President Kennedy's assassination became known during the lunch hour, the banners and posters were hauled down immediately, the rocking chairs dragged out of the hotel lobby, and the conference folded.

GOP National Committee Chairman William E. Miller's 30-day moratorium on politics during the period of mourning will probably run a little longer. Congress will—it hopes—adjourn before Dec. 22. No one wants to talk politics during the Christmas holidays.

But it will be politics as usual—only more so—after Congress comes back to town Jan. 2.

Canceled Republican National Committee, Finance Committee and State Chairmen's meetings originally scheduled for Minneapolis Dec. 11-14 have been reset for Washington's Mayflower hotel Jan. 8-9.

This will be largely a session on arrangements for the GOP national convention in San Francisco July 13. It is expected that Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin will be named chairman of the Resolutions Committee which will write the 1964 GOP platform. He was vice chairman in 1960 and chairman of the 1962 Republican restatement of policy group.

★ ★ ★

The Republican '64 campaign will be formally launched Jan. 29—without an agreed-upon candidate. GOP National Committee is holding "G-Day" rallies that night in 26 principal U. S. cities.

They will be $100-a-plate dinners, only anyone who wants to pay more for his meal will be encouraged to do so. National Committee hopes to raise $2 million. In 1960, with 60 dinners and Nixon, they raised $4 million.

All the 1964 candidates, favorite sons and remote long shots will be put on the air by closed-circuit television. Gen. Eisenhower will be in Detroit, Nixon in New York, Rockefeller in Los Angeles, Goldwater in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania's Gov. Scranton in Indianapolis, Michigan's Gov. Romney at the Sheraton-Park in Washington, D C.

By Jan. 29 all of Democratic President Johnson's important policy messages will have been delivered to Congress. It will be known what he stands for and where. If the target he presents is exactly the same as the Kennedy program, the GOP will have something to shoot at and will start shooting.

★ ★ ★

GOP assessments of Republican presidential possibilities and their chances generally concede that Sen. Barry Goldwater has lost some strength because he personified anti-Kennedyism, which is now a lost issue.

Anti-Goldwater Republicans maintain he no longer has a chance. His main strength was in the South where he had 303 of the 655 GOP convention delegates needed for the nomination. The contention is that southern Democrats who might have voted Republican against Kennedy will support Johnson.

There are all kinds of rumors floating around Washington that Goldwater is getting ready to pull out. Most of this is wishful thinking or guessing.

Draft Goldwater headquarters in Washington is working harder than ever. The senator's own office shows no signs of retreat. And it has become known that shortly after the Kennedy funeral, Goldwater had a session with Leonard Hall in New York, asking him to become Goldwater campaign manager. It didn't go through.

★ ★ ★

New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller's stock has shown no perceptible rise. The consensus is that most women won't vote for him because of his divorce and marriage to a divorcee.

Gov. Scranton's weakness is that he isn't known. "Walk him down any main street outside of Harrisburg, Pa.," says one GOP leader, "and nobody would recognize him."

Nixon is the real dark horse. One shrewd comment on him is that, "If he had just known Rockefeller was going to get a divorce and if he just hadn't run for governor of California and taken such a beating, today he'd have it made."

Lake Levels At 1933 Lows

DETROIT (AP) — The water level has dropped in Lakes Michigan and Huron to the all-time low December water mark of 30 years ago, the Army Corps of Engineers said.

Surface water levels in the two Great Lakes stood at 575.82 feet—equalling a record set in 1933. Both lakes—which always stand at identical levels—are 10 inches below their levels a year ago. They dropped four inches in the past month.

Lake Erie, at 568.52 feet, is a foot below last year's level and 11 inches above the all-time low for December, which was recorded in 1934. Lake Ontario is 11 inches down and 23 above the all-time low for December, recorded in 1934.

Lake Superior was the only one to match last year's level, at 600.22 feet. This is 14 inches above the 1925 all-time low. Water in the largest of the Great Lakes dropped two inches in the past 30 days.

Lake St. Clair is down to 571.37 feet — a foot below last year's level and only three inches above the low recorded in 1925. It dropped three inches since a month ago.

Kelley Suggests Tax Break For Pollution Aid

Michigan Attorney General Frank J. Kelley has suggested that state industries be given an accelerated tax break for constructing their own waste processing plants.

Addressing directors of Michigan United Conservation Clubs at Detroit, Kelley said such a move would help eliminate many water pollution problems and would serve to keep pollution control as a state responsibility.

"The government for years has offered inducements to persons and industries to perform public interest services either by subsidy or tax reductions," he said. "The government should provide accelerated amortization benefits to encourage the installation of pollution control works."

Kelley pointed out that some industries do not offer their wastes to local municipalities and in many instances municipalities refuse to accept them.

In such instances, he said, the industry is forced to discharge its wastes directly into the receiving waters or to shoulder the entire cost of treatment.

Two bills which would provide tax deductions for industrial construction of waste treatment works, HR 5167 and HR 5849, were introduced in this session of Congress.

The alternative to such a proposal in attempting to solve critical water pollution problems, Kelley warned, could be a complete federal takeover of pollution control authority. The Supreme Court, he noted, has ruled that state authority is null and void in fields preempted by federal action.

Letters To The Press

FORD RIVER VOTE

On Monday the taxpayers within the area will vote on replacement of the Franklin School. There is no doubt that the construction of a new Franklin School is a must for the welfare and better education of the children involved. Every taxpayer should consider it his moral obligation to vote yes on the proposition.

At the presentation of this important issue, it may very well be the proper time for the rest of the people of the school system to become aware of the situation that faces the taxpayers of Ford River Township. At the present time these people are paying for the new Ford River School and will be for a long time to come, while it is the just obligation of the other taxpayers of the school system to share equally in the payment of this debt through debt consolidation.

Although the people of the area were asked repeatedly to vote for consolidation of the Ford River school debt, thereby bringing about an equal burden for all of the taxpayers of the Escanaba Area School system, instead the majority of them turned it down. Now the people of Ford River Township are being asked to assume the added burden of paying for a new school in the system without relief of this debt which should be shared by all.

It is my belief that it is the responsibility of the school board as representatives of the people to explore every means available to bring about equality by consolidation of the debt as soon as possible.

I sincerely hope that the people of Ford River Township although they may rightfully have the feeling that they are "being taken," will vote "Yes" for a new Franklin School Monday. This should be done in a demonstration of faith that the rest of the people of the school system will live up to their promise of equaiity.

John L. Oberg
Ford River

Editor's note: In the last election the question of mutual assumption of Ford River's debt carried in 4 Escanaba City precincts and lost in 5, but carried the total vote in the city 912 to 566.

Supporting millage for this debt assumption carried 3 city precincts and lost in 6, but only lost the total city vote by 9 votes, 845 to 854. Ford River's "No" vote of 67 votes, if it had been "Yes" would have carried the whole Escanaba Area School District by 19 votes.

TAXPAYERS ASSN.

Although we have answered by radio the questions asked us by the school administration I have been advised by our Association Board to also answer by the same means in which they were asked. Therefore this letter.

In Monday's Press—in a long article—the school board questioned several statements made by us and also made two specific requests.

First, that we tell them where there are classrooms less than 26 x 26 with 45 students. We only checked one school, the Holy Name High School, and found plenty of them there. And actually room for more than 45. When we visited the school to measure the classrooms and count the desks, one of those entered was empty of students but the teaching nun was there.

We asked her how many students she had. She answered that she had 45 but that there was room for more than 45. She then added, 45 students makes just a nice class". Now understand, this statement was unsolicited and we didn't know each other.

As to the second request, statement No. 2 as to how many classrooms were previously needed, the school board need only refer to the press report of the first meeting of the new School Board which states that "Mr. Bright submitted the proposal for 8 classrooms for the Franklin site". We have further proof that 8 classrooms were adequate a month ago, but do not wish to publicly air this as it involves individuals. However, we will be willing to submit it privately to the Board.

When we pointed out in cold facts that it was no financial hardship to temporarily not have a Franklin School the School Board stated, "If we follow Mr. Gasman's line of reasoning, the way to save taxpayers the most money is to build no schools at all". To us this is a clear case of putting words into our mouth and is certainly irresponsible thinking.

As taxpayers, we have expressed an opinion based on facts and we feel that such an honest opinion should not be criticized by elected officials.

We should be working together as much as possible. Our aims are, or should be, substantially the same. We both want a good functional Franklin School for as little money as possible. After all, we represent at least a segment of the people that are paying the bill and should be given a chance to co-operate in solving the problem.

Just because we feel that the Franklin School can be built for less than proposed and also suggest a method of saving the hard-pressed taxpayers nearly $100,000 in interest, shouldn't be the signal to browbeat us.

As we said before, lets work together and try and get a good functional Franklin School for as little money as possible.

Delta County Taxpayer's Association
Harold Gasman, President

I'M PROVOKED

I have a two-fold reason for writing this letter.

First; the curtain has come down on "Oklahoma" and we will long remember the successful production. Well deserved plaudits have been given to the teachers and students.

However, I cannot recall that the orchestra has received its well deserved praise. They provided an overture, accompaniment, and fine background music. I looked at the names and noted how many were adults who freely gave hours and hours of their time to help make the musical a "hit". Their interest was apparent. I could not help but contrast this group with another working group in Escanaba.

This brings me to the second reason for this letter. The Delta County Taxpayers Association also spends hours and hours in work, but in destructive work. Since we moved to Escanaba, I have yet to see their support in the field of education. It is always "We're in favor, BUT".

The latest is "save interest money". I wonder if these DCTA leaders didn't go into debt when the vast amount of property they now own was being acquired. I mention only the leaders as somehow the membership names remain so secretive.

Most of us eligible voters own one piece of property: a home. The amount our taxes will be increased on the average won't be even close to what is spent on cigarettes, liquor, and entertainment by most people. Even with the increase to the big property owners, there will still be enough rental income for winters in Florida, trips to Europe, etc.

Perhaps I sound provoked. I am. It seems to me that the DCTA is doing a good job of fooling the people and of selling the children of Escanaba short.

Please do some honest and sincere thinking. We need a Franklin School now—not in 1968. I have no little children who will benefit from this, but I do have concern for all children and for their education.

Square-Rigger To Sail Lakes

DETROIT (AP) — A square-rigged Norwegian training ship will sail on a unique voyage up the St. Lawrence Seaway next summer, Joseph McCann, head of the Seaway Corp. said Thursday.

The voyage, sponsored by the International Association of Great Lakes Ports, will follow "Operation Sail" in which windjammers from a dozen nations will meet in New York in connection with the World's Fair. The trip is planned for next August.

The Seaway Corp. received unofficial word of the trip from Harry Neilsen of the Norwegian Seamen's Welfare Society, McCann said.

McCann first came up with the idea, but passed it on to the ports association for action. Louis Purdey, Toledo - Lucas County port director and president of the association, extended the original invitation.

The original plan was for three ships to make the trip, which will mark the fifth anniversary of the opening of the seaway. It also marks the 30th anniversary of the first foreign commercial service into the Great Lakes, he said.

No itinerary has been worked out yet, but Chicago, Detroit and Toledo are definite ports of call for the cadet-mannned sailing ship.

Both Israel And Jordan Will Be Visited By Pope

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican Press Office confirmed that Pope Paul VI will visit both Israel and Jordan on his Holy Land pilgrimage in January.

It had been generally assumed that he would go both to Arab Jordan and Jewish Israel, but the Vatican had not said so until today. Its confirmation came in a "note to journalists" issued at the Vatican Press Office to guide newsmen planning to cover the Jan. 4-6 pilgrimage. It said:

"Authorities of the two states in which the pilgrimage will be made have promised ample cooperation and help to journalists."

The two states could only be Jordan and Israel.

Informed sources said earlier this week that the Pope would fly from Rome to Amman on Jan. 4, spend that day visiting holy sites in Jordan, and tour shrines in Israel the following day. The sources said he would return to Rome Jn. 6 after celebrating Mass at the Church of the Nativity in Bethlehem. The sources said the Pope would spend both nights at the Apostolic Delegation inside Jordan-held Jerusalem.

Discuss Plans For U-W Branch At Marinette

MENOMINEE — Members of the Menominee Board of Education this week heard a discussion of future plans for the Marinette branch of the University of Wisconsin.

Lon Weber, former assistant principal of Marinette High and now director of the U-W center, said ground will be broken next May on the new building which will have space and facilities for more compiete courses than are now afforded and broaden the scope of operation.

He said he was hopeful the Wisconsin reciprocal arrangement can be worked out on tuition of Michigan students attending the Marinette 2-year college course. At present, the tuition to a Michigan enrollee is $1,000 a year or $500 a semester. By comparison, Wisconsin students pay $150 a semester.

Electronics And Farming

Persons who are wondering if all this new accent on education is really necessary and sensible or just something that the school men have foisted upon us to bolster their professionalism have a clue to the answer in the series of Upper Peninsula meetings with farmers planned by Michigan State University to explain its new TELFARM.

TELFARM means "Today's Electronic Farm Records for Management" and it is an electronic computer system for farm account processing data. The U.P. farmers who subscribe to this educational service will have their farms inventoried and they will thereafter send to East Lansing each month their accounts for processing in the computer. From their reports on income and expenditures, changes in inventory, etc., the computer will make an analysis of their operations, point the profitable operations, the loss items and other findings and giving MSU agricultural economists the materials necessary for farm management policy decisions.

The computer accounting will give farmers the finished data for their income tax returns and other accounting needs, but MSU stresses that its prime interest in the system is in obtaining the basic information which its agricultural experts can use to upgrade farm income.

How urgently this process is needed in Michigan is told by MSU's report that of the 59,000 Michigan farmers reporting a gross income of $2,500 or more in the 1959 census, 45,000 did not receive a hired man's wage for their labor and management plus 5 pct. interest on the value of their assets.

A first need in the process of upgrading farm income, says MSU, is a knowledge of the farm plant (inventory) and the farm's profit position. Even a rather modest farm layout today is apt to represent a value of $50,000 and a businessman wouldn't think of attempting management of such an investment without accounting, but some farmers try it.

Farming started in the Upper Peninsula 140 years ago with some pioneers who were long on brawn and courage and woefully short of knowledge. That isn't good enough today. The pioneer farmer had only to make a living for his family and it involved very little cash, as he could raise much of his own needs. Today's farmer buys many needs like fuel, fertilizer, machinery and specialized services so he needs credit and he needs income to meet his credit commitments.

Financial institutions want to know the fiscal stability of projects on which they loan money, and the farmer should want to know it even more so because it's his money that will be lost if there's to be a failure. This modern agricultural process calls for accounting. MSU has been experimenting with aid to Michigan farmers in keeping farm accounts for a quarter century and more.

Its pilot studies with computer accounting for a limited number of Upper Peninsula and Lower Peninsula farmers have helped it develop TELFARM. The similarity of name with Telstar, the communications satellite, is marked and TELFARM is an augury of the future in farming just as surely as Telstar, bouncing TV programs from one hemisphere to another, is an augury of the future in communications.

Vote On Monday

Taxpayers of the Escanaba Area School District should vote on Monday on the proposal to bond for $270,000 to build a new Franklin School in Escanaba. The bonds would be retired over a period of 16 years with a tax of 45 cents per $1,000 of valuation (0.45 mill.)

The Escanaba Daily Press believes that the proposal is modest and proper and should be supported. It recommends a Yes vote as within the means of the community and providing another educational benefit.

The Press opposes the plea of the Delta County Taxpayers Association for a vote of no confidence in the Escanaba Area Board of Education by defeat of the bonding proposal. The board are the people's elected representatives in school government and mindful of the difficulties of paying taxes, but also mindful of the community's needs for education and of what is possible and desirable.

Unfortunately the issue has been so belabored that it emerges as a test of confidence between the electorate's representatives and their critics and this situation should leave citizens little choice if they respect the processes of democratic government.

Finding The Way

By RALPH W. LOEW, D. D.

A recent performance of Albee's play "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" presented a dramatic example of the use of profanity and obscenity to reveal a situation. No one could see the play without becoming involved. The characters are memorable for their obvious emptiness. Here is a revelation of life as a tragic farce. It is also obvious that after the first act the profanity becomes meaningless, the obscenities repetitive and the lewd gestures merely caricatures.

This is the problem of all profanity. It becomes the emphais of emptiness.

The affront to the name of God and the indignity to holiness is important, but it is only one of the essential problems.

It is the meaningless word, the draining of exactness from semantics which is also sinful. In a time when we demand scientific exactitude, by what moral right do we justify a verbal barbarism?

Another part of the profanity is its abhorrence of man himself. Today's drama, television plays and much of its literature treat man as though he is only a sick animal. There's plenty of evidence to be dredged up to prove the case. As one of Albee's characters said, "I disgust me."

Yet realism is not only the statement of the illness: it is also the statement of the human possibilities and the power to redeem. This is what is missing from so much of contemporary life. In the rush from sentimentalism, we become dreary in our profaning of the very nature of man. You would never guess that man could be a channel of the power and love of God!

Goodness is not just a kind of mouthing of piety. Jesus said that many who say "Lord, Lord" were only indulging in a kind of profanity. He reiterated the insistence of Amos that God hated the solemn assemblies and the pious rites when there is no accompanying commitment to a way of life.

If we fight to keep "In God We Trust" on our coins and then try to keep God imprisoned on our money, we engage in a kind of profanity.

If we get disturbed about the denial of prayer in our schools and then have no moments of prayer in our homes, that too is a kind of immorality.

If we permit gradual erosion of honor in speech and accuracy in language, we lose the tools of holiness.

The playwrights and the novelists underscore the meaninglessness of profanity by their obscene reiteration. That should send us back into the daily round in these pre-Christmas weeks praying, "Let the words of my mouth and the meditations of my heart be acceptable in Thy sight, O Lord, my Rock and my Redeemer."

Edson In Washington

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — It's a brand new ball game for the GOP.

The Republicans had their campaign all planned around the theme of "Retire the Kennedys in 1964." The trade mark was three empty rocking chairs for Jack, Bobby and Teddy.

There was a regional GOP strategy conference going on in St. Louis on the Nov. 22 weekend. When news of President Kennedy's assassination became known during the lunch hour, the banners and posters were hauled down immediately, the rocking chairs dragged out of the hotel lobby, and the conference folded.

GOP National Committee Chairman William E. Miller's 30-day moratorium on politics during the period of mourning will probably run a little longer. Congress will—it hopes—adjourn before Dec. 22. No one wants to talk politics during the Christmas holidays.

But it will be politics as usual—only more so—after Congress comes back to town Jan. 2.

Canceled Republican National Committee, Finance Committee and State Chairmen's meetings originally scheduled for Minneapolis Dec. 11-14 have been reset for Washington's Mayflower hotel Jan. 8-9.

This will be largely a session on arrangements for the GOP national convention in San Francisco July 13. It is expected that Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin will be named chairman of the Resolutions Committee which will write the 1964 GOP platform. He was vice chairman in 1960 and chairman of the 1962 Republican restatement of policy group.

★ ★ ★

The Republican '64 campaign will be formally launched Jan. 29—without an agreed-upon candidate. GOP National Committee is holding "G-Day" rallies that night in 26 principal U. S. cities.

They will be $100-a-plate dinners, only anyone who wants to pay more for his meal will be encouraged to do so. National Committee hopes to raise $2 million. In 1960, with 60 dinners and Nixon, they raised $4 million.

All the 1964 candidates, favorite sons and remote long shots will be put on the air by closed-circuit television. Gen. Eisenhower will be in Detroit, Nixon in New York, Rockefeller in Los Angeles, Goldwater in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania's Gov. Scranton in Indianapolis, Michigan's Gov. Romney at the Sheraton-Park in Washington, D C.

By Jan. 29 all of Democratic President Johnson's important policy messages will have been delivered to Congress. It will be known what he stands for and where. If the target he presents is exactly the same as the Kennedy program, the GOP will have something to shoot at and will start shooting.

★ ★ ★

GOP assessments of Republican presidential possibilities and their chances generally concede that Sen. Barry Goldwater has lost some strength because he personified anti-Kennedyism, which is now a lost issue.

Anti-Goldwater Republicans maintain he no longer has a chance. His main strength was in the South where he had 303 of the 655 GOP convention delegates needed for the nomination. The contention is that southern Democrats who might have voted Republican against Kennedy will support Johnson.

There are all kinds of rumors floating around Washington that Goldwater is getting ready to pull out. Most of this is wishful thinking or guessing.

Draft Goldwater headquarters in Washington is working harder than ever. The senator's own office shows no signs of retreat. And it has become known that shortly after the Kennedy funeral, Goldwater had a session with Leonard Hall in New York, asking him to become Goldwater campaign manager. It didn't go through.

★ ★ ★

New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller's stock has shown no perceptible rise. The consensus is that most women won't vote for him because of his divorce and marriage to a divorcee.

Gov. Scranton's weakness is that he isn't known. "Walk him down any main street outside of Harrisburg, Pa.," says one GOP leader, "and nobody would recognize him."

Nixon is the real dark horse. One shrewd comment on him is that, "If he had just known Rockefeller was going to get a divorce and if he just hadn't run for governor of California and taken such a beating, today he'd have it made."

Lake Levels At 1933 Lows

DETROIT (AP) — The water level has dropped in Lakes Michigan and Huron to the all-time low December water mark of 30 years ago, the Army Corps of Engineers said.

Surface water levels in the two Great Lakes stood at 575.82 feet—equalling a record set in 1933. Both lakes—which always stand at identical levels—are 10 inches below their levels a year ago. They dropped four inches in the past month.

Lake Erie, at 568.52 feet, is a foot below last year's level and 11 inches above the all-time low for December, which was recorded in 1934. Lake Ontario is 11 inches down and 23 above the all-time low for December, recorded in 1934.

Lake Superior was the only one to match last year's level, at 600.22 feet. This is 14 inches above the 1925 all-time low. Water in the largest of the Great Lakes dropped two inches in the past 30 days.

Lake St. Clair is down to 571.37 feet — a foot below last year's level and only three inches above the low recorded in 1925. It dropped three inches since a month ago.

Kelley Suggests Tax Break For Pollution Aid

Michigan Attorney General Frank J. Kelley has suggested that state industries be given an accelerated tax break for constructing their own waste processing plants.

Addressing directors of Michigan United Conservation Clubs at Detroit, Kelley said such a move would help eliminate many water pollution problems and would serve to keep pollution control as a state responsibility.

"The government for years has offered inducements to persons and industries to perform public interest services either by subsidy or tax reductions," he said. "The government should provide accelerated amortization benefits to encourage the installation of pollution control works."

Kelley pointed out that some industries do not offer their wastes to local municipalities and in many instances municipalities refuse to accept them.

In such instances, he said, the industry is forced to discharge its wastes directly into the receiving waters or to shoulder the entire cost of treatment.

Two bills which would provide tax deductions for industrial construction of waste treatment works, HR 5167 and HR 5849, were introduced in this session of Congress.

The alternative to such a proposal in attempting to solve critical water pollution problems, Kelley warned, could be a complete federal takeover of pollution control authority. The Supreme Court, he noted, has ruled that state authority is null and void in fields preempted by federal action.

Letters To The Press

FORD RIVER VOTE

On Monday the taxpayers within the area will vote on replacement of the Franklin School. There is no doubt that the construction of a new Franklin School is a must for the welfare and better education of the children involved. Every taxpayer should consider it his moral obligation to vote yes on the proposition.

At the presentation of this important issue, it may very well be the proper time for the rest of the people of the school system to become aware of the situation that faces the taxpayers of Ford River Township. At the present time these people are paying for the new Ford River School and will be for a long time to come, while it is the just obligation of the other taxpayers of the school system to share equally in the payment of this debt through debt consolidation.

Although the people of the area were asked repeatedly to vote for consolidation of the Ford River school debt, thereby bringing about an equal burden for all of the taxpayers of the Escanaba Area School system, instead the majority of them turned it down. Now the people of Ford River Township are being asked to assume the added burden of paying for a new school in the system without relief of this debt which should be shared by all.

It is my belief that it is the responsibility of the school board as representatives of the people to explore every means available to bring about equality by consolidation of the debt as soon as possible.

I sincerely hope that the people of Ford River Township although they may rightfully have the feeling that they are "being taken," will vote "Yes" for a new Franklin School Monday. This should be done in a demonstration of faith that the rest of the people of the school system will live up to their promise of equality.

John L. Oberg
Ford River

Editor's note: In the last election the question of mutual assumption of Ford River's debt carried in 4 Escanaba City precincts and lost in 5, but carried the total vote in the city 912 to 566.

Supporting millage for this debt assumption carried 3 city precincts and lost in 6, but only lost the total city vote by 9 votes, 845 to 854. Ford River's "No" vote of 67 votes, if it had been "Yes" would have carried the whole Escanaba Area School District by 19 votes.

TAXPAYERS ASSN.

Although we have answered by radio the questions asked us by the school administration I have been advised by our Association Board to also answer by the same means in which they were asked. Therefore this letter.

In Monday's Press—in a long article—the school board questioned several statements made by us and also made two specific requests.

First, that we tell them where there are classrooms less than 26 x 26 with 45 students. We only checked one school, the Holy Name High School, and found plenty of them there. And actually room for more than 45. When we visited the school to measure the classrooms and count the desks, one of those entered was empty of students but the teaching nun was there.

We asked her how many students she had. She answered that she had 45 but that there was room for more than 45. She then added, 45 students makes just a nice class". Now understand, this statement was unsolicited and we didn't know each other.

As to the second request, statement No. 2 as to how many classrooms were previously needed, the school board need only refer to the press report of the first meeting of the new School Board which states that "Mr. Bright submitted the proposal for 8 classrooms for the Franklin site". We have further proof that 8 classrooms were adequate a month ago, but do not wish to publicly air this as it involves individuals. However, we will be willing to submit it privately to the Board.

When we pointed out in cold facts that it was no financial hardship to temporarily not have a Franklin School the School Board stated, "If we follow Mr. Gasman's line of reasoning, the way to save taxpayers the most money is to build no schools at all". To us this is a clear case of putting words into our mouth and is certainly irresponsible thinking.

As taxpayers, we have expressed an opinion based on facts and we feel that such an honest opinion should not be criticized by elected officials.

We should be working together as much as possible. Our aims are, or should be, substantially the same. We both want a good functional Franklin School for as little money as possible. After all, we represent at least a segment of the people that are paying the bill and should be given a chance to co-operate in solving the problem.

Just because we feel that the Franklin School can be built for less than proposed and also suggest a method of saving the hard-pressed taxpayers nearly $100,000 in interest, shouldn't be the signal to browbeat us.

As we said before, lets work together and try and get a good functional Franklin School for as little money as possible.

Delta County Taxpayer's Association
Harold Gasman, President

I'M PROVOKED

I have a two-fold reason for writing this letter.

First; the curtain has come down on "Oklahoma" and we will long remember the successful production. Well deserved plaudits have been given to the teachers and students.

However, I cannot recall that the orchestra has received its well deserved praise. They provided an overture, accompaniment, and fine background music. I looked at the names and noted how many were adults who freely gave hours and hours of their time to help make the musical a "hit". Their interest was apparent. I could not help but contrast this group with another working group in Escanaba.

This brings me to the second reason for this letter. The Delta County Taxpayers Association also spends hours and hours in work, but in destructive work. Since we moved to Escanaba, I have yet to see their support in the field of education. It is always "We're in favor, BUT".

The latest is "save interest money". I wonder if these DCTA leaders didn't go into debt when the vast amount of property they now own was being acquired. I mention only the leaders as somehow the membership names remain so secretive.

Most of us eligible voters own one piece of property: a home. The amount our taxes will be increased on the average won't be even close to what is spent on cigarettes, liquor, and entertainment by most people. Even with the increase to the big property owners, there will still be enough rental income for winters in Florida, trips to Europe, etc.

Perhaps I sound provoked. I am. It seems to me that the DCTA is doing a good job of fooling the people and of selling the children of Escanaba short.

Please do some honest and sincere thinking. We need a Franklin School now—not in 1968. I have no little children who will benefit from this, but I do have concern for all children and for their education.

Square-Rigger To Sail Lakes

DETROIT (AP) — A square-rigged Norwegian training ship will sail on a unique voyage up the St. Lawrence Seaway next summer, Joseph McCann, head of the Seaway Corp. said Thursday.

The voyage, sponsored by the International Association of Great Lakes Ports, will follow "Operation Sail" in which windjammers from a dozen nations will meet in New York in connection with the World's Fair. The trip is planned for next August.

The Seaway Corp. received unofficial word of the trip from Harry Neilsen of the Norwegian Seamen's Welfare Society, McCann said.

McCann first came up with the idea, but passed it on to the ports association for action. Louis Purdey, Toledo-Lucas County port director and president of the association, extended the original invitation.

The original plan was for three ships to make the trip, which will mark the fifth anniversary of the opening of the seaway. It also marks the 30th anniversary of the first foreign commercial service into the Great Lakes, he said.

No itinerary has been worked out yet, but Chicago, Detroit and Toledo are definite ports of call for the cadet-mannned sailing ship.

Both Israel And Jordan Will Be Visited By Pope

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican Press Office confirmed that Pope Paul VI will visit both Israel and Jordan on his Holy Land pilgrimage in January.

It had been generally assumed that he would go both to Arab Jordan and Jewish Israel, but the Vatican had not said so until today. Its confirmation came in a "note to journalists" issued at the Vatican Press Office to guide newsmen planning to cover the Jan. 4-6 pilgrimage. It said:

"Authorities of the two states in which the pilgrimage will be made have promised ample cooperation and help to journalists."

The two states could only be Jordan and Israel.

Informed sources said earlier this week that the Pope would fly from Rome to Amman on Jan. 4, spend that day visiting holy sites in Jordan, and tour shrines in Israel the following day. The sources said he would return to Rome Jn. 6 after celebrating Mass at the Church of the Nativity in Bethlehem. The sources said the Pope would spend both nights at the Apostolic Delegation inside Jordan-held Jerusalem.

Discuss Plans For U-W Branch At Marinette

MENOMINEE — Members of the Menominee Board of Education this week heard a discussion of future plans for the Marinette branch of the University of Wisconsin.

He said he was hopeful the Wisconsin reciprocal arrangement can be worked out on tuition of Michigan students attending the Marinette 2-year college course. At present, the tuition to a Michigan enrollee is $1,000 a year or $500 a semester. By comparison, Wisconsin students pay $150 a semester.

Community Bus Service Barred By Restrictions

At a meeting Thursday night on a proposal for a community bus, the group agreed this could not be done due to legal restrictions.

If the school owns the bus, its use is restricted to students attending the school and to activities sponsored by the school, School Supt. Edwin E. Wuehle stated. If a community group owns it, rates must be set through the Michigan Public Services Commission, S. C. Gesko, Jr., city manager said.

Groups such as the Drum and Bugle Corps, Jobs Daughters and Scouts and school groups were interested in the possibility of a community bus.

The next step will be placing a proposal to buy a bus for school use, on the agenda for the next board of education meeting. The school would be the major user of the bus, for athletic, musical and educational events, along with field trips and other use, it was noted.

Terms Confuse Home Buyers

First-time home owners are often understandably confused by the many legal and technical real estate words and terms tossed around before and during purchases.

Even some of the most common words need clarification for those unfamiliar with property transactions. A real estate broker recently told us.

"I am constantly amazed at how many persons, considering the purchase of a house for the first time, do not have a clear idea of what a mortgage is."

A mortgage is simply an agreement in writing which gives the lender a lien upon a certain property as security for the payment of a specified debt. In this particular area, it says, in effect, that the mortgagee may take over the home if the buyer fails to keep up his payments. After the house has been sold, and the debt and the expenses deducted, the mortgagor (the person who obtained the loan) receives the balance, if any. When a mortgage is insured by the Federal Housing Administration, the lender is guaranteed that he will get back his money even if the sale of the house fails to return an amount equal to the loan.

A prepayment clause gives the mortgagor the right to pay his loan before it becomes due. Such clauses usually impose some kind of financial penalties for prepayments, but these are far less than the interest costs would be if the loan were paid according to the original terms.

Joint Tenancy is the ownership of real estate by two or more persons, each of whom has an undivided interest with the right of suvivorship. This latter phrase means that the surviving owner succeeds to the share of the deceased owner.

Tenancy by the Entirety is similar to Joint Tenancy except that it exists only between husband and wife, with equal right of possession as well as the right of survivorship.

Tenancy in Common is the ownership of real estate by two or more persons, each of whom has an individed interest. There is no right of survivorship

An open listing is the placement of your property with a number of brokers whereby the first to make the sale is entitled to the commission.

A multiple listing is the placement of your property with members of a Real Estate Board of Exchange whereby the commission on the sale is divided, usually between the broker who had the initial listing and the broker who makes the sale.

An exclusive listing is the placement of your property with a single broker for a specified period of time, during which period no one except him can receive the commission. In return for obtaining the exclusive rights, he is expected to devote extra time and attention to making a sale.

Gas Production Hits New High

LANSING (AP) — Michigan hit a new high in natural gas production this year but the oil yield was down from a year ago, says the State Conservation Department.

This year's gas production is estimated at 31 billion cubic feet, bettering the previous high in 1952 by about 15 per cent, department geologists estimate.

Michigan oil wells will be tapped for an estimated 16 million barrels by the end of the year, a decline of about 1.1 million barrels from last year.

House of the Week

Designed For Himself

TRADITIONAL SPLIT: Elements of contemporary styling blend with a charming arched portico, shuttered windows and other features of proven popularity to assure top resale value for this attractive four or five-bedroom home. A professional home builder worked with the architect to design the house for his own family.

A home builder with 20 years experience in his craft worked closely with an architect to design this home for himself.

Their combined know-how enabled them not only to satisfy the personal needs of the immediate owner but also to produce a design with the two important ingredients amateurs in the field have little way of recognizing: economy of construction and built-in resale value.

Building economy comes primarily from selecting a type of design—side-to-side split level—with a low cost per square foot ratio. The living and bedroom levels contain 2,280 square feet of living area, but beneath the raised, bedroom level is an additional 737 square feet of fully ventilated living area which otherwise would be basement space—and this doesn't even include the built-in garage.

Less obvious to the laymen are use of standard lumber lengths, stock pieces, stacked plumbing and other cost-cutting techniques known to some one with an intimate association with the home building industry.

Resale value results chiefly from the livable and functional layout of the house, plus its durable and low-maintenance materials, and style of architecture. Architect Rudolph A. Matern describes it as "transitional;" containing elements of today's uncluttered contemporary styling but also with features of proven popularity, such as the arched portico and shuttered windows, which will give it charm for years to come.

The house contains up to five bedrooms, arranged for a growing family. One of them has easy access to the master bedroom—ideal for a nursery during the early years of marriage, and which can be converted into a sitting room when the youngsters grow up and leave home.

Similarly, the fifth bedroom on the lower level can even become a rental apartment or professional office. It has its own private rear entrance.

Additional Details

Long experience taught this builder the practical value of a well designed main entry. Not only is the front door sheltered, but it leads to a vestibule with enormous closet space so that bulky overcoats, umbrellas, galoshes and all the rest can be shed before entering the house proper. If desired, the large closet could be converted into a lavatory.

The foyer thus is left free to perform its main function of funnelling traffic to any section of the house—formal living room, informal housekeeping area, bedrooms or recreation area—without any section having to be used as a passageway. It does this so efficiently that there is no need for a single foot of hall space on the main living level.

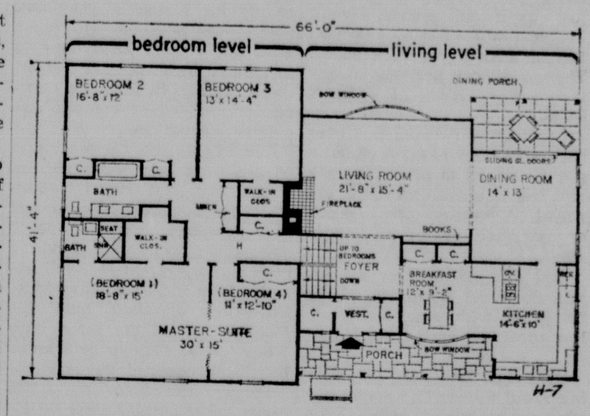
The kitchen is ideally placed in the front corner of the house, with the service entrance off the front portico. This is one of the most practical, step-saving features of the housekeeping area.

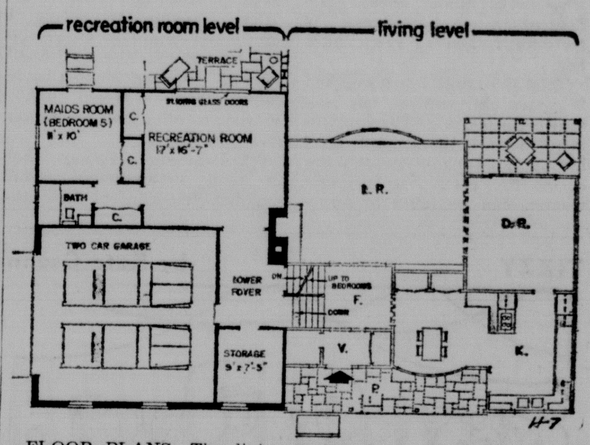
The ensemble of kitchen and breakfast room also is in keeping with today's informal pattern of living. The breakfast room, since it actually is used more than the formal dining room, is large, equipped with plenty of storage space, and even has a counter top. Work space in the kitchen also is more than ample.

All the bedrooms, both upstairs and down, are generously sized and there was no scrimping on the closets. The main bedroom walk-in closet is especially nice, with provision for clothes separation.

The family bath is large, with a six- foot tub and double lavatory. The master bath has a large shower, with a seat. And note that the downstairs bath is not just a lavatory, but is complete with a tub.

There is a basement beneath the living level for the furnace, laundry, work bench and storage, but even without it storage space is ample on the recreation room level. The storage room adjoining the garage offers more than 66 square feet.





FLOOR PLANS: The living and bedroom levels contains 2,280 square feet of living area; the lower level 737 square feet of bonus space not including the two-car garage. Note the abundance of closet and storage space on all levels of the house.

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The 1964 Kentucky General Assembly will be asked for stronger laws to help combat what has become a year-round forest fire threat in the state.

The state's fire control chief, H. W. Berckman, says his 30 years in the forestry division have convinced him that changing weather patterns have spread the forest fire threat throughout the year.

Ann Landers

Jolt For Queen

Dear Ann Landers: I have the squarest parents in this whole world. They don't understand that the creepy rules of 1930 are for the birds.

Yesterday they ruined my first teenage birthday. My boy friend, Steve, gave me a cool card with a $5 bill in it. We are real good friends and I have been dating him for a whole month. I thought this was very nice of Steve but my father almost had a cow. My mother yakked for two solid hours about "how crazy the kids are getting these days." Then they ordered me to give the $5 back to Steve.

Isn't that wild? I got other money gifts from my Aunt Ellen and Cousin Wayne. I don't have to give that money back. What's the difference? My folks can't give me a reason, they just say it isn't proper. I want to know why it isn't proper. Please answer in the paper. They said I can keep the money if you say it's O.K.—TEEN QUEEN

Dear Queen: It isn't proper because money is too personal a gift for a girl to accept from a boy friend unless they are engaged. A money gift suggests an extremely chummy relationship.

And I've got another jolt for you, Babe. At 13 you should not be going with any boy much less accepting cash from him.

★ ★ ★

Dear Ann Landers: I'm writing about a very fine young girl who works in our office. She dresses in excellent taste, is soft-spoken and everyone likes her.

This girl can't be more than 25 years old, yet she has several teeth missing. These prominent gaps in her mouth spoil her looks. I can't for the life of me figure out how a young woman can be blind to something so apparent to others. She spends a lot of money on her hair and her wardrobe, but she neglects her teeth. Can you explain it? Is there a tactful way to get her to do something?—APPALLED

Dear Appalled: The young woman is probably afraid to go to the dentist because she fears the pain.

You may be able to help her by suggesting that she see YOUR dentist who is "competent, reasonable and very gentle." If she doesn't respond, give up. But you'll at least know you did your best.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm 17 and a high school senior who would appreciate some help from you on how to break up with a very nice fellow. We've been going steady for almost a year and now I want to go out with other guys but I don't know how to tell Pete. He's so crazy about me I'm afraid he'll have a nervous breakdown or commit suicide or something.

Ten of my very closest girl friends were here last night for a hen-party and they all offered suggestions on how to tell Pete good-bye. None of their suggestions were very good. I need a really great farewell because Pete is the sensitive type. I'd rather die than hurt his feelings, but at the same time I have to be firm so he'll know he's been chopped for good.

Please, Ann, throw me a life saver.—SOFT-HEARTED SUE

Dear Madame Pompadour: I can't understand how a girl who calls herself "Soft-Hearted Sue" could be so insensitive to a boy's feelings that she would invite ten girls to offer suggestions on how to unload him.

Tell Pete straight-away that the steady arrangement is off and that you want to date others. I guarantee he'll live. In fact he may even have his next girl all picked out.

The best-dressed tables in the country will tour major department stores this winter. Imaginative flower centerpieces include this one with an Oriental accent.

Dress Up Your Table

By KAY SHERWOOD
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

For many homemakers, setting the table is not just a chore preceding dinner but a creative endeavor. I know several gals who delight in creating different artistic effects with table appointments, often for the enjoyment of a foursome or simply the family.

The hobby is hard on cupboard space, one young homemaker warns me. She says she is constantly on the lookout for the color, texture or shape in accessories you think you need — and the result is a kitchen cupboard brimming with "props."

To give recognition to this art form, a national promotion was held through department stores to find the best-dressed tables. Under the auspices of the Table Fashion Institute, the 10 top winners will tour the country this fall and winter.

The two mentioned here were selected because I thought they could give some of us who are not so gifted a few adaptable ideas. The centerpieces, for example, can be duplicated by a Florist Telegraph Delivery floral arranger. This national outfit supplied the winners with theirs and have passed the formulas around.

The table pictured has an Oriental accent. It comes from southern California and makes good use of seasonal flowers (a thought, if you're dreaming of holiday parties).

For this, you start with a well-polished table. Set with pastel linen mats and napkins, add traditional flatware and green - banded china. The places are set on either side of the centerpiece which defies traditional rules and rises high enough to block some of the guests' views of each other.

Pale yellow spider mums and tiny cattails in a triangular arrangement are placed in a low dark dish and filled in at the base with green succulent plants. As a finishing touch, the designer nestled a jade figure in the leaves.

Another highly rated table is a buffet created by a New Orleans homemaker. She combines a white linen overcloth with a moss green velvet undercloth. On this goes plain patterned silver, smoky stemmed goblets and covered soup dishes (soup's on the menu).

The centerpiece is a high rising affair with four tall candlesticks of different lengths with the base a cluster of red and white onions (yes, onions). A spire of pale green orchids grows out of the base.

If this were a New Orleans supper, the suggested menu would include onion soup, brioches, champagne and black coffee.

With Our Women

Zola Beauchamp

A woman of diversified talents is Mrs. Zola M. Beauchamp of 413 S. 10th St., Gladstone, teacher and housewife.

Mrs. Beauchamp was born in Foosland, Ill., May 3, 1911, a daughter of Myrtle Womeldorff and Middleton Daniel Wolfe. She was graduated from Lincoln High School, Webster City, Iowa, and moved from that city to Brampton in Michigan's Upper Peninsula. She attended Delta County Normal in Escanaba, completed work from Central Michigan University, Michigan State University and the University of Michigan. She received her B. S. degree from Northern Michigan University, with honors, majoring in Home Economics, in 1953 and continuing her education, received her M. A. in June of this year from the same school.

In high school she was a member of Future Teachers Club and spent half days assisting the kindergarten teacher in the Webster city schools. She was on the high school annual staff and was chosen "Best All Around Girl" of her graduating class.

Mrs. Beauchamp was first associated with Selkirk Studio in Escanaba where she tinted photos to provide funds for her studies. She taught three years in Brampton Township Schools before her marriage, was fifth grade teacher in Rapid River School four and a half years and then joined the staff of Gladstone Public schools, where presently she is teaching first grade.

Her marriage to Exior Beauchamp of Perkins took place June 7, 1933, and they have three sons, Dr. Roger G. Beauchamp, Gladstone, Norman D., who is attending the University of Detroit School of Law, and Wendell L., a student at Northern Michigan University.

Many Activities

She served as president of the Gladstone Teachers Club and later was first president of Gladstone M. E. A. Chapter, served two years as county delegate to the M. E. A. Representative Assembly, Lansing, is a member of N. E. A., and of the Child's Welfare Club. She belongs to All Saints Catholic Church and was a member of Gladstone Golf Club several years.

She also was a 4-H Club leader in Michigan 14 years, Delta County Extension chairman, U. P. secretary for Extension, a local extension leader in Kipling area, member of Delta Co. School Board Members Association, is secretary-treasurer of the organization at present, by appointment, and she served as secretary-treasurer for Brampton Township Schools 12 years. In 1944 she received a citation from the United States Treasury Department in appreciation of services in behalf of the War Finance Program.

Mrs. Beauchamp's hobbies are as varied as her career activities. They include creativity in sewing, flower arrangments, etc., writing lyrics and songs, plays for children, in general, all activities pertaining to art. She has won ten national contests. At present she is designing a wrought iron family tree for the mantle at home.

4-H Motto

"From early childhood I wanted to be a teacher," Mrs. Beauchamp said. "While my sons were in high school I continued by college education. It was not easy, but with a firm determination to fulfill the necessary requirements and thanks to an understanding husband, I managed.

"I believe the 4-H motto, 'To Make the Best Better', has been a part of my life philosophy. As I work with people and especially little children, I try to find their best qualities, then develop them to their fullest extent. Yet, I do not forget the weaker qualities for often, a mere word of encouragement, a smile or individual attention does wonders.

"The reward for teaching," she continued, "lies not in the pay check but in the satisfaction of looking back, following through with the children I once taught and enjoying the progress they make along with them. To meet my former pupils and have them greet me also is rewarding, especially when I have not seen them for several years.

"I have always enjoyed articles written by Angelo Patri," she concluded, "and I have collected them throughout the years. My favorite is entitled "I Must' and to quote: 'I must work to my full power. I have a lot of it. The more I use it, the more I shall have and the bigger and stronger and brighter I shall become. Nobody can do my growing for me. I must work hard and do that for myself.'"

The best-dressed tables in the country will tour major department stores this winter. Imaginative flower centerpieces include this one with an Oriental accent.

Dress Up Your Table

By KAY SHERWOOD
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

For many homemakers, setting the table is not just a chore preceding dinner but a creative endeavor. I know several gals who delight in creating different artistic effects with table appointments, often for the enjoyment of a foursome or simply the family.

The hobby is hard on cupboard space, one young homemaker warns me. She says she is constantly on the lookout for the color, texture or shape in accessories you think you need — and the result is a kitchen cupboard brimming with "props."

To give recognition to this art form, a national promotion was held through department stores to find the best-dressed tables. Under the auspices of the Table Fashion Institute, the 10 top winners will tour the country this fall and winter.

The two mentioned here were selected because I thought they could give some of us who are not so gifted a few adaptable ideas. The centerpieces, for example, can be duplicated by a Florist Telegraph Delivery floral arranger. This national outfit supplied the winners with theirs and have passed the formulas around.

The table pictured has an Oriental accent. It comes from southern California and makes good use of seasonal flowers (a thought, if you're dreaming of holiday parties).

For this, you start with a well-polished table. Set with pastel linen mats and napkins, add traditional flatware and green - banded china. The places are set on either side of the centerpiece which defies traditional rules and rises high enough to block some of the guests' views of each other.

Pale yellow spider mums and tiny cattails in a triangular arrangement are placed in a low dark dish and filled in at the base with green succulent plants. As a finishing touch, the designer nestled a jade figure in the leaves.

Another highly rated table is a buffet created by a New Orleans homemaker. She combines a white linen overcloth with a moss green velvet undercloth. On this goes plain patterned silver, smoky stemmed goblets and covered soup dishes (soup's on the menu).

The centerpiece is a high rising affair with four tall candlesticks of different lengths with the base a cluster of red and white onions (yes, onions). A spire of pale green orchids grows out of the base.

If this were a New Orleans supper, the suggested menu would include onion soup, brioches, champagne and black coffee.

With Our Women

Zola Beauchamp

A woman of diversified talents is Mrs. Zola M. Beauchamp of 413 S. 10th St., Gladstone, teacher and housewife.

Mrs. Beauchamp was born in Foosland, Ill., May 3, 1911, a daughter of Myrtle Womeldorff and Middleton Daniel Wolfe. She was graduated from Lincoln High School, Webster City, Iowa, and moved from that city to Brampton in Michigan's Upper Peninsula. She attended Delta County Normal in Escanaba, completed work from Central Michigan University, Michigan State University and the University of Michigan. She received her B. S. degree from Northern Michigan University, with honors, majoring in Home Economics, in 1953 and continuing her education, received her M. A. in June of this year from the same school.

In high school she was a member of Future Teachers Club and spent half days assisting the kindergarten teacher in the Webster city schools. She was on the high school annual staff and was chosen "Best All Around Girl" of her graduating class.

Mrs. Beauchamp was first associated with Selkirk Studio in Escanaba where she tinted photos to provide funds for her studies. She taught three years in Brampton Township Schools before her marriage, was fifth grade teacher in Rapid River School four and a half years and then joined the staff of Gladstone Public schools, where presently she is teaching first grade.

Her marriage to Exior Beauchamp of Perkins took place June 7, 1933, and they have three sons, Dr. Roger G. Beauchamp, Gladstone, Norman D., who is attending the University of Detroit School of Law, and Wendell L., a student at Northern Michigan University.

Many Activities

She served as president of the Gladstone Teachers Club and later was first president of Gladstone M. E. A. Chapter, served two years as county delegate to the M. E. A. Representative Assembly, Lansing, is a member of N. E. A., and of the Child's Welfare Club. She belongs to All Saints Catholic Church and was a member of Gladstone Golf Club several years.

She also was a 4-H Club leader in Michigan 14 years, Delta County Extension chairman, U. P. secretary for Extension, a local extension leader in Kipling area, member of Delta Co. School Board Members Association, is secretary-treasurer of the organization at present, by appointment, and she served as secretary-treasurer for Brampton Township Schools 12 years. In 1944 she received a citation from the United States Treasury Department in appreciation of services in behalf of the War Finance Program.

Mrs. Beauchamp's hobbies are as varied as her career activities. They include creativity in sewing, flower arrangments, etc., writing lyrics and songs, plays for children, in general, all activities pertaining to art. She has won ten national contests. At present she is designing a wrought iron family tree for the mantle at home.

4-H Motto

"From early childhood I wanted to be a teacher," Mrs. Beauchamp said. "While my sons were in high school I continued by college education. It was not easy, but with a firm determination to fulfill the necessary requirements and thanks to an understanding husband, I managed.

"I believe the 4-H motto, 'To Make the Best Better', has been a part of my life philosophy. As I work with people and especially little children, I try to find their best qualities, then develop them to their fullest extent. Yet, I do not forget the weaker qualities for often, a mere word of encouragement, a smile or individual attention does wonders.

"The reward for teaching," she continued, "lies not in the pay check but in the satisfaction of looking back, following through with the children I once taught and enjoying the progress they make along with them. To meet my former pupils and have them greet me also is rewarding, especially when I have not seen them for several years.

"I have always enjoyed articles written by Angelo Patri," she concluded, "and I have collected them throughout the years. My favorite is entitled "I Must' and to quote: 'I must work to my full power. I have a lot of it. The more I use it, the more I shall have and the bigger and stronger and brighter I shall become. Nobody can do my growing for me. I must work hard and do that for myself.'"

Studebaker Change To Canada Stirs Memories

By JEAN WORTH

American businessmen will regret the closeing of Studebaker Corp.'s auto making operation at South Bend, Ind., and auto buffs will mourn.

Studebaker has been making wheeled vehicles in America for more than a century. Now its dealers in the Upper Peninsula are wondering just what the exact arrangement will be between them and the corporation for Studebaker cars assembled in the company's Canadian plant at Hamilton, Ontario.

U. P. dealers say they'll be selling Studebakers made in Canada, but that the fine print on sales policy hasn't been written yet because import duties will be dependent upon tariff determinations that will be affected by the proportion of the car still to be made at South Bend.

While Studebaker's car business in the United States has been dwindling, it's Canadian branch business has been increasing. The modern Hamilton works were a general export point for Studebaker cars as well as a supply source for the Canadian market.

Company Diversifies

Auto making was 73 per cent of Studebaker's business when Sherwood H. Egbert became company president in 1961, but he diversified and auto making is now only half of the firm's business. It lost $9.8 million in the first 9 months of this year.

With the introduction of its Lark, Studebaker regained sales in 1959 but when the Big 3 went into compacts it trended down again. It has been selling 75 to 90 cars a year in the Escanaba area, reports Bero Motors, the local agent.

Two blacksmith brothers, Henry and Clem Studebaker, founded the Studebaker wagon works in 1852 in South Bend and the firm is the only one in the automobile business that predates the advent of the auto. The Studebakers made only three wagons in their first year of business, but three other brothers, John, Peter and Jacob joined the firm and it grew steadily and Studebaker wagons became a standard for farm, livery and private use. The Studebakers turned out a lot of prairie schooners to help win the West.

Wagon Works

Their wagon works became one of the biggest in the country and from 1902 on they were also making the new fangled vehicles called automobiles.

The first recorded automobile to visit the Upper Peninsula was a Winton motor carriage which took two weeks to run from Cleveland to Marquette in August of 1899.

It used "common stove gasoline" for fuel, could attain speeds up to 15 miles an hour and carry enough fuel for a day's run of "over 75 miles over ordinarily fair roads. The car can be run forward or backward."

Douff F. Poyer, of Menominee, was the Upper Peninsula's first automobile dealer. Earlier he had been an employment agent and a dealer in bicycles and he kept up the bike business in the early auto period in fear it was a fad. He advertised in 1904 that he would handle "the best line of automobiles and touring cars in the Upper Peninsula: Packard, Winton, Locomobile, Cadillac, Rambler, Knox and Oldsmobile. In connection with the repository, Mr. Foyer will conduct an automobile livery."

Every Morning Fix

In 1910 Poyer had his most successful year up to that time and sold 44 automobiles. In 1911 was advertised in the U. P.: "the first family tourist car in motor car manufacturing history offered for less than $1,000." It was the Maxwell Maschotte for $980.

In 1913 the Dudley Bug, only automobile made in the Upper Peninsula (it was a cycle car) was offered for sale. It was made by the Dudley Tool Co., in Menominee.

The first Studebaker car listed in the Roll Call of Horseless Carriages of the Automobile Club of Michigan was the Studebaker Electric in 1902. The Studebaker was offered in 1904, the Studebaker-E. M. F. in 1909 and the Studebaker-Garford in a period not reported.

The E. M. F. will be remembered by older, broken-arm crankers as the Everett-Mitchell-Flanders, or, more commonly, "Every Morning Fix."

Only The S's

To indicate the great numbers — hundreds and hundreds — of makes of American automobiles which have emerged and died, here's part of the "S" listing from the roll call:

Saginaw, Salsbury, Motorcycle, Salter, Salvador, Sampson, Sandlow, Sanford Sandusgy, Santos Dumont, Savage, Sawyer, Saxon, Sayer, Sayers & Scotville, Schacht, Schaum, Schleicher, Schlosser, Schloening Schmader, Schwartz, Scott, Scott-Newcomb Steam, Scripps, Scripps-Booth, Seabrook, Seagrave, Searchmont, Sears Motor Buggy (There was a Daisy — 1906!)

Sebring, Sekine, Selden, Sellers, Senator, Seneca, Serpentina, Serrifile, Seven Little Buffaloes, Severin, S. G. Gay, S. G V., Sha, Shad-Wick, Shain, Sharon, Sharp-Arrow, Shelby, Sheridan, Shoemaker, Sibley, Sibley - Curtis, Sigma, Signal, Signet, Silent, Silent Knight, Silver Knight.

Simms 4, Simonds Steam Wagon Simmons, Simplex, Simplex-Crane, Simplicity, Simplo, Sinclair-Scott, Singer, Single Center, Sintz, S. J. R., Skelton Skene, S&M, Smith, Smith & Mabley, Smith Spring Motor, S N. Snyder, Sommer, Sonles, South Bend, Southern, Southern Six, Sovereign, Spacke, Spartan, Spaulding, Special, Speedway, Speedwell, Spencer, Spencer-Stearns, Sterling, Sperry Sphinx, Spiller, Spoerer, Sprague, Springer, Springfield,

More S's

S. S. E., Stafford, Stammobile, Standard, Standard 8, Standard Electrique, Standard Steamer, Stanhope, Stanley, Stanley Steamer, Stanley-Whitney, Stanton-Steam, Stanwood, Star, Starin, States, Static Super-Cooled, Staver, Steamobile, Steam Vehicle, Stearns, Stearns Knight, Stearns Steam Car, Steco, Steel Swallow, Stegeman, Steinhart - Jensen, Stein - Koenig, Steinmetz, Stephens.

Sterling, Sterling Knight, Sternberg, Stetson, Stevens-Duryea, Stewart, Stewart-Coates, Stickey Motorette, Stilson Stoddard Knight, Storck, Storms, Stoughton, Stout Scarab, Strathmore, Stratton, Stratton - Premier, Streater, Stringer Steam, Strobel & Martin, Strong and Rogers, Strouse Steam,, Strauss, Sturges, Sturtevant, Stutz, Stutz H. C., Stuyvesant, Suburban, Success, Sultan, Summit, Sun, Sunset, Superior, Super Steamer, Supreme Sweany Steam Carriage, Synnestvedt, Syracuse.

Menazipe Perron, who had made a tidy fortune in the sawmill business and given his name to the community of Perronville in Menominee County, built a handsome garage building to house the Studebaker agency in Escanaba. The building now houses the Upper Peninsula office and warehouse of the Michigan Liquor Commission.

South Bend Loss

The Studebaker came back into civilian production after World War II with a radically restyled car. It was the first of the "Which is the front?" cars and some of the unkind drivers who had called Fords "Tin Lizzies" said that Studebaker should have stuck to making wagons. But the styling became popular and is a continuing influence in auto design today.

Car buffs hope that, as with Britain, "there'll always be a Studebaker," but it will come from Canada with the change, although substantially made in the United States. If there hadn't been a change of government in Canada the wags would be calling them not Studebakers but "Diefenbakers" but political change has spared them that fate.

In South Bend there's been disappointment, of course, but no economic panic. Studebaker was once South Bend's chief economic unitl, but even with 7,000 jobs it's now only providing 3 per cent of the city's payroll.

Boy Car Thieves Rounded Up; Only One Can Drive

ATLANTA (AP)—Police have rounded up a gang of 21 youngsters—only one of whom said he could drive—in connection with the theft of at leatt 50 automobiles.

Detectives reported Thursday that 18 of the cars have been recovered but all were wrecked.

A 14-year-old who boasted he could drive, officers said, caused a three-car wreck Wednesday night and fled the scene. Others of the group worked in teams of three with one operating the gas pedal, another the gearshift and a third steering.

More people get more news from newspapers than from all other sources combined.

Oil Operator Evades Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

Oil and taxes: Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., pressing for reforms in tax laws, told the Senate Thursday of an oil operator with an income of $28,716,932 in 1960 who "paid not one single cent in federal income taxes for that year."

He was one of six oil millionaires who Douglas said paid little or no 1960 taxes according to treasury records. Doublas mentioned no names.

"This is an unjust and outrageous situation," he declared. "This is the result of the numerous loopholes and truckholes in our tax laws and particularly those which favor oil and gas.

Taft-Goldwater: Rep. Robert A. Taft, R-Ohio, declared Thursday he would be happy to run for the Senate on a Republican ticket headed by Barry Goldwater.

When Taft announced his candidacy for the Republican senatorial nomination last Friday, he was quoted as saying that a Goldwater - led national GOP ticket "would make it difficult" for his own campaign in Ohio.

"This was inaccurate and not stated by me," the son of the late Mr. Republican said in a statement.

Job bias: President Johnson told a meeting of 64 business executives Thursday that "no one should be exploited because he is a member of a minority group, and no one should be denied employment because he is a member of a minority group."

He said the only consideration should be "merit and ability."

The executives were called to the White House to hear an explanation of a program to eliminate discrimination in hiring.

Mrs. Kennnedy: Mrs. Jacqueline Kennnedy intends to observe a full year of mourning for her late husband and will make no public engagements, her press secretary announced Thursday.

The statement was presumably aimed at scotching reports she may take a hand in next year's presidential campaign.

There had been published reports that Mrs. Kennedy had advised President Johnson she would play any role he might her to in the 1964 campaign.

LIGHT FOR SUB

URBANA, Ohio (AP)—Nuclear submarines now are using an ani-collision beacon originally designed for aircraft.

The warning light is necessary because usually only the conning tower "sail" of nuclear subs is above water when they are surfaced. Grames Manufacturing Co., which makes many kinds of lights for aircraft, adapted the warning light. It is not used when the sub is submerged.

This is not and is under no circumstances to be construed as an offer to sell, or as an offer to buy, or as a solicitation of an offer to buy, any of the securities herein mentioned. The offering is made only by the Prospectus.

In Memoriam

Johnson

In loving memory of our beloved son and brother James Johnson, who passed away one year ago today, December 15, 1962.

He little thought when leaving home
He would return no more
That he in death so soon would sleep
And leave us here to mourn
We do not know what pain he bore
We did not see him die
We only know he passed away
And could not say goodby

Sadly Missed By Mr. and Mrs Albin Johnson & Family

In Memoriam

Johnson

In loving memory of our beloved son and brother James Johnson, who passed away one year ago today, December 15, 1962.

He little thought when leaving home
He would return no more
That he in death so soon would sleep
And leave us here to mourn
We do not know what pain he bore
We did not see him die
We only know he passed away

Soo Looks For Gains In 1964

The third year of operation for the new Soo Line Railroad is shaping into a satisfactory year from several points of view, reports Leonard H. Murray. "The company continues to show evidence of its potential and its ability to compete successfully for business. Unless conditions which surround and, in many respects influence, the Soo's operations change unexpectedly, the year 1964 should also reflect these factors," said Murray.

Soo has been able, so far this year, to increase its levels of expenditure for maintenance and for the acquisition of modern machinery, freight cars and locomotives. In 1962 the new Soo paid its first dividend, 60 cents per share, and cleared up all arrearages of mortgage bond interest, amounting to $1,476,147, from pre-merger years.

"On the whole, prospects are that 1964 should be a satisfactory business year," said Murray. "I believe that the railroad industry including the Soo will expand its participation in the nation's economic activity.

"The cost of physical distribution is the second or third largest cost factor in most American businesses. Physical distribution costs are coming under far more intense scrutiny as stronger pressures come to bear on industrial profits. The railroads are responding and must respond to such pressures if they are to retain and expand their competitive position.

In rolling equipment, the Soo's expenditures during 1963 were approximately $7.5 million. Of this amount, $4 million went for 22 higher-horsepower locomotives with which the greater portion of the fleet of mainline trains was re-equipped. These 22 locomotive units are doing the work of 33 of our former units.

"In freight cars, 247 new cars were delivered. Most of them were designed with the particular requirements of specific loads or types of lading in mind. Many were, in fact, designed in conjunction with shippers so that shippers' costs related to rail haul, but other than the freight rates, could be reduced. The year's acquisitions were 60 insulated box cars, 80 custom-equipped non-insulated box cars, 15 Airslide bulk commodity hopper cars, 10 gondola cars for steel billets, 20 gondola cars for general-purpose loading, 15 refrigerator cars, and 47 flat cars of five types, 10 of which are equipped for piggyback service.

Expenditures for maintenance of track were increased substantially in 1963. Heavier rail was installed at several points, and better ballast in greater amounts was placed in the track. The Soo's growing fleet of semiautomatic roadway maintenance machines was augmented with several highly sophisticated machines including a $66,000 automated ballast tamper. An 80-mile extension of the Soo's centralized traffic control system was begun to bring all train movements between Chicago and Fond du Lac directly under the dispatcher's supervision.

"Customer-service aspects of the Soo's operations were improved in several ways. In Michigan and Wisconsin, the Soo proposed a plan of centralized agency service which would take the agent out of his traditional depot and bring him to the customer's door.

"Prices on many Soo services were adjusted. Notable was establishment of a seasonal grain rate which provides for a discount on the price of shipping grain in the off season. For the longer range, the Soo began a program designed to increase the availability of wood products in North Dakota through systematic planting of planned tree farms."

Soo Line Seeks Trackage Rights Over LS&I Line

Application has been made by the Soo Line Railroad Co. for trackage rights over the Lake Superior and Ishpeming Railroad Co. line from Marquette to Eben.

Approval of the application, filed by the Soo Line with the Interstate Commerce Commission, would result in improved freight service for the Marquette area and the Copper Country, Wallace W. Abbey, Minneapolis, director of public relations for the Soo Line, said.

Use of the LS&I line to Eben would give the Soo Line a more direct route from Marquette and the Copper Country to Chicago and Milwaukee, he noted.

The Soo Line has asked the ICC to aprove an agreement reached between it and the LS&I for an exchange of trackage rights.

In exchange for the right to operate on the LS&I rights to the trackage serving the Empire Mine. The Soo Line also has agreed to pay a share of the cost of maintaining the joint track to Eben.

Approval of the application would give the Soo Line a north-south connection for its two parallel main lines, which cross the Upper Peninsula on the north and south.

Just Misses Hitting Engine

State Police of the Gladstone Post investigated three auto accidents Friday, one in which a motorist narrowly missed being struck by the engine of a Soo Line engine.

Officers said that about 10:35 a.m Friday a car driven by George Hartwell, 63, of Swan Lake, Manitoba, had stopped at the Soo Line Crossing near Masonville for an approaching train when a second car, driven by William Roberts, 58, of Rte. 1, Masonville, came up from behind and couldn't stop because of slippery conditions.

Police said that Roberts swerved his car to the right side of the road, passing Hartwell's vehicle, but that in cutting to the left to get back on the road he struck the front of Hartwell's car and continued on across the railroad track narrowly missing being struck by the approaching engine.

Roberts was ticketed for violation of the basic speed law.

At 11:15 a.m. Marilyn Prond, 33, of Manistique, lost control of her car when she struck a patch of ice on U.S. 2-41, two miles west of Ensign, left the roadway and went into the ditch and struck a fence. Damage to her car was minor and she was not injured.

The third mishap occurred at 11:32 a.m. on U.S. 2 at the intersection of Main St. in Rapid River when 6-year-old June Petonquot ran into a car driven by Edward Hewlett, 26, of British Columbia.

Officers said that Hewlett was going west on U.S. 2 when the child darted from the side of the road into the path of his car. He saw the child and swerved to the left to avoid hitting her, but she ran into the right front fender of the vehicle. The child sustained minor bruises. No ticket was issued.

Snow Piles Bad For Mail Men

Mail carriers would greatly appreciate the cooperation of local residents in keeping their sidewalks and steps cleared of snow. It is especially difficult for the carriers to have to climb over snow banks left by snow plows at the edge of the street or on the terrace.

Pro Football Showdowns Start With Today's Game

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Green Bay's potent Packers, two-time champions of the National Football League, make a last-gasp stab at a third title this afternoon as the nation's professional football teams head into their weekend of decision.

By the time the Sunday games on the long schedule are completed, the NFL will have determined its conference champions while Boston and San Diego could clinch division titles in the American Football League.

Green Bay's game at San Francisco was the only NFL game scheduled today, while AFL had a pair, Buffalo at New York and Boston at Kansas City.

The NFL concludes its regular season Sunday, while the AFL—which postponed one weekend schedule because of the death of President Kennedy extends to Dec. 22 with three games.

Topping the NFL Sunday slate is the winner-take-all clash of Pittsburgh and New York for the Eastern Division title. The Giants, at 10-3, can clinch their third division crown with either and 31-0 conquerors of New a win or tie. Pittsburgh 7-3-3 York earlier in the season, must have a victory to attain their first title.

The rest of the slate features Chicago's closing game with Detroit on the Bears' home field. The Bears lead the West on a 10-1-2 record and can clinch with a victory or a tie, regardless of the outcome of the Packer game. Tough Detroit knocked Cleveland out of the Eastern Conference race last weekend and now holds a 5-7-1 record.

In the other Sunday games, Cleveland, 9-4, is at Washington 3-10; Dallas 3-10, at St. Louis 9-4; Los Angeles, 5-8, at Baltimore, 7-6; and Minnesota, 4-8-1, at Philadelphia, 2-9-2.

Sunday's American League schedule has San Diego, 9-3, at Houston, 6-6, and Denver, 2-9-1, at Oakland, 8-4.

Green Bay, at 10-2-1, must win against San Francisco to stay in the race. If they lose—a decided long shot — then the Bears take the title.

Should Green Bay win, however, and they're lop-sided favorites against the 49ers who have won only two, then the Packers have a 24-hour wait to determine their standings, depending on the outcome of the Chicago-Detroit game.

Four teams still are in the running in the AFL's Eastern Division, but Boston could clinch it at Kansas City Saturday with a victory or a tie. The Patriots are 7-5-1 going into their regular season finale. Troubled Kansas City is only 3-7-2 and out of the Western race.

Buffalo, at 6-6-1, also is closing its season in a visit to New York, 5-6-1. Both still are alive in the East. In the West, a Sunday combination of a San Diego victory and an Oakland loss could clinch it for the Chargers, but they're troubled with injuries and Oakland is on the move.

Boston Loses Ist Draft Pick

NEWTON, Mass. (AP)—With a stroke of a pen, Jack Concannon has handed Boston its worst defeat in four seasons just as the Patriots are on the verge of an American Football League playoff berth.

The star Boston College quarterback, top draft pick of the Patriots, signed a professional contract with Philadelphia of the NFL Friday. The Eagles had made him their second round choice.

It was a smashing triumph for the National League, which grabbed off the AFL's top plum.

Speculation was htat Concannon signed a two-year, $50,000 per, no cut contract with the Eagles.

There have been nine four-game sweeps in the World Series history. Six were recorded by the Yankees. The others were registered by the Braves, Giants and Dodgers.

Northern Wins Tourney Opener

By The Associated Press

The invaders were repelled and the only basketball losses suffered by Michigan teams Friday night were to other Michigan teams.

The University of Detroit exploded for 51 points in the second half and went on to a 93-79 victory over San Francisco State.

San Francisco's Brad Duggan scored half his team's points in the first half, ending up with 36 to lead both teams. Dick Dzik led Detroit with 22.

The victory was the third in five starts for Detroit, which just missed upsetting top-ranked Loyola of Chicago in its last outing.

At Marquette, Ferris State kept its thumb on Lakeland College of Wisconsin, winning easily, 91-66, in the first game of the Northern Michigan College Basketball Classic.

Ferris' Bernie Kilpatrick and Lakeland's Dean Sandifer tied for scoring honors with 22 points each, but the visitors were outplayed generally — trailing 44-25 at the half.

In the nightcap, host Northern Michigan defeated Aquinas College 102-93. Dave Cade led the scoring for the victors with 24 points. For Aquinas, Gary Fewless also scored 24.

Lakeland plays Aquinas in a consolation match today and Ferris plays Northern for the championship.

Kalamazoo College remained on top of the MIAA with an 87-68 victory over Olivet. Jim Peters led Kalamazoo too its third straight victry against no losses, with 19 points. Mike Rabbers scored 21 points for Olivet.

Central Michigan ran its winning streak to seven games (three of them last season) with a 101-82 victory over Eastern Illinois at Charleston. Despite the 30 - point shooting of Eastern's Bob Rickett, Illinois was outshot and out-rebounded 8 trailing the visitors from the middle of the first half. Don Edwards led for CMU with 18 points.

At Grand Rapids, Northwood Institute's Jerry Pettway poured in 31 points to lead the visitors to a 94-92 victory over Davenport Institute Davenport's Jack Wachter had 28 points.

Bucks Suffer Second Loss

By The Associated Press

The Buckeyes of Ohio State, winnners in the Big Ten Conference the last four years, apparently are not all they are cracked up to be.

Ohio State's basketball team suffered a second straight loss at home, droppping an 85-74 decision to Missouri Friday night.

It was Ohio State's third loss in six games this season and second at home after 50 successive triumphs.

The loss left the Big Ten with a 25-11 record against non-conference foes this season but three still unbeaten conference teams willl be in action Saturday.

Michigan, with a 4-0 record, and Michigan State and Minnesota, both 3-0, will be among eight big Ten teams in action.

Michigan, ranked seventh nationally, is home to tough Western Michigan, Minnesota at host to South Dakota, and Michigan State visits Penn. Other games find Notre Dame at Illinois, Missouri at Indiana, Southern Methodist at Northwestern, Purdue at Butler and Wisconsin at Cincinnati.

Sports In Brief

NEW YORK (AP)—Michigan will be included in the five-team field for the 1964 holiday season basketball tournament at Madison Square Garden Dec. 28, 30 and Jan. 2. Others are Cincinnati, Princeton, Manhattan, St. Johns of New York, Temple, Syracuse and LaSalle.

Only Four Teams Still Unbeaten; Michigan One

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's just one surprise after another in college basketball these days and the season is only two weeks old.

Maybe it was the Friday the 13th jinx but there were such eyebrow lifters as California's 65-55 conquest of Oregon State, Missouri's 85-74 win over Ohio State, Creighton's 84-83 squeaker over Arizona State, Virginia Military's 68-64 triumph over West Virginia and Regis' 62-59 defeat of Oklahoma State.

That left Chicago Loyola, Kentucky, Michigan and Kansas as the only unbeaten teams in The Associated Press Top Ten and the No. 1 Loyola Ramblers just managed to turn back Detroit and Western Michigan earlier in the week. Such powerhouses as Cincinnati, Wichita, Duke and NYU had been defeated before Friday's carnage.

Camden Wall, 6-feet-10, outplayed Oregon State's 7-foot Mel Counts to lead California over the ninth-ranked Beavers. Wall tallied 17 points to Counts' 11 as the Beavers lost their first game.

Little 5-11 Gary Garner with 25 points sparked Missouri over Ohio State as the eighth-ranked Buckeyes tumbled to their second straight defeat. The fourth-ranked Sun Devils of Arizona State also suffered their second straight loss when Fritz Pointer stole the ball and threw in the basket that broke a 75-75 tie. Creighton, unbeaten like Missouri, stayed in front the rest of the way.

VMI had lost 31 consecutive times to West Virginia before the Keydets whipped the Mountaineers behind Bill Blair's 34 points, overcoming a 10-point deficit in the second half. Cozel Walker led the Regis Rangers with 26 points in the shocker that sent Oklahoma State down to its first defeat.

Kansas, No. 10 in the AP rankings, came from behind to defeat Southern California 60-52 as 6-7 George Unseld scored 26 points.

Kentucky, Michigan and Kansas risk their unbeaten records tonight against Baylor, Western Michigan and UCLA, respectively. Chicago Loyola is idle, but No. 2 NYU plays Fairleigh-Dickinson, No. 3 Duke meets Clemson, No. 6 Cincinnati takes on Wisconsin, Arizona State tackles Denver and Oregon State gets another crack at California.

Same Formula For Celtics

By The Associated Press

A big bench and a game-busing burst. That's the time-honored formula the Boston Celtics have followed to five straight National Basketball Association championships. The formula is the same in 1963.

Friday night the champs, supposedly hobbled by injuries to Tom Heinsohn and Sam Jones, parlayed the "relief pitching" of Willie Naulls and a "big inning" into a 111-84 rout of the Philadelphia 76ers. The Celtics' victory was their 13th in the last 14 games and 20th of the young season against only two defeats.

In the only other game played the Baltimore Bullets edged the San Francisco Warriors 116-114 in overtime.

Naulls, the veteran sharpshooter acquired from San Francisco to bolster the Boston bench corps, popped in 30 points for the Celts and led a 17-6 third-quarter spree that transformed a 55-54 tingler into a runaway. Willie connected on five straight long one-handers during the explosion.

Rod Thorn sparked Baltimore to a come-from-behind victory over San Francisco. Thorn led the Bullets with 26 points, including five in the overtime.

Southpaw Joe Nuxhall of Cincinnati led the team's hurlers with a 2.61 earned run average and also in complete games with 14.

Relief pitcher Bill Henry saved 13 games for Cincinnati last season.

Rivero Stopped By Cuban Boxer

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP)—Heavy-hitting Florentino Fernandez, his accounts squared with Argentine Rocky Rivero, gave out with the usual victor's cry today: "I want the champ."

The tall, thick-necked Cuban exile from Miami Beach, Fla., chopped the pudgy Rivero's face into a bloody mess and won the return brawl on cuts after seven rounds of the television 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden Friday night.

There was an inch-long cut over Rocky's right eye and a deep 1½-inch-wide gash on the point of his chin. When Dr. Sam Swetnick ordered the savage battle stopped at the end of the seventh. Under New York rules it will go in the books as a seven-round technical knockout.

The cut on the chin was opened in the third round—the only one Rivero got from all three officials — and the slash over the eye was inflicted in the fifth.

Fernandez had a huge advantage by the time the doctor intervened.

Rivero outpointed Fernandez in an upset last Nov. 1 when the Cuban was a 4-1 favorite. For the return, Fernandez was a 7-5 choice.

"I want the champ—Joey Giardello," trumpeted the big-beaked Fernandez. "I'll be the new middleweight champion of the world in 1964 if I can get Giardello in the ring."

He may have a long, long wait. Fernandez, despite a 37-7 record, no longer is ranked. Neither is Rivero, whose record is 40-9-1.

Rivero had the edge in weight, 161 to 159.

Alabama Favored Today In Orange Bowl Classic

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Coach Andy Gustafson and quarterback George Mira have their final fling today as the University of Miami winds up its football season against favored Alabama in the Orange Bowl.

For Gustafson it will mark the end of a 38-year coaching career. He will devote full time to the duties of athletic director at Miami.

Mira, the brilliant passer from Key West, will be playing his last college game. He has an outside chance to wrest the national passing championship from Baylor's Don Trull.

All Mira needs to do is complete 27 passes for 304 yards against Alabama. In nine games he made 148 passes for 1,854 yards to Trull's 174 completions for 2,157 yards in 10 games.

The Crimson Tide, a six-point favorite in the nationally-televised (CBS) game starting at 1:45 p.m., EST, owns a 7-2 record and is bound for the Sugar Bowl Jan. 1. Miami's record is 3-6 and this is certain to be the Hurricanes' worst season since 1958, regardless of the 'Bama score.

Gustafson, who came to Miami in 1948, has a lifetime coaching record of 115 wins, 77 defeats and 4 ties. He will replace the late Jack Harding as athletic director.

Four pocket-variety bowl games involving minor college powers and the long-delayed Houston-Louisville regular season clash complete the day's top fare.

A national television audience will join 50,000 Pasadena, Calif., onlookers when NBC airs the Junior Rose Bowl tilt between Northeastern Oklahoma A&M and California's Orange Coast Junior College, both unbeaten and untied.

At Allentown, Pa., Northeastern University, unbeaten for the first time, tackles once-beaten East Carolina College.

Prairie View, Tex., A&M and St. John's University of Collegeville, Minn., a pair of undefeated, untied small college teams meet in the third annual Camellia Bowl at Sacramento, Calif. The game determines the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics Football championship.

The Orange Blossom classic will take place at night in Miami's Orange Bowl with Morgan State, 8-1, meeting Florida A&M, 7-2.

The Houston-Louisville meeting, originally scheduled for Nov. 23, brings together two clubs who have won only four times between them. Houston's 1-9 mark is the team's poorest record in 18 seasons.

Soo Looks For Gains In 1964

The third year of operation for the new Soo Line Railroad is shaping into a satisfactory year from several points of view, reports Leonard H. Murray. "The company continues to show evidence of its potential and its ability to compete successfully for business. Unless conditions which surround and, in many respects influence, the Soo's operations change unexpectedly, the year 1964 should also reflect these factors," said Murray.

Soo has been able, so far this year, to increase its levels of expenditure for maintenance and for the acquisition of modern machinery, freight cars and locomotives. In 1962 the new Soo paid its first dividend, 60 cents per share, and cleared up all arrearages of mortgage bond interest, amounting to $1,476,147, from pre-merger years.

"On the whole, prospects are that 1964 should be a satisfactory business year," said Murray. "I believe that the railroad industry including the Soo will expand its participation in the nation's economic activity.

"The cost of physical distribution is the second or third largest cost factor in most American businesses. Physical distribution costs are coming under far more intense scrutiny as stronger pressures come to bear on industrial profits. The railroads are responding and must respond to such pressures if they are to retain and expand their competitive position.

In rolling equipment, the Soo's expenditures during 1963 were approximately $7.5 million. Of this amount, $4 million went for 22 higher-horsepower locomotives with which the greater portion of the fleet of mainline trains was re-equipped. These 22 locomotive units are doing the work of 33 of our former units.

"In freight cars, 247 new cars were delivered. Most of them were designed with the particular requirements of specific loads or types of lading in mind. Many were, in fact, designed in conjunction with shippers so that shippers' costs related to rail haul, but other than the freight rates, could be reduced. The year's acquisitions were 60 insulated box cars, 80 custom-equipped non-insulated box cars, 15 Airslide bulk commodity hopper cars, 10 gondola cars for steel billets, 20 gondola cars for general-purpose loading, 15 refrigerator cars, and 47 flat cars of five types, 10 of which are equipped for piggyback service.

Expenditures for maintenance of track were increased substantially in 1963. Heavier rail was installed at several points, and better ballast in greater amounts was placed in the track. The Soo's growing fleet of semiautomatic roadway maintenance machines was augmented with several highly sophisticated machines including a $66,000 automated ballast tamper. An 80-mile extension of the Soo's centralized traffic control system was begun to bring all train movements between Chicago and Fond du Lac directly under the dispatcher's supervision.

"Customer-service aspects of the Soo's operations were improved in several ways. In Michigan and Wisconsin, the Soo proposed a plan of centralized agency service which would take the agent out of his traditional depot and bring him to the customer's door.

"Prices on many Soo services were adjusted. Notable was establishment of a seasonal grain rate which provides for a discount on the price of shipping grain in the off season. For the longer range, the Soo began a program designed to increase the availability of wood products in North Dakota through systematic planting of planned tree farms."

Soo Line Seeks Trackage Rights Over LS&I Line

Application has been made by the Soo Line Railroad Co. for trackage rights over the Lake Superior and Ishpeming Railroad Co. line from Marquette to Eben.

Approval of the application, filed by the Soo Line with the Interstate Commerce Commission, would result in improved freight service for the Marquette area and the Copper Country, Wallace W. Abbey, Minneapolis, director of public relations for the Soo Line, said.

Use of the LS&I line to Eben would give the Soo Line a more direct route from Marquette and the Copper Country to Chicago and Milwaukee, he noted.

The Soo Line has asked the ICC to aprove an agreement reached between it and the LS&I for an exchange of trackage rights.

In exchange for the right to operate on the LS&I rights to the trackage serving the Empire Mine. The Soo Line also has agreed to pay a share of the cost of maintaining the joint track to Eben.

Approval of the application would give the Soo Line a north-south connection for its two parallel main lines, which cross the Upper Peninsula on the north and south.

More people get more news from newspapers than from all other sources combined.

Just Misses Hitting Engine

State Police of the Gladstone Post investigated three auto accidents Friday, one in which a motorist narrowly missed being struck by the engine of a Soo Line engine.

Officers said that about 10:35 a.m Friday a car driven by George Hartwell, 63, of Swan Lake, Manitoba, had stopped at the Soo Line Crossing near Masonville for an approaching train when a second car, driven by William Roberts, 58, of Rte. 1, Masonville, came up from behind and couldn't stop because of slippery conditions.

Police said that Roberts swerved his car to the right side of the road, passing Hartwell's vehicle, but that in cutting to the left to get back on the road he struck the front of Hartwell's car and continued on across the railroad track narrowly missing being struck by the approaching engine.

Roberts was ticketed for violation of the basic speed law.

At 11:15 a.m. Marilyn Prond, 33, of Manistique, lost control of her car when she struck a patch of ice on U.S. 2-41, two miles west of Ensign, left the roadway and went into the ditch and struck a fence. Damage to her car was minor and she was not injured.

The third mishap occurred at 11:32 a.m. on U.S. 2 at the intersection of Main St. in Rapid River when 6-year-old June Petonquot ran into a car driven by Edward Hewlett, 26, of British Columbia.

Officers said that Hewlett was going west on U.S. 2 when the child darted from the side of the road into the path of his car. He saw the child and swerved to the left to avoid hitting her, but she ran into the right front fender of the vehicle. The child sustained minor bruises. No ticket was issued.

Snow Piles Bad For Mail Men

Mail carriers would greatly appreciate the cooperation of local residents in keeping their sidewalks and steps cleared of snow. It is especially difficult for the carriers to have to climb over snow banks left by snow plows at the edge of the street or on the terrace.

Pro Football Showdowns Start With Today's Game

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Green Bay's potent Packers, two-time champions of the National Football League, make a last-gasp stab at a third title this afternoon as the nation's professional football teams head into their weekend of decision.

By the time the Sunday games on the long schedule are completed, the NFL will have determined its conference champions while Boston and San Diego could clinch division titles in the American Football League.

Green Bay's game at San Francisco was the only NFL game scheduled today, while AFL had a pair, Buffalo at New York and Boston at Kansas City.

The NFL concludes its regular season Sunday, while the AFL—which postponed one weekend schedule because of the death of President Kennedy extends to Dec. 22 with three games.

Topping the NFL Sunday slate is the winner-take-all clash of Pittsburgh and New York for the Eastern Division title. The Giants, at 10-3, can clinch their third division crown with either a win or tie. Pittsburgh 7-3-3 and 31-0 conquerors of New York earlier in the season, must have a victory to attain their first title.

The rest of the slate features Chicago's closing game with Detroit on the Bears' home field. The Bears lead the West on a 10-1-2 record and can clinch with a victory or a tie, regardless of the outcome of the Packer game. Tough Detroit knocked Cleveland out of the Eastern Conference race last weekend and now holds a 5-7-1 record.

In the other Sunday games, Cleveland, 9-4, is at Washington 3-10; Dallas 3-10, at St. Louis 9-4; Los Angeles, 5-8, at Baltimore, 7-6; and Minnesota, 4-8-1, at Philadelphia, 2-9-2.

Sunday's American League schedule has San Diego, 9-3, at Houston, 6-6, and Denver, 2-9-1, at Oakland, 8-4.

Green Bay, at 10-2-1, must win against San Francisco to stay in the race. If they lose—a decided long shot — then the Bears take the title.

Should Green Bay win, however, and they're lop-sided favorites against the 49ers who have won only two, then the Packers have a 24-hour wait to determine their standings, depending on the outcome of the Chicago-Detroit game.

Four teams still are in the running in the AFL's Eastern Division, but Boston could clinch it at Kansas City Saturday with a victory or a tie. The Patriots are 7-5-1 going into their regular season finale. Troubled Kansas City is only 3-7-2 and out of the Western race.

Buffalo, at 6-6-1, also is closing its season in a visit to New York, 5-6-1. Both still are alive in the East. In the West, a Sunday combination of a San Diego victory and an Oakland loss could clinch it for the Chargers, but they're troubled with injuries and Oakland is on the move.

Boston Loses Ist Draft Pick

NEWTON, Mass. (AP)—With a stroke of a pen, Jack Concannon has handed Boston its worst defeat in four seasons just as the Patriots are on the verge of an American Football League playoff berth.

The star Boston College quarterback, top draft pick of the Patriots, signed a professional contract with Philadelphia of the NFL Friday. The Eagles had made him their second round choice.

It was a smashing triumph for the National League, which grabbed off the AFL's top plum.

Speculation was htat Concannon signed a two-year, $50,000 per, no cut contract with the Eagles.

There have been nine four-game sweeps in the World Series history. Six were recorded by the Yankees. The others were registered by the Braves, Giants and Dodgers.

Bucks Suffer Second Loss

By The Associated Press

The Buckeyes of Ohio State, winnners in the Big Ten Conference the last four years, apparently are not all they are cracked up to be.

Ohio State's basketball team suffered a second straight loss at home, droppping an 85-74 decision to Missouri Friday night.

It was Ohio State's third loss in six games this season and second at home after 50 successive triumphs.

The loss left the Big Ten with a 25-11 record against non-conference foes this season but three still unbeaten conference teams willl be in action Saturday.

Michigan, with a 4-0 record, and Michigan State and Minnesota, both 3-0, will be among eight big Ten teams in action.

Michigan, ranked seventh nationally, is home to tough Western Michigan, Minnesota at host to South Dakota, and Michigan State visits Penn. Other games find Notre Dame at Illinois, Missouri at Indiana, Southern Methodist at Northwestern, Purdue at Butler and Wisconsin at Cincinnati.

Sports In Brief

NEW YORK (AP)—Michigan will be included in the five-team field for the 1964 holiday season basketball tournament at Madison Square Garden Dec. 28, 30 and Jan. 2. Others are Cincinnati, Princeton, Manhattan, St. Johns of New York, Temple, Syracuse and LaSalle.

Only Four Teams Still Unbeaten; Michigan One

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's just one surprise after another in college basketball these days and the season is only two weeks old.

Maybe it was the Friday the 13th jinx but there were such eyebrow lifters as California's 65-55 conquest of Oregon State, Missouri's 85-74 win over Ohio State, Creighton's 84-83 squeaker over Arizona State, Virginia Military's 68-64 triumph over West Virginia and Regis' 62-59 defeat of Oklahoma State.

That left Chicago Loyola, Kentucky, Michigan and Kansas as the only unbeaten teams in The Associated Press Top Ten and the No. 1 Loyola Ramblers just managed to turn back Detroit and Western Michigan earlier in the week. Such powerhouses as Cincinnati, Wichita, Duke and NYU had been defeated before Friday's carnage.

Camden Wall, 6-feet-10, outplayed Oregon State's 7-foot Mel Counts to lead California over the ninth-ranked Beavers. Wall tallied 17 points to Counts' 11 as the Beavers lost their first game.

Little 5-11 Gary Garner with 25 points sparked Missouri over Ohio State as the eighth-ranked Buckeyes tumbled to their second straight defeat. The fourth-ranked Sun Devils of Arizona State also suffered their second straight loss when Fritz Pointer stole the ball and threw in the basket that broke a 75-75 tie. Creighton, unbeaten like Missouri, stayed in front the rest of the way.

VMI had lost 31 consecutive times to West Virginia before the Keydets whipped the Mountaineers behind Bill Blair's 34 points, overcoming a 10-point deficit in the second half. Cozel Walker led the Regis Rangers with 26 points in the shocker that sent Oklahoma State down to its first defeat.

Kansas, No. 10 in the AP rankings, came from behind to defeat Southern California 60-52 as 6-7 George Unseld scored 26 points.

Kentucky, Michigan and Kansas risk their unbeaten records tonight against Baylor, Western Michigan and UCLA, respectively. Chicago Loyola is idle, but No. 2 NYU plays Fairleigh-Dickinson, No. 3 Duke meets Clemson, No. 6 Cincinnati takes on Wisconsin, Arizona State tackles Denver and Oregon State gets another crack at California.

Same Formula For Celtics

By The Associated Press

A big bench and a game-busting burst. That's the time-honored formula the Boston Celtics have followed to five straight National Basketball Association championships. The formula is the same in 1963.

Friday night the champs, supposedly hobbled by injuries to Tom Heinsohn and Sam Jones, parlayed the "relief pitching" of Willie Naulls and a "big inning" into a 111-84 rout of the Philadelphia 76ers. The Celtics' victory was their 13th in the last 14 games and 20th of the young season against only two defeats.

In the only other game played the Baltimore Bullets edged the San Francisco Warriors 116-114 in overtime.

Naulls, the veteran sharpshooter acquired from San Francisco to bolster the Boston bench corps, popped in 30 points for the Celts and led a 17-6 third-quarter spree that transformed a 55-54 tingler into a runaway. Willie connected on five straight long one-handers during the explosion.

Rod Thorn sparked Baltimore to a come-from-behind victory over San Francisco. Thorn led the Bullets with 26 points, including five in the overtime.

Southpaw Joe Nuxhall of Cincinnati led the team's hurlers with a 2.61 earned run average and also in complete games with 14.

Rivero Stopped By Cuban Boxer

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP)—Heavy-hitting Florentino Fernandez, his accounts squared with Argentine Rocky Rivero, gave out with the usual victor's cry today: "I want the champ."

The tall, thick-necked Cuban exile from Miami Beach, Fla., chopped the pudgy Rivero's face into a bloody mess and won the return brawl on cuts after seven rounds of the television 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden Friday night.

There was an inch-long cut over Rocky's right eye and a deep 1½-inch-wide gash on the point of his chin. When Dr. Sam Swetnick ordered the savage battle stopped at the end of the seventh. Under New York rules it will go in the books as a seven-round technical knockout.

The cut on the chin was opened in the third round—the only one Rivero got from all three officials — and the slash over the eye was inflicted in the fifth.

Fernandez had a huge advantage by the time the doctor intervened.

Rivero outpointed Fernandez in an upset last Nov. 1 when the Cuban was a 4-1 favorite. For the return, Fernandez was a 7-5 choice.

"I want the champ—Joey Giardello," trumpeted the big-beaked Fernandez. "I'll be the new middleweight champion of the world in 1964 if I can get Giardello in the ring."

He may have a long, long wait. Fernandez, despite a 37-7 record, no longer is ranked. Neither is Rivero, whose record is 40-9-1.

Rivero had the edge in weight, 161 to 159.

Alabama Favored Today In Orange Bowl Classic

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Coach Andy Gustafson and quarterback George Mira have their final fling today as the University of Miami winds up its football season against favored Alabama in the Orange Bowl.

For Gustafson it will mark the end of a 38-year coaching career. He will devote full time to the duties of athletic director at Miami.

Mira, the brilliant passer from Key West, will be playing his last college game. He has an outside chance to wrest the national passing championship from Baylor's Don Trull.

All Mira needs to do is complete 27 passes for 304 yards against Alabama. In nine games he made 148 passes for 1,854 yards to Trull's 174 completions for 2,157 yards in 10 games.

The Crimson Tide, a six-point favorite in the nationally-televised (CBS) game starting at 1:45 p.m., EST, owns a 7-2 record and is bound for the Sugar Bowl Jan. 1. Miami's record is 3-6 and this is certain to be the Hurricanes' worst season since 1958, regardless of the 'Bama score.

Gustafson, who came to Miami in 1948, has a lifetime coaching record of 115 wins, 77 defeats and 4 ties. He will replace the late Jack Harding as athletic director.

Four pocket-variety bowl games involving minor college powers and the long-delayed Houston-Louisville regular season clash complete the day's top fare.

A national television audience will join 50,000 Pasadena, Calif., onlookers when NBC airs the Junior Rose Bowl tilt between Northeastern Oklahoma A&M and California's Orange Coast Junior College, both unbeaten and untied.

At Allentown, Pa., Northeastern University, unbeaten for the first time, tackles once-beaten East Carolina College.

Prairie View, Tex., A&M and St. John's University of Collegeville, Minn., a pair of undefeated, untied small college teams meet in the third annual Camellia Bowl at Sacramento, Calif. The game determines the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics Football championship.

The Orange Blossom classic will take place at night in Miami's Orange Bowl with Morgan State, 8-1, meeting Florida A&M, 7-2.

The Houston-Louisville meeting, originally scheduled for Nov. 23, brings together two clubs who have won only four times between them. Houston's 1-9 mark is the team's poorest record in 18 seasons.

Young Charged With Rough Play

TORONTO (AP) — Manager-Coach George (Punch) Imlach, of the Toronto Maple Leafs, charged Friday night that Chicago Black Hawk defenseman Howie Young elbowed and kneed Leaf goalie Don Simmons in last Saturday's National Hockey League game here.

Simmons had said after the game that he did not consider the charge deliberate.

The Simmons-Young incident occurred shortly after a brawl that emptied benches of both teams last Saturday.

Both Goalies To See Action

DETROIT (AP) — Manager-Coach Sid Abel says he will alternate the Detroit Red Wings' goal-tending duties between veteran Terry Sawchuk and rookie Roger Crozier.

"Goal-tending in the National Hockey League no longer is a one-man job," Abel said in explaining why he will use Crozier in place of Sawchuk, a 14-year NHL veteran, when the Wings play Chicago here tonight.

"That's been proven already this season by the fact every club except Boston has had to use a second goalie," Abel added.

Yanks To Face LA In Spring

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Yankees will get three more chances to beat the Los Angeles Dodgers during the spring training season in Florida according to the exhibition schedule announced Saturday by Ralph Houk, new Yankee general manager.

The Yanks will play the Dodgers March 21 and April 6 at Ft. Lauderdale, the Yanks' base, and April 7 at Vero Beach.

McRae Improves As Pass Stealer

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP)—Slender Benny McRae thought that he might never walk again several years ago.

But he has become one of the National Football League's finest defensive cornerbacks.

He is a member of the Chicago Bears' pass-stealing squad that leads the league with 34 interceptions. The 6-foot, 178-pound McRae has stolen six and also has developed into a sure tackler.

His general all-around mop-up talent on defense is well recognied and respected by the Detroit Lions, who face the Bears in Wrigley Field Sunday.

McRae is in his second year with the Bears. He did virtually nothing in his first season after being selected in the second round of the 1960 player draft.

He starred as a ball-carrier for Michigan and was the Big Ten hurdle champion in track.

It was during a track meet that Bennie's legs gave out. It was traced to a rare muscle spasm. Doctors at first thought he had little chance of walking again.

"I was terrified, but two weeks later I felt movement returning, and six weeks later I was working out every day at my home in Newport News, Va.," says McRae. "I returned for my senior year at Michigan and had my best season.

"But as for pro ball, I thought I was too light. And when I learned the Bears wanted me to play defense — well, I didn't know if I could cut it against those big fellows.

"I've since learned that size doesn't make the pro player. I know bankers who don't look like bankers."

McRae says his development into a tackler was a matter of concentration, always being set, and never going into a man wildly.

"I have two jobs. I have to knock down passes and tackle guys. Both have taken a lot of learning. To be a good pass-defender you must never violate the vertical depth. That's what the coaches call it, and it refers to when a defender gets too close to an intended receiver or accepts his first fake.

"It took me most of last year to find it out."

Redskins Suffer Major Upset At Channing Court

CHANNING — The Channing Railroaders pulled a major upset here Friday night with a 75-67 victory over Hermansville in Big Eight Conference action, snapping a five game winning string for the Redskins.

The Railroaders caught Hermansville with scoring star Ron Povolo under the weather. He contributed only two field goals for Coach Don Hill's cagers.

Hermansville outscored Channing 29 to 27 in field goals but lost from the foul line where the Railroaders pumped in 21 of 31 shots. Hermansville converted 9 of 16 free throw attempts.

The Railroaders jumped to a 17-6 lead in the first period and spread the margin to 40-23 at the half. Hermansville narrowed the gap to four points starting the fourth period but couldn't maintain the pace down the stretch.

Dan Vincent led Hermansville with 23 points while LaPoint paced Channing with 24.

Patriots Choice To Beat Chiefs

By The Associated Press

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Boston Patriots are the choice to wrap up their first Eastern Division championship in American Football League history against Kansas City today, on the theory that Coach Hank Stram of the Chiefs may be out of surprises.

Stram has caught the Patriots by surprise three straight times and Coach Mike Holovak of the Patriots is apprehensive of what Stram may be cooking up this time, although Boston leads the AFL in defense.

Boston, with a 7-5-1 record, needs either a tie or victory to clinch the title. The other three teams in the tight Eastern Division are still in the title picture. Kansas City is third in the West at 3-7-2.

In the season opener last year, Stram took the wraps off Len Dawson as his quarterback and the newcomer passed the Patriots dizzy, 42-28. In the return game at Boston, Stram brought out a double tight end offense and romped in 27-7.

At Boston Nov. 17, Stram's team came to town with six straight defeats, their defending AFL champion squad in a state of collapse. But Stram released two veterans, inserted two rookies in the line-up and topped the shakeup by using Eddie Wilson at quarterback all the way. Wilson was 20-for-32, two for TDs, and it was a 24-24 tie.

But Boston is expected to meet any challenge the Chiefs can mount. After two straight close runner-up finishes behind Houston, Holovak's team is determined to take it all this time. Their passing game is led by veteran Babe Parilli, in his ninth pro season. Larry Garron is one of the league's best fullbacks, Gino Cappelletti is the AFL's top scorer with 110 points and best field goal kicker with 21.

Boston is on the verge of breaking the AFL rushing defense record set by the Chiefs, who permitted 980 yards on the ground in 1960. If the Patriots hold Kansas City to 95 yards or less, the record is theirs.

Buffalo, 6-6-1, meets New York 5-6-1, today at New York. Houston, 6-6-0, meets San Diego, 9-3, at Houston Sunday. Buffalo, Houston and New York all have a title chance in the event of a Kansas City upset.

Eskymos Win First Home Cage Contest

Coach Harold Johnson's Escanaba Eskymos shook off a pesky Stephenson press early in the second period here Friday night and whipped the Eagles 80-56 in a Great Lakes Conference contest.

The victory was Escanaba's third against two setbacks this season and their first in the new Escanaba Area Public High School gym.

The defending Great Lakes champs had their hands full with a tight press applied by Coach Gus Lord's Eagles in the first quarter.

Escanaba tallied the first six points in the game but the Eagles tied it at 7-7 midway in the opening period on a free throw by Jim Dougovito. The quarter ended with Stephenson holding a 14-13 advantage.

The teams traded points in the first two minutes of the second period to a 17-17 deadlock. Escanaba then took complete command of the action to score 14 straight points for a 31-17 cushion. Included were three successful one-and-one free throw situations and a three-point play by Carl Olson.

Escanaba carried a 39-21 lead into the halftime intermission and came out with a fast spurt in the third quarter to spread the margin to a wide 51-23.

Johnson emptied his bench down the stretch and his reserves plunked in 22 points.

In addition to outscoring the Eagles by seven field goals, the Eskymos were hot from the foul line where they hit on 22 of 32 free throw attempts.

Escanaba had four players in double figures with Bill Eis hitting 19 points, followed by Ken Seibert with 16, Olson and Paul Christensen 10 each. Seibert gave the Eskymos a big edge in the rebounding department.

Dougovito, Stephenson's 5 foot 7 inch guard, paced the Eagles with 16 points while Clarence Peterson hit 14 and Dave Bush 10. Joe Turek, three-year veteran on the Stephenson team, was sidelined by an injury and did not see action.

The Eskymos made a clean sweep of it by winning the jayvee preliminary 63-37.

Both Goalies To See Action

DETROIT (AP) — Manager-Coach Sid Abel says he will alternate the Detroit Red Wings' goal-tending duties between veteran Terry Sawchuk and rookie Roger Crozier.

"Goal-tending in the National Hockey League no longer is a one-man job," Abel said in explaining why he will use Crozier in place of Sawchuk, a 14-year NHL veteran, when the Wings play Chicago here tonight.

"That's been proven already this season by the fact every club except Boston has had to use a second goalie," Abel added.

Spartans Bow In Puck Clash

EAST LANSING (AP)—Three power-play goals proved insufficient as Ohio University went down 6-4 to Michigan State in a hockey game Friday night.

MSU pulled away to an early lead on an assisted goal by Dick Heaphy at 39 seconds of the first period. Doug Roberts scored again for the Spartans at 7:52.

Unassisted goals by Mikek L'Heureaux and Ernie LeRoy tied the score in the second period but MSU came back in the third, scoring twice to win.

Eskymos Win First Home Cage Contest

Coach Harold Johnson's Escanaba Eskymos shook off a pesky Stephenson press early in the second period here Friday night and whipped the Eagles 80-56 in a Great Lakes Conference contest.

The victory was Escanaba's third against two setbacks this season and their first in the new Escanaba Area Public High School gym.

The defending Great Lakes champs had their hands full with a tight press applied by Coach Gus Lord's Eagles in the first quarter.

Escanaba tallied the first six points in the game but the Eagles tied it at 7-7 midway in the opening period on a free throw by Jim Dougovito. The quarter ended with Stephenson holding a 14-13 advantage.

The teams traded points in the first two minutes of the second period to a 17-17 deadlock. Escanaba then took complete command of the action to score 14 straight points for a 31-17 cushion. Included were three successful one-and-one free throw situations and a three-point play by Carl Olson.

Escanaba carried a 39-21 lead into the halftime intermission and came out with a fast spurt in the third quarter to spread the margin to a wide 51-23.

Johnson emptied his bench down the stretch and his reserves plunked in 22 points.

In addition to outscoring the Eagles by seven field goals, the Eskymos were hot from the foul line where they hit on 22 of 32 free throw attempts.

Escanaba had four players in double figures with Bill Eis hitting 19 points, followed by Ken Seibert with 16, Olson and Paul Christensen 10 each. Seibert gave the Eskymos a big edge in the rebounding department.

Dougovito, Stephenson's 5 foot 7 inch guard, paced the Eagles with 16 points while Clarence Peterson hit 14 and Dave Bush 10. Joe Turek, three-year veteran on the Stephenson team, was sidelined by an injury and did not see action.

The Eskymos made a clean sweep of it by winning the jayvee preliminary 63-37.

Patriots Choice To Beat Chiefs

By The Associated Press

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Boston Patriots are the choice to wrap up their first Eastern Division championship in American Football League history against Kansas City today, on the theory that Coach Hank Stram of the Chiefs may be out of surprises.

Stram has caught the Patriots by surprise three straight times and Coach Mike Holovak of the Patriots is apprehensive of what Stram may be cooking up this time, although Boston leads the AFL in defense.

Boston, with a 7-5-1 record, needs either a tie or victory to clinch the title. The other three teams in the tight Eastern Division are still in the title picture. Kansas City is third in the West at 3-7-2.

In the season opener last year, Stram took the wraps off Len Dawson as his quarterback and the newcomer passed the Patriots dizzy, 42-28. In the return game at Boston, Stram brought out a double tight end offense and romped in 27-7.

At Boston Nov. 17, Stram's team came to town with six straight defeats, their defending AFL champion squad in a state of collapse. But Stram released two veterans, inserted two rookies in the line-up and topped the shakeup by using Eddie Wilson at quarterback all the way. Wilson was 20-for-32, two for TDs, and it was a 24-24 tie.

But Boston is expected to meet any challenge the Chiefs can mount. After two straight close runner-up finishes behind Houston, Holovak's team is determined to take it all this time. Their passing game is led by veteran Babe Parilli, in his ninth pro season. Larry Garron is one of the league's best fullbacks. Gino Cappelletti is the AFL's top scorer with 110 points and best field goal kicker with 21.

Boston is on the verge of breaking the AFL rushing defense record set by the Chiefs, who permitted 980 yards on the ground in 1960. If the Patriots hold Kansas City to 95 yards or less, the record is theirs.

Buffalo, 6-6-1, meets New York 5-6-1, today at New York. Houston, 6-6-0, meets San Diego, 9-3, at Houston Sunday. Buffalo, Houston and New York all have a title chance in the event of a Kansas City upset.

Emeralds Upset By Gwinn Quint

GWINN — The Manistique Emeralds suffered a 75-59 upset at the hands of the Gwinn Model Towners in a non-conference contest here Friday night.

Coach Rudie Brandstrom's Emeralds took an early 5-2 lead in the first period but trailed 17-12 at the end of the quarter and were never able to catch up.

With Johnny Erickson displaying a deadly outside shot, Gwinn pulled steadily away throughout the game. Erickson drilled 11 field goals and added five gift tosses for 27 points.

The Model Towners outscored Manistique by three field goals and clicked on 19 of 32 free throws. The Emeralds tallied 9 of 21 from the foul line.

Four Emeralds hit in double figures, led by Eric Blomquist with 15 points. Dan Purple followed Erickson in the Gwinn scoring column with 18.

Gwinn also won the jayvee game, 63-36.

The triumph was Eben's seventh in eight starts and puts the Eagles in first place in the league race.

The Eagles took a 13-8 lead in the first period and held a scoring edge in each quarter. They were able to connect on only 16 of 80 field goals but hit 16 of 28 gift shots.

Young Charged With Rough Play

TORONTO (AP) — Manager-Coach George (Punch) Imlach, of the Toronto Maple Leafs, charged Friday night that Chicago Black Hawk defenseman Howie Young elbowed and kneed Leaf goalie Don Simmons in last Saturday's National Hockey League game here.

Simmons had said after the game that he did not consider the charge deliberate.

The Simmons-Young incident occurred shortly after a brawl that emptied benches of both teams last Saturday.

McRae Improves As Pass Stealer

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP)—Slender Benny McRae thought that he might never walk again several years ago.

But he has become one of the National Football League's finest defensive cornerbacks.

He is a member of the Chicago Bears' pass-stealing squad that leads the league with 34 interceptions. The 6-foot, 178-pound McRae has stolen six and also has developed into a sure tackler.

His general all-around mop-up talent on defense is well recognied and respected by the Detroit Lions, who face the Bears in Wrigley Field Sunday.

McRae is in his second year with the Bears. He did virtually nothing in his first season after being selected in the second round of the 1960 player draft.

He starred as a ball-carrier for Michigan and was the Big Ten hurdle champion in track.

It was during a track meet that Bennie's legs gave out. It was traced to a rare muscle spasm. Doctors at first thought he had little chance of walking again.

"I was terrified, but two weeks later I felt movement returning, and six weeks later I was working out every day at my home in Newport News, Va.," says McRae. "I returned for my senior year at Michigan and had my best season.

"But as for pro ball, I thought I was too light. And when I learned the Bears wanted me to play defense — well, I didn't know if I could cut it against those big fellows.

"I've since learned that size doesn't make the pro player. I know bankers who don't look like bankers."

McRae says his development into a tackler was a matter of concentration, always being set, and never going into a man wildly.

"I have two jobs. I have to knock down passes and tackle guys. Both have taken a lot of learning. To be a good pass-defender you must never violate the vertical depth. That's what the coaches call it, and it refers to when a defender gets too close to an intended receiver or accepts his first fake.

"It took me most of last year to find it out."

Trenary Trims Garden 75-41

GARDEN — The Trenary Comets ran their Central League season record to five victories in six starts here Friday night with a 75-41 decision over the Garden Jets.

The Comets moved out in front by a 21-12 margin in the first period and were in command throughout the game.

Chicago Cubs Sell Boros

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Cubs sold infielder Steve Boros to San Diego of the Pacific Coast League Saturday and then closed a three-player deal by giving up southpaw pitcher Jim Brewer.

Brewer went to Spokane as the third player in a deal in which the Cubs received southpaw Dick Scott, a Los Angeles farm hand, for catcher Cuno Barragan Thursday.

Coach Steve Ellis' cagers blasted home 28 points in the final period to clinch the verdict.

Wayne Lusardi led the balanced Trenary attack with 20 points while Jan Farley topped Garden with 21.

Garden won the jayvee game 23-17.

UPCAP Economic Goal Of 15,500 More Jobs Urged

Delegates of the Upper Peninsula Committee on Area Problems (UPCAP) in quarterly session today at the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce building planned reorientation of their program of economic development for the U. P.

"The Peninsula has got a lot of resources coming its way and it better be geared up to use them right," said Abram Snyder of Marquette, Michigan State University community planner, who is secretary of UPCAP. "There will be an unprecedented opportunity in the next 18 months to get meaningful programs underway in the U. P."

UPCAP is losing the technical assistance services provided to it by the Area Redevelopment Administration of the Federal Government through Robert Nathan Associates, Inc., at the end of the year and a new contract between ARA and Nathan is being proposed to continue the economic planning program in the U. P. but in a changed form for 18 months.

Staff Proposed

Suggested to the UPCAP meeting today by Mrs. Lucy Kay of Nathan's Washington headquarters was a program under which Nathan would supply to UPCAP three executives: a manager, a planner and an industrial developer. Nathan would also retain an economist here for 6 months in the transitional and training period.

UPCAP is an organization created by the boards of supervisors of the Upper Peninsula counties to work for the economic development of the U. P. and its officers are not paid; it has no full time executives. The proposal made today if adopted by UPCAP and ARA, would provide UPCAP with a paid staff to work full time for creation of U. P. jobs. ARA would pay Nathan to supply the executives at first, and financial aid would be sought from foundation sources, but eventually the U. P. counties would pick up more of the cost of maintaining the staff, perhaps in a sharing relationship with some other elements of government.

County Support

No U. P. county financing could be forthcoming before 1965 because 1964 appropriations already are budgeted and anyway the program would have to be developed and presented to the boards of supervisors. They are now providing a total of $3,000 a year to operate UPCAP and ARA is providing more than $120,000 to Nathan for the technical assistance under an 18 month contract now expiring.

In a preliminary statement of economic goals for the U. P. made by Nathan for UPCAP, Mrs. Kay suggested a 1970 goal of 15,500 more jobs than in 1960.

The U. P. had employment in 1960 of 86,100. If the loss of jobs continues at the 1950-60 rate there will be 4,350 more gone by 1970, but a successful development program could change this loss figure to a gain of 15,500 jobs.

The program proposed to UPCAP would:

1. Result in a net loss of 1,600 jobs in agriculture, forestry and fishing in the period 1960-70, but without the program the estimated loss in this category is 2,800 jobs.

Avoid Mine Job Loss

2. Keep the mining industry change to no loss, no gain, instead of a prospective loss of 1,400 more jobs.

3. Add 1,250 jobs in construction instead of 450.

4. Add 6,000 jobs in manufacturing instead of a prospective loss of 4,600.

5. Add 550 jobs in finance, insurance and real estate instead of prospective no gain.

6. Transportation, communications and public utilities are ticketed for a loss of 1,080 jobs and the chart sets up no figure in this category.

7. Wholesale trade, prospective 550 job loss cut to zero.

8. Retail trade, prospective 2,400 job gain increased to 4,300.

9. Service industries, prospective 550 job gain increased to 2,400.

10. Government, prospective 2,600 job gain unaffected.

11. Self-employment: 0-0.

Related To Trends

"These employment goals," said Mrs. Kay "are based on a realistic appraisal of the human and natural resources of the U. P., on what is expected to happen in the U. S. economy as a whole by 1970 and on what the people of the U P. can do for themselves by devoting their efforts to the expanded use of their resources in a growing national economy.

"The manufacturing goal of 6,000 more jobs is based on the possibility of expanding the manufacture of wood pulp, paper and paper products, on increasing the remanufacture of logs into hardwood plywood, dimension stock, wood turnings and furniture. A large portion of this increase will come from greater employment in logging resulting from the fuller utilization of the U. P forest resource.

"The prospect of further extending the manufacture of non-electrical machinery is good, as is the fostering of miscellaneous small local manufacturing.

Tourism Jobs

"The greater part of 4,300 more jobs in retail trade and 2,400 more service jobs can be achieved from an expanded tourist and recreation industry. National upward trends in population, disposable personal income and leisure time make the activities which support tourism and recreation among the fastest growing in the U. S. economy.

"Since the increases here are expressed in terms of average annual employment the rise in year-around-full-time jobs will be smaller than the totals for these sectors. On the other hand employment during seasonal peaks will rise more than proportionately, offering jobs to women and students and expanding family income.

"The most favorable outlook for agriculture is retarding the rate of decline.

"Programs (to achieve these job goals) are in process of being formulated in most of the major areas of the U. P. economy. In forest products an aerial survey of the timber resource is underway. A peninsula-wide survey and analysis has been planned to determine the best methods of expanding tourism and recreation.

Up To U. P.

"UPCAP has requested and will receive technical support from ARA which will focus on the problems of expanding local U. P. manufacturing plants and establishing new ones. Special assistance will probably be forthcoming to the fishermen and programs to aid farmers are well underway.

"So far all these programs deal with how to expand employment. Only the people of the U. P. can carry out these programs. The next and essential step toward realization of these job goals is putting the development programs into practice."

Aarne Ervast of Laurium, of UPCAP's Technical Committee, reported its proposed work program outline for the 18 month period Jan. 1, 1964 through June 30, 1965. The program, by priorities:

1. Prepare a prospectus for an effective continuing organization, with staff need and budget need estimates and suggested program within 3 months.

Create Staff

2. Establish an executive staff for UPCAP within 6 months.

3. Maintain ability to produce and explain economic analyses; continuous.

4. Assist implementation of feasible developments by preparation of prospectus, training of others to prepare prospectus, expeding projects, in 12 months.

5. Prepare policy and program suggestions for UPCAP in support of local planning and development, continuous.

6. Produce demonstration models of development so public may recognize steps and techniques necessary for development; 6 months.

7. Examine U. P. position and future in tourism and recreation, public and private and the interrelation of the two, 12 months.

Also sought is more involvement of U. P. technicians in UPCAP's program.

UPCAP President Lynn Sandberg of L'Anse presided at the sessions.

Romney Office Rug is Hazard

LANSING (AP) — If the rugs in the governor's office are a barometer of Michigan's financial condition—and in the past they have been—then the state's recovery from the cash crisis of 1959 is almost complete.

Controller Glenn Allen Jr. has predicted Michigan will have a net surplus of about $50 million in its treasury by the end of the currrent fiscal year next June.

And the state will advertise soon for bids on a new carpet to replace the foot-worn rug in Romney's outer office, the last of the rugs which became a symbol of fiscal distress.

"People have been tripping over the worn spots," said Allen. "It was getting to be a hazard."

The red rug was only a minor element in the 1959 crisis.

It was a dark green one that former Gov. G. Mennen Williams decided should not be replaced, even though it was heavily-patched with tape to keep secretaries from snagging their heels.

A new rug was installed in its place, however, about the time Williams turned the reins of government over to his successor, John Swainson.

Romney's staff—conscious of the interest shown in the past in governor's rugs — has treated impending replacement of the red carpet like a military secret.

Car Rams Into Group; Kills Boy, Injures Parents

DETROIT (AP)—A car swept into a group of persons on their way from a high school basketball game Friday night, killing a boy and injuring four others.

The boy, Allen Voytovich, 8, had gone to the game with his parents to see an older brother play.

Allen's parents, Joseph Voytovich, 46, and Louise, 42, were injured seriously. Two students also were hurt.

Police said the group was standing behind a parked car. The car which struck them rammed into the rear of the parked car.

Donald Guay, 23, of Ferndale, driver of the car that struck the group, was held for investigation. Police said he had been drinking.

Allen had gone to the basketball game to see his brother, Dennis, 16, play for Catholic Central against Cathedral High. Catholic Central won 57-46.

Prowler Killed In Living Room Of Detroit Home

DETROIT (AP) — A 74-year-old home owner shot and killed a prowler in his living room Friday night.

Awakened by the forcing of a basement window, Charles Pitts fired both barrels of a shotgun at the man when he confronted him in the living room. Pitts then ran to nearby hospital where he found a policeman.

The dead man as identified as Thomas Lee Canaday, 35, of Detroit, ex-convict with a burglary record covering a 10-year period. Pitts had shot him in the chest and right hand.

Hollywood Case Is Broken By FBI Arrests

000 in bills of $5 through $100 denominations.

"From Carson City the elder Sinatra was instructed to proceed to the home of his former wife, the victim's mother, in Bel-Air, Calif. (a section of Los Angeles). There he received another phone call at 9:26 p.m., Dec. 10.

Courier Brings Cash

"In compliance with the kidnapers' instructions, a courier—who was actually an FBI agent—went to a phone booth at Los Angeles International Airport, carrying the $240,000 ransom.

"Other phone calls directed the agent to a service station about eight miles from the airport.

"Shortly before 12:30 a.m., Dec. 11, the agent placed the ransom money between two school buses near the service station and, as instructed by the spokesman for the kidnapers, quickly drove from the scene.

"Frank Sinatra Jr. was released unharmed by his abductors and arrived at the home of his mother in Bel-Air at 3:10 a.m., Dec. 11, 1963."

Agents gave no details on how the three suspects were tracked down.

The FBI said the hideout used by the three men was a home at 8143 Mason Ave. in Canoga Park, a section of Los Angeles in the San Fernando Valley.

"This was where young Sinatra was held while negotiations were carried on by his father for payment of the $240,000 ransom," the statement said.

All Have Records

FBI agents raided this home Thursday, after it had been vacated.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said $47,938 of the ransom money was recovered when Irwin was arrested about 9 a.m. Friday in Imperial Beach, Calif., only a few miles from the Mexican border.

Hoover said most of the remainder of the $240,000 was found in Amsler's apartment when he was arrested in nearby Culver City shortly after midnight Friday. The FBI here said the amount recovered from the apartment was $168,927.

That would make a total of $216,865, leaving a balance of $23,135 unaccounted for.

Hoover said all three men had records. The records show:

Amsler, a professional boxer, had been arrested three times on charges of violating the alcohol beverage control act of trespassing.

Keenan has been arrested on burglary and petty theft charges.

Irwin has a record dating to July 1947, and has been charged with assault and battery, desertion, nonsupport and drunk and disorderly conduct.

Hoover said his arrests include violations in New Jersey, Maine, Massachusetts and California.

Miss Washington's two sons by former marriages, George Jenkins, 18, and Robert Grayson, 15, arrived home only Friday night.

With her husband, Miss Washington had picked up the boys at Detroit Metropolitan Airport on their arrival from Boston where they attend a preparatory school.

Lane, a star halfback of the National Football League Detroit Lions, and Miss Washington were married last July.

Lake Terminals Near End Of Shipping Season

Marine terminals along the Bays de Noc this week looked skeptically towards the end of another lakes shipping season. As long as the lake remains open some of the firms plan to continue receiving cargo.

Theisen-Clemens Oil Co., at Kipling, which services Gulf, Mobile, Sinclair, Phillips, Cities Service and Pure Oil, tentatively closed its season on Thursday. However, there is a possibility that one more vessel may be shipped to the Kipling Dock for Mobile Oil.

If the boat is shipped, Mobile will have filled their storage tanks at Kipling.

The last boat into the Theisen-Clemens firm at Kipling was the "Polaris" of E Chicago with a cargo of 1,250 000 gallons of fuel oil and gasoline, according to Ray Tackman, terminal superintendent.

Shipments About Same

Tackman said that this year Theisen has received 60 boats, compared with 56 for last year. He pointed out that in the past most of the boats coming to Theisen carried over one million gallons of fuel oil and gasoline, but that due to the lower water level now most of the boats coming in average about 850,000 gallons.

Last year Teisen closed its season on Dec. 9.

Marathon Oil Co. of Gladstone expects its last boat in about one week. This is considerably behind their 1962 closing which was Nov. 25.

Francis Tracy, plant superintendent, said the "Detroit" of Muskegon left their dock on Thursday after delivering 13,000 barrels of fuel oil. He said that by comparison the number of boats making cargo drops here this year is about the same as 1962.

Gustafson Oil has closed its season for the year with the departure of "Amico Indiana," which left Thursday after bringing a cargo of 25,000 barrels of residual fuel oil.

Supply Air Base

Walter Diesing of Escanaba, area manager for Gustafson Oil, said the firm's closing this year is about one week later than last year. He also said there were several more deliveries made this year than last.

Standard Oil, whose terminal is located on U.S. 2-41, just inside the north city limits of Escanaba, plans to run lake shipping into Escanaba just as long as the lake remains opened.

Robert Haack, U.P. superintendent for Standard Oil, said the reason for this is due to the fact that his firm has the contracts for supplying heating at both K. I. Sawyer and Kincheloe Air Force Bases.

On Friday the "Amico Michigan" left Standard's dock after bringing a cargo of gasoline. Two, possibly three more vessels are expected to return to Escanaba before the lake becomes ice-bogged.

Haack said that this past year has seen a noticeable increase in shipping over that of 1962.

Expect Three Boats

The Holly Corp. terminal at Wells, which supplys jet fuel for K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base, Marquette, still expects three ships before their season is closed. "Termination of lakes shipping for this year," said Monroe Bouchet, superintendent, "is entirely up to the Air Force, but I would imagine they will continue until the lake is impassable."

The jet fuel received at Holly is pipelined to Sawyer Air Base. Last year Holly received its last boat on Dec. 29.

Bouchet said that quantity-wise his firm had received increased amounts of fuel this year over last. This he attributed to the fact that Holly used much larger ships this past season.

Famed Contralto Marian Anderson Plans To Retire

NEW YORK (AP) — Famed Negro contralto Marian Anderson, whose voice has thrilled millions, will make a farewell world concert tour next year and retire the following spring.

Miss Anderson, 55, announced her plans Thursday at a news conference. On the lapel of her blue satin jacket was pinned a silver eagle set on a blue ribbon—the Freedom Medal presented to her by President Johnson last Friday.

Her plans after retirement are not definite, but she indicated she would become more active in the civil rights, struggle, and also is thinking about speaking to children in the schools—urging them to gain all possible education.

"It is important to get into the field and to be of service where there might be a need," said Miss Anderson, who on Jan. 7, 1955, became the first Negro to sing at the Metropolitan Opera House.

Her final conert will take place on Easter Sunday, 1965, at Carnegie Hall.

She sang at the White House for Presidents Roosevelt and Truman and at the inaugurations of Presidents Eisenhower and Kennedy. Eisenhower appointed her U.S. delegate to the United Nations in 1958.

Miss Anderson resides with her husband Orpheus Fisher, an architect, in Danbury, Conn.

Cosa Nostra Boss Seized

PHILADELPHIA (AP) —Angelo Bruno, reputed head of the Philadelphia family of the Cosa Nostra crime syndicate, returned home after being released in $75,000 bail in Boston on extortion charges.

The bespectacled Bruno, father of two and a grandfather, was arrested by five FBI agents Friday when his plane from Italy touched down at Boston.

His Italian lawyer had announced in Rome earlier that Bruno would fly back to the United States to face indictment. He could have remained in Italy, the lawyer said.

The attorney said Bruno told him that he (Bruno) had no ties to the Cosa Nostra syndicate, and that he had never met Joseph Valachi, the mobster who in testimony before a Senate subcommittee linked Bruno to the Cosa Nostra.

After his hearing in Boston Friday, Bruno came home aboard a chartered plane, arriving here at 6:15 p.m. a car waited to whisk him to his south Philadelhia residence.

A federal indictment accused Bruno of conspiring to travel across state lines to commit extortion. The FBI said Bruno and 10 others were involved in a conspiracy to travel between Pennsylvania and New Jersey "with intent to distribute the proceeds of the crime of extortion and with intent to commit crimes of violence in furtherance of the extortion."

The FBI said that, with Bruno's arrest, all involved in the charges now were in custody.

Socialist Party Head Dies In West Germany

BONNN, Germany (AP) Erich Ollenhauer, chairman of the West German Social Democratic party, died today. He was 62.

Ollenhauer had been in a Bonn hospital for the past two and a half months with a circulatory ailment.

Olllenhauer died as West Germany was still mourning its first president, Theodor Heuss, who succumbed to a circulatory failure two days ago.

Ollenhauer, a chubby, pipe-smoking Socialist who spent the war in Britain as an anti-Nazi refugee, had headed the party since 1952.

News of his death interrupted a Socialist party convention in nearby Bad Godesberg.

UPCAP Economic Goal Of 15,500 More Jobs Urged

Delegates of the Upper Peninsula Committee on Area Problems (UPCAP) in quarterly session today at the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce building planned reorientation of their program of economic development for the U. P.

"The Peninsula has got a lot of resources coming its way and it better be geared up to use them right," said Abram Snyder of Marquette, Michigan State University community planner, who is secretary of UPCAP. "There will be an unprecedented opportunity in the next 18 months to get meaningful programs underway in the U. P."

UPCAP is losing the technical assistance services provided to it by the Area Redevelopment Administration of the Federal Government through Robert Nathan Associates, Inc., at the end of the year and a new contract between ARA and Nathan is being proposed to continue the economic planning program in the U. P. but in a changed form for 18 months.

Staff Proposed

Suggested to the UPCAP meeting today by Mrs. Lucy Kay of Nathan's Washington headquarters was a program under which Nathan would supply to UPCAP three executives: a manager, a planner and an industrial developer. Nathan would also retain an economist here for 6 months in the transitional and training period.

UPCAP is an organization created by the boards of supervisors of the Upper Peninsula counties to work for the economic development of the U. P. and its officers are not paid; it has no full time executives. The proposal made today if adopted by UPCAP and ARA, would provide UPCAP with a paid staff to work full time for creation of U. P. jobs. ARA would pay Nathan to supply the executives at first, and financial aid would be sought from foundation sources, but eventually the U. P. counties would pick up more of the cost of maintaining the staff, perhaps in a sharing relationship with some other elements of government.

County Support

No U. P. county financing could be forthcoming before 1965 because 1964 appropriations already are budgeted and anyway the program would have to be developed and presented to the boards of supervisors. They are now providing a total of $3,000 a year to operate UPCAP and ARA is providing more than $120,000 to Nathan for the technical assistance under an 18 month contract now expiring.

In a preliminary statement of economic goals for the U. P. made by Nathan for UPCAP, Mrs. Kay suggested a 1970 goal of 15,500 more jobs than in 1960.

The U. P. had employment in 1960 of 86,100. If the loss of jobs continues at the 1950-60 rate there will be 4,350 more gone by 1970, but a successful development program could change this loss figure to a gain of 15,500 jobs.

The program proposed to UPCAP would:

1. Result in a net loss of 1,600 jobs in agriculture, forestry and fishing in the period 1960-70, but without the program the estimated loss in this category is 2,800 jobs.

Avoid Mine Job Loss

2. Keep the mining industry change to no loss, no gain, instead of a prospective loss of 1,400 more jobs.

3. Add 1,250 jobs in construction instead of 450.

4. Add 6,000 jobs in manufacturing instead of a prospective loss of 4,600.

5. Add 550 jobs in finance, insurance and real estate instead of prospective no gain.

6. Transportation, communications and public utilities are ticketed for a loss of 1,080 jobs and the chart sets up no figure in this category.

7. Wholesale trade, prospective 550 job loss cut to zero.

8. Retail trade, prospective 2,400 job gain increased to 4,300.

9. Service industries, prospective 550 job gain increased to 2,400.

10. Government, prospective 2,600 job gain unaffected.

11. Self-employment: 0-0.

Related To Trends

"These employment goals," said Mrs. Kay "are based on a realistic appraisal of the human and natural resources of the U. P., on what is expected to happen in the U. S. economy as a whole by 1970 and on what the people of the U P. can do for themselves by devoting their efforts to the expanded use of their resources in a growing national economy.

"The manufacturing goal of 6,000 more jobs is based on the possibility of expanding the manufacture of wood pulp, paper and paper products, on increasing the remanufacture of logs into hardwood plywood, dimension stock, wood turnings and furniture. A large portion of this increase will come from greater employment in logging resulting from the fuller utilization of the U. P forest resource.

"The prospect of further extending the manufacture of non-electrical machinery is good, as is the fostering of miscellaneous small local manufacturing.

Tourism Jobs

"The greater part of 4,300 more jobs in retail trade and 2,400 more service jobs can be achieved from an expanded tourist and recreation industry. National upward trends in population, disposable personal income and leisure time make the activities which support tourism and recreation among the fastest growing in the U. S. economy.

"Since the increases here are expressed in terms of average annual employment the rise in year-around-full-time jobs will be smaller than the totals for these sectors. On the other hand employment during seasonal peaks will rise more than proportionately, offering jobs to women and students and expanding family income.

"The most favorable outlook for agriculture is retarding the rate of decline.

"Programs (to achieve these job goals) are in process of being formulated in most of the major areas of the U. P. economy. In forest products an aerial survey of the timber resource is underway. A peninsula-wide survey and analysis has been planned to determine the best methods of expanding tourism and recreation.

Up To U. P.

"UPCAP has requested and will receive technical support from ARA which will focus on the problems of expanding local U. P. manufacturing plants and establishing new ones. Special assistance will probably be forthcoming to the fishermen and programs to aid farmers are well underway.

"So far all these programs deal with how to expand employment. Only the people of the U. P. can carry out these programs. The next and essential step toward realization of these job goals is putting the development programs into practice."

Aarne Ervast of Laurium, of UPCAP's Technical Committee, reported its proposed work program outline for the 18 month period Jan. 1, 1964 through June 30, 1965. The program, by priorities:

1. Prepare a prospectus for an effective continuing organization, with staff need and budget need estimates and suggested program within 3 months.

Create Staff

2. Establish an executive staff for UPCAP within 6 months.

3. Maintain ability to produce and explain economic analyses; continuous.

4. Assist implementation of feasible developments by preparation of prospectus, training of others to prepare prospectus, expeding projects, in 12 months.

5. Prepare policy and program suggestions for UPCAP in support of local planning and development, continuous.

6. Produce demonstration models of development so public may recognize steps and techniques necessary for development; 6 months.

7. Examine U. P. position and future in tourism and recreation, public and private and the interrelation of the two, 12 months.

Also sought is more involvement of U. P. technicians in UPCAP's program.

UPCAP President Lynn Sandberg of L'Anse presided at the sessions.

Romney Office Rug is Hazard

LANSING (AP) — If the rugs in the governor's office are a barometer of Michigan's financial condition—and in the past they have been—then the state's recovery from the cash crisis of 1959 is almost complete.

Controller Glenn Allen Jr. has predicted Michigan will have a net surplus of about $50 million in its treasury by the end of the currrent fiscal year next June.

And the state will advertise soon for bids on a new carpet to replace the foot-worn rug in Romney's outer office, the last of the rugs which became a symbol of fiscal distress.

"People have been tripping over the worn spots," said Allen. "It was getting to be a hazard."

The red rug was only a minor element in the 1959 crisis.

It was a dark green one that former Gov. G. Mennen Williams decided should not be replaced, even though it was heavily-patched with tape to keep secretaries from snagging their heels.

A new rug was installed in its place, however, about the time Williams turned the reins of government over to his successor, John Swainson.

Romney's staff—conscious of the interest shown in the past in governor's rugs — has treated impending replacement of the red carpet like a military secret.

Car Rams Into Group; Kills Boy, Injures Parents

DETROIT (AP)—A car swept into a group of persons on their way from a high school basketball game Friday night, killing a boy and injuring four others.

The boy, Allen Voytovich, 8, had gone to the game with his parents to see an older brother play.

Allen's parents, Joseph Voytovich, 46, and Louise, 42, were injured seriously. Two students also were hurt.

Police said the group was standing behind a parked car. The car which struck them rammed into the rear of the parked car.

Donald Guay, 23, of Ferndale, driver of the car that struck the group, was held for investigation. Police said he had been drinking.

Allen had gone to the basketball game to see his brother, Dennis, 16, play for Catholic Central against Cathedral High. Catholic Central won 57-46.

000 in bills of $5 through $100 denominations.

"From Carson City the elder Sinatra was instructed to proceed to the home of his former wife, the victim's mother, in Bel-Air, Calif. (a section of Los Angeles). There he received another phone call at 9:26 p.m., Dec. 10.

Courier Brings Cash

"In compliance with the kidnapers' instructions, a courier—who was actually an FBI agent—went to a phone booth at Los Angeles International Airport, carrying the $240,000 ransom.

"Other phone calls directed the agent to a service station about eight miles from the airport.

"Shortly before 12:30 a.m., Dec. 11, the agent placed the ransom money between two school buses near the service station and, as instructed by the spokesman for the kidnapers, quickly drove from the scene.

"Frank Sinatra Jr. was released unharmed by his abductors and arrived at the home of his mother in Bel-Air at 3:10 a.m., Dec. 11, 1963."

Agents gave no details on how the three suspects were tracked down.

The FBI said the hideout used by the three men was a home at 8143 Mason Ave. in Canoga Park, a section of Los Angeles in the San Fernando Valley.

"This was where young Sinatra was held while negotiations were carried on by his father for payment of the $240,000 ransom," the statement said.

All Have Records

FBI agents raided this home Thursday, after it had been vacated.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said $47,938 of the ransom money was recovered when Irwin was arrested about 9 a.m. Friday in Imperial Beach, Calif., only a few miles from the Mexican border.

Hoover said most of the remainder of the $240,000 was found in Amsler's apartment when he was arrested in nearby Culver City shortly after midnight Friday. The FBI here said the amount recovered from the apartment was $168,927.

That would make a total of $216,865, leaving a balance of $23,135 unaccounted for.

Hoover said all three men had records. The records show:

Amsler, a professional boxer, had been arrested three times on charges of violating the alcohol beverage control act of trespassing.

Keenan has been arrested on burglary and petty theft charges.

Irwin has a record dating to July 1947, and has been charged with assault and battery, desertion, nonsupport and drunk and disorderly conduct.

Hoover said his arrests include violations in New Jersey, Maine, Massachusetts and California.

"Termination of lakes shipping for this year," said Monroe Bouchet, superintendent, "is entirely up to the Air Force, but I would imagine they will continue until the lake is impassable."

The jet fuel received at Holly is pipelined to Sawyer Air Base. Last year Holly received its last boat on Dec. 29.

Bouchet said that quantity-wise his firm had received increased amounts of fuel this year over last. This he attributed to the fact that Holly used much larger ships this past season.

Famed Contralto Marian Anderson Plans To Retire

NEW YORK (AP) — Famed Negro contralto Marian Anderson, whose voice has thrilled millions, will make a farewell world concert tour next year and retire the following spring.

Miss Anderson, 55, announced her plans Thursday at a news conference. On the lapel of her blue satin jacket was pinned a silver eagle set on a blue ribbon—the Freedom Medal presented to her by President Johnson last Friday.

Her plans after retirement are not definite, but she indicated she would become more active in the civil rights, struggle, and also is thinking about speaking to children in the schools—urging them to gain all possible education.

"It is important to get into the field and to be of service where there might be a need," said Miss Anderson, who on Jan. 7, 1955, became the first Negro to sing at the Metropolitan Opera House.

Her final conert will take place on Easter Sunday, 1965, at Carnegie Hall.

She sang at the White House for Presidents Roosevelt and Truman and at the inaugurations of Presidents Eisenhower and Kennedy. Eisenhower appointed her U.S. delegate to the United Nations in 1958.

Miss Anderson resides with her husband Orpheus Fisher, an architect, in Danbury, Conn.

Cosa Nostra Boss Seized

PHILADELPHIA (AP) —Angelo Bruno, reputed head of the Philadelphia family of the Cosa Nostra crime syndicate, returned home after being released in $75,000 bail in Boston on extortion charges.

The bespectacled Bruno, father of two and a grandfather, was arrested by five FBI agents Friday when his plane from Italy touched down at Boston.

His Italian lawyer had announced in Rome earlier that Bruno would fly back to the United States to face indictment. He could have remained in Italy, the lawyer said.

The attorney said Bruno told him that he (Bruno) had no ties to the Cosa Nostra syndicate, and that he had never met Joseph Valachi, the mobster who in testimony before a Senate subcommittee linked Bruno to the Cosa Nostra.

After his hearing in Boston Friday, Bruno came home aboard a chartered plane, arriving here at 6:15 p.m. a car waited to whisk him to his south Philadelhia residence.

A federal indictment accused Bruno of conspiring to travel across state lines to commit extortion. The FBI said Bruno and 10 others were involved in a conspiracy to travel between Pennsylvania and New Jersey "with intent to distribute the proceeds of the crime of extortion and with intent to commit crimes of violence in furtherance of the extortion."

The FBI said that, with Bruno's arrest, all involved in the charges now were in custody.

Socialist Party Head Dies In West Germany

BONNN, Germany (AP) Erich Ollenhauer, chairman of the West German Social Democratic party, died today. He was 62.

Ollenhauer had been in a Bonn hospital for the past two and a half months with a circulatory ailment.

Olllenhauer died as West Germany was still mourning its first president, Theodor Heuss, who succumbed to a circulatory failure two days ago.

Ollenhauer, a chubby, pipe-smoking Socialist who spent the war in Britain as an anti-Nazi refugee, had headed the party since 1952.

News of his death interrupted a Socialist party convention in nearby Bad Godesberg.
